Top 10 News Stories From 1968 Selected

Top news stories of 1968 in the Thief River Falls area have been selected by the Times editorial staff as another year draws to a close. It was an eventful year for the community—one that will be especially remembered by many people for a number of reasons. Main news stories selected are as follows:

(1) Extremely adverse weather conditions from mid-summer through the normal harvest season ruined a potential bumper crop and caused extreme hardship on area farmers. Rainfall made harvest impossible on many fields. Crops in swaths lost their excellent quality, fields were too soaked to allow harvest equipment to move, and standing grain was flattened and shelled out by rain and wind. The economic loss to farmers was tremendous. Attempts were made to salvage some of the grain after fields froze and on the few days when equipment could be moved in the fields. Reports of combining the week before Christmas were received from the area north and east of Thief River Falls.

(2) Just as the economic loss from weather created the number one story of the year, an economic boom created the second place story. Thief River Falls experienced its greatest building year in history with a total of $5,245,977 in building permits issued. Included were two large additions to Northwestern hospital, a new junior college complex, senior citizen housing complex, addition to a home for the aged, two new churches, industrial expansion and residential and apartment construction.

(3) Third position is given to the local school situation, particularly in regard to salary negotiations. Unable to reach an agreement with the board of education, the teachers' council requested an adjustment panel. Settlement was reached without full fact-finding, however, with an increase of about $150,000 in salaries granted. Not to be forgotten was the annual school board election, where a write-in campaign was organized as general interest in the election was low. Charles Samuelson, instructor at Northland state junior college, was elected to the board to replace incumbent D. H. Stewart.

(4) Interest in the general election must be included among the top stories of the year in this area, although there were not a large number of offices up for election. The candidacy of George Wallace as a third party candidate for President created considerable local interest. Richard Nixon's victory over Minnesotan Hubert Humphrey provided a change in national administration. Rep. Odin Langen won reelection following a concentrated campaign by Robert Bergland, with charges and counter - charges leaving most voters confused. Locally, the feminine touch was added to the political arena as Mrs. Norma Hanson challenged Rep. Andrew Skaar in District 67-B but failed to gain election.

(5) Taxes, although the impact will not be felt until 1969, were certainly of interest during

The old year was not about to leave without making a strong impression, as temperatures dropped to the coldest reading of the season on December 24 with -27, then were recorded as -22 on Monday and -24 on Tuesday. High reading on Monday was -2 degrees. Miss Thief River Falls is bundled up against the cold expected early in the new year. The coat is from the fashion collection at Larson's Style center.

Arctic Seeks Approval Of 4-for-1 Stock Split

OFFICERS of Arctic Enterprises, Inc., in Thief River Falls include Lowell Swenson, left, president and treasurer, and William Ness, secretary. The local corporation, which has shown phenomenal growth since it began operation in 1961, has called a shareholders meeting for January 13 to seek approval of a four-for-one stock split. During the last fiscal year the firm had sales of $7,567,590.

To seek approval to increase authorized common stock of the company from one million to two million shares, the board of directors of Arctic Enterprises, Inc., has called a special share holders meeting for January 13 at 3:30 p.m. in the company's office in Thief River Falls.

According to Lowell Swenson, president of the snowmobile manufacturing firm, the expanded capitalization will be used to effect a proposed 4-for-1 stock split to shareholders of record on January 13, 1969, and to provide additional common shares for a secondary offering of the company's stock to the public and for possible acquisitions.

Arctic currently employs more than 900 persons in Thief River Falls, manufacturing Arctic Cat Panther snowmobiles, cold weather garments and other industry-related products.

Arctic Enterprises, Inc., was founded here in 1961 and had a first year production of 35 snowmobiles. Sales in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1968, totaled $7,567,590—more than three times 1967 sales of $2,306,485.

Earnings of $319,199 and $1.52 per common share in fiscal 1968 were nearly seven times greater than $57,133 and 2 cents per share earned the preceding year. As of Dec. 21, 1968, there were 261,185 common shares outstanding.

In a proxy statement mailed to shareholders with notice of the January 13 meeting, it is noted that only shareholders of record as of the close of business on December 21 will be entitled to vote at the meeting.

The prospectus notes that Swenson, president, treasurer and director of the corporation, owns 129,000 shares of common stock, or approximately 49 per cent of the outstanding shares.

According to the proxy statement, the corporation is presently considering public financing to provide expansion capital, and it is expected that a presently undeterminable number of shares of common stock will be set aside for such purpose.

There are no other agreements, arrangements or commitments relating to sale of any additional common stock or issuance of any such stock in connection with the acquisition of other businesses, except that the corporation has made a proposal to acquire all the assets of a tool and die manufacturing company in exchange for 8,000 shares of Arctic's voting common stock. The proposal has been accepted by the officers of the company to be acquired, subject to the approval of its board of directors and stockholders.

The stock split was authorized by the board of directors on December 23, subject to the shareholders' approval of amendment of Article V of the articles of incorporation. It will be effected through the distribution of certificates representing three additional shares for each one share outstanding. It is expected that the additional share certificates will be distributed by mailing on or about January 11.

As of December 23, there were authorized but unissued 738,815 shares of common stock. Assuming the issuance of no additional shares before the stock split, there will be authorized but unissued after the split 2,955,260 shares of common stock. As adjusted to give effect to the stock split, 80,000 of these shares are reserved for issuance under the corporation's employees' stock option plan. Share holders do not have pre-emptive rights to the additional shares of authorized but unissued common stock.

Goodridge Girl Stewardess on Plane in Crash

Among those injured when a North Central airlines plane crashed at O'Hare airport at Chicago was Jean A. Krbechek, a former resident of Goodridge. Miss Krbechek was a stewardess on the Minneapolis to Chicago flight.

The plane, which was making a landing at O'Hare international airport Friday night, crashed into a hangar and killed 27, while another 27 were injured.

The crash was the first one fatal to passengers in the history of North Central, which also operates flights from Thief River Falls to Minneapolis. The plane's three crew men, all from Minnesota, were killed in the crash.

Spokesmen for two hospitals near O'Hare said many of the injured persons suffered smoke inhalation when the plane burst into flames after crashing.

Santa Visits Over 20 Homes On Jaycee Trip

Adults and children alike were surprised on Christmas Eve when Santa made daring early evening appearances at their homes. Over 20 homes in the Thief River Falls area were visited.

Santa's visits came as a result of "Operation Santa Claus" a local Jaycee project. Homes visited were charged $3 for Santa's appearance. These funds will be used to help finance "Operation Christmas 1969", another Jaycee project.

During Operation Christmas this year over 35 needy youngsters were taken downtown on a Saturday morning, given money to buy gifts for other members of their families, treated to lunch and taken to a movie in the afternoon.

"The Jaycees feel that both of these projects were worthwhile as they helped many really get into the Christmas spirit," states Mike Lehrer, chairman of the "Operation Santa Claus" project.

People who worked to make "Operation Santa Claus" a success were, listed by Lehrer, Mrs. Orvel J. Stocks took phone calls and set up the appointments for Santa's visits. Verle Ralston, Jay Borchert, Ron Ulrich and Mike Kelly donned the red and white suits for the evening and were driven by Larry McDowell, Bill Ulrich, Bob Ekeren and Mike Lehrer. Ron Ulrich isn't a Jaycee member but contributed his services.

Answer Questions on Federal Income Tax

These questions most frequently asked by taxpayers on federal income tax matters with authoritative answers are provided by the office of the district director of Internal revenue, St. Paul.

Q—Can a farmer depreciate his breeding stock?

A—It depends on how the stock was acquired. If the breeding stock was raised rather than purchased then the stock can't be depreciated. The cost of raising is deducted as a farm expense.

If the stock was purchased, then depreciation is the only way to recover this investment over its useful life. The cost of purchased breeding stock is not deductible in one year where it has a useful life of more than one year.

Q—I'm having calendars printed up this year to give to my customers. Is this a deductible business expense

A—Yes; however, the law limits the amount you may deduct as business gifts to a total of $25 for any one individual during the tax year. For the purposes of this provisions, the customer and his spouse are generally considered one individual.

Gifts which cost $4 or less are not subject to this $25 rule if your name is clearly and permanently imprinted on them and they are distibuted in quantity. This would cover items like the calendars you plan to give away.

Q—I work and have to pay someone to look after my children until I get home. Can I deduct this expense?

A—Child care expenses may be deducted when certain conditions are met. Check the instructions that come with the tax forms which explain what you have to do to qualify for this deduction.

Q—I had to retire because of illness and have a disability pension from my company. Will it be taxable for me?

A—It all depends on the kind of pension plan your company has and the normal retirement age under the plan. Most pensions will qualify for treatment as sick pay until you reach normal retirement age. Up to $100 a week may ordinarily be excluded as sick pay.

After you reach retirement age, your pension, or some portion of it, may or may not be taxable depending on whether you contributed any part of its cost.

For further details, ask our office for Documents 5016, "Sick Pay," and 5018, "Retirement Income and Credit."

Q—I want to sell some stock I own before the end of the year so that I can deduct my losses on this year's return. Does the stock actually have to be sold by the end of the year or is it enough to have notified your broker by December 31.

A—The date your stock was sold at a loss is the one you should use for tax purposes. If this date, or trade date as it is sometimes called, came in your 1968 tax year then the transaction can be reported on your 1968 return.

BUYER BEWARE BE WISE

DOUGLAS M. HEAD
Attorney General
State of Minnesota

An elderly central Minnesota woman recently answered an advertisement which promised easy money and a "secured" investment of only $600. No risk was involved. A salesman called at the woman's home within days.

He told the woman his company would set her up as an independent franchisee selling greeting cards. The company would provide the necessary cards and secure sales locations in local stores. All the woman had to do was to service the locations with the cards. The conversation then turned to money.

The $600 investment consisted of $200 for "special" racks to display the cards, $100 to cover the company's expenses in finding locations, about $100 for miscellaneous costs and $200 for cards. The salesman assured the woman she was taking no risks. Other people made small fortunes in this business. If she were not successful, the company would buy her inventory back. The woman wanted assurance that all the store locations would be near her home. The salesman assured her they would.

Anxiously anticipating big profits, the woman signed the franchise agreement. However, the company failed to obtain locations as promised for her card racks. The few locations that were provided were scattered over a wide area. Few cards were sold at them.

The woman understandably was unhappy. She demanded that the company repurchase her materials—as it had promised. Yes, the company replied, it would repurchase all of her inventory. But, the company said, only the cards constituted inventory. The display racks were tailored for her specific locations. They couldn't be taken back. None of the other costs was for inventory. The company returned $200 to the woman.

She thus lost $400 on what had been advertised as a "no risk" investment.

If you are approached by a salesman selling this type of a franchise, the consumer division suggests that you:

1. Ask the salesman to give you names and addresses of persons who have made "small fortunes".

2. Ask the company to show you their business records and examine them closely.

3. Talk to people who actually operate franchises.

4. Check the company's reputation with your chamber of commerce or better business bureau.

Enrollment for Medicare Open Through March 31

The period between this January 1 and March 31 is a last-chance enrollment period for many over age 65 not already signed up for medical insurance under medicare.

Those born before April 1, 1901 are in this last-chance group, according to Clifford Kittelson, district manager.

Medical insurance under social security helps pay for surgery, doctor bills and many other medical expenses. It does not cover self-administered drugs.

The regular medical insurance premium is $4 a month. For those who sign up between one and two years after their first chance, the monthly premium is $4.40. For those who sign up between two and three years after their first chance, the premium is $4.80.

A person does not need to be retired to qualify. Neither does he have to have worked under social security. Anyone interested in signing up should contact the social security administration office in Grand Forks, N.D.

March of Dimes Campaign Opens In State Today

The 1969 March of Dimes campaign in Minnesota started today, with an estimated 34,000 volunteers throughout the state poised to seek contributions for the fight against crippling birth defects.

Seeking a Minnesota quota of $425,000 in this, the 31st annual appeal of the voluntary health organization, the volunteer will bring a new message of hope that medical answers are on the way for many of the most puzzling types of birth defects.

One of the most meaningful breakthroughs by medical science, according to Wayne Field of New Brighton, Minnesota state volunteer chairman was the recent exciting announcement by Dr. Robert Good of the University of Minnesota of the world's first successful bone marrow transfusion.

"This announcement, coming as it did right here in Minnesota had special meaning for all of us since the March of Dimes in the past nine years has provided over $600,000 in research funds to support the studies by Dr. Good and his team into immunological disorders over the past nine years," Field said.

"This is only one part of the March of Dimes' national research effort, which has already resulted in other breakthroughs . . such as the new vaccine for German measles, a serious cause of birth defects, which is now in final testing; and the recently available Rho Gam vaccine for RH blood diseases, a threat to over 30,000 babies each year."

Field predicted that as more research funds become available, "we can take the long steps forward in finding other answers" to the many varieties of birth defects which annually strike over 5,000 children in Minnesota alone.

"Few of us will ever forget the vital role played by the March of Dimes in conquering polio just 11 short years ago. There is every reason to believe just as great success lies ahead now that the March of Dimes has turned its full attention to the birth defects field."

Remind Aliens To Register During January

Joseph A. Cushman, district director of the immigration and naturalization service, St. Paul, stated that the law requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, to report their addresses during the month of January. Diplomats and those persons accredited to certain international organizations are not required to make this report.

Forms with which to make the report will be available at all post offices and offices of the immigration and naturalization service during the month of January.

Social security number should be shown on the registration card. Aliens and employers are advised that the possession of a social security card does not entitle aliens to work in the United States. Only aliens admitted for permanent residence or certain classes of nonresident aliens authorized to do so by the immigration and naturalization service may take employment. Violators of this restriction are subject to certain penalties.

Cushman urges all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements as willful failure to do so may lead to serious consequences.

First Snowplow Accidents of Season Reported

First substantial snowfall of the season brought with it the first rash of collisions with snowplowing equipment, the Minnesota highway department reports.

Four collisions with state equipment were reported during Thursday's snowstorm. Two automobiles slid into the rear of snowplows working on the highway, one car went out of control and collided with a plow parked on the shoulder, and another slid into an intersection, hitting a plowing truck, amidship.

None of the accidents was serious, and minor injuries were reported in just one.

Highway department maintenance officials say that vehicle-snowplow collisions are usually the result of three contributing factors: limited visibility (plow throwing snow high in the air), slippery road surfaces and careless motorists who are in a hurry to get by a plowing vehicle.

Operating a snowplow under the most taxing conditions is the lot of all maintenance men, whether on state, county or city crews. Other motorist should take every precaution to give these operators a break, and not add the danger of collision and serious injury to an already tough job.

Crime Increase Noted in FBI Uniform Report

FBI's uniform crime reports, a compilation of statistics submitted voluntarily by local and state police agencies, discloses that for the first nine months of 1968 crime in the United States increased 19 per cent over the corresponding period of 1967. Figures were released by Attorney General Ramsey Clark.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover pointed out that violent crimes as a group increased 21 per cent nationally. When viewed individually, these crimes showed a 32 per cent increase in robbery, 17 per cent in forcible rape, 15 per cent in murder and 13 per cent in aggravated assault. Each category of the more voluminous property crimes records increases with thefts over $50 in value up 21 per cent, auto thefts up 22 per cent and burglary up 16 per cent. As a group, the property crimes registered a 19 per cent rise.

According to the FBI's uniform crime reports, the large core metropolitan cities of over 250,000 population showed an average 21 per cent increase. The suburban communities recorded a 19 per cent increase, while rural areas rose 13 per cent. Regionally, the crime trends ranged from an overall increase of 25 per cent in the Northeastern states to a 16 per cent rise in the North Central states. The Southern states registered a 17 per cent increase and the Western states 19 per cent. Each region recorded increases in all crime classifications.

The FBI director called attention to the continuing sharp upward trend of robbery offenses on a nationwide basis and, particularly, on a 37 per cent increase in armed robbery. He disclosed street robbery, which makes up over one-half of all robbery offenses, increased 37 per cent, service station robbery 31 per cent, business house robbery 28 per cent, chain store robbery 20 per cent and robbery of residences 19 per cent.

He also noted that firearms were used to commit 65 per cent of all murders during the nine-month period January through September, 1968. Firearms were used to commit 23 per cent of all aggravated assaults and the use of a firearm in serious assaults rose 26 per cent during the nine-month period, 1968 over 1967.

Top Ten News Events of 1968 Are Reviewed

1968. An overall increase between 20 and 25 per cent was projected in the county. Valuations were raised 10 per cent in the city of Thief River Falls and up to 30 per cent in nearby townships. Thief River Falls school district raised the local portion of its budget by $418,000 and the city of Thief River Falls increased its levy by more than 50 per cent. Increased valuation permitted Pennington county to decrease its levy although a slight increase had been anticipated since budget expenditures increased.

(6) Action and inaction surrounding the proposed new city arena provided a large amount of conversation and some controversy during the year. Residents approved a $475,000 bond issue by an overwhelming margin of 1,174 to 406, but final plans and construction bids indicated the building wanted would cost about $750,000. The city council added $80,000 from another fund, leaving a $200,000 deficit to be secured if the arena is to be built. In anticipation of the new building, the Pennington County Fair association voted to turn over the entire fairgrounds to the city for creation of an arena building site and recreation complex. The problem will continue into 1969.

(7) The far-off war in Vietnam was brought close to home for area residents. Pennington and nearby counties recorded deaths of a number of their young men in the war. Others were wounded and many more returned from service or are still serving their country in Southeast Asia.

(8 Impact of Arctic Enterprises growth must also be included among the top 10 news stories. With employment now reaching above the 900 mark, the snowmobile manufacturing firm has greatly aided many in the area with seasonal employment as well as regular employment. Two large additions were built, land and a warehouse acquired and a four-for-one stock split voted by the board of directors.

(9) Community effort in the Parade of Progress celebration has also been selected as a top news story for 1968. Local residents put their community on display in admirable fashion, dignitaries such as Gov. Harold LeVander and Mrs. America spent a full day visiting here, and a united effort was put forth to show community pride and accomplishment.

(10) Tragedy and near tragedy conclude the top news stories. Again the area had its share of highway fatalities and injuries as Minnesota set a new record for traffic deaths. The near tragedy was the tornado which passed near Thief River Falls in August, venting most of its fury in a woodlot on the Andrew Kisch farm east of the city. Had the path of the twister been only slightly different, untold damage to life and property could have resulted.

Not among the top news stories for the area but of major importance to the Times was the installation of the new web offset press and related equipment. And a note of sadness was struck here, too, with the death of Russell "Huck" Olson, veteran sports editor, who was recognized throughout a wide area for his sports knowledge, writing ability and fairness in reporting.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Q—Will the Veterans administration pay a 1969 dividend on the national service life insurance policy I have had in force from World War II? (I converted it to a permanent plan policy in 1950. When will the dividend be paid and must I make application for it? I recently borrowed half of the cash value of my policy. Will this affect the amount of my 1969 NSLI dividend?

A—To answer your questions in order: Yes, VA will pay a 1969 dividend on World War II NSLI policies (converted or not) just as in past years. The dividend will be paid automatically on the anniversary date of the policy so you need not apply to VA for it. The fact that you borrowed against the cash surrender value of the policy will not reduce the amount of your dividend. You are, of course, paying four per cent interest on your NSLI loan and any amount of the loan unpaid at the time of your death will be deducted from the insurance paid to your beneficiaries.

Q—I was permanently blinded while serving with the army in Vietnam. Obviously, I cannot drive a car. However, am I eligible for an allowance toward the purchase of an automobile which my wife can drive?

A—Yes. Even though a veteran cannot drive, the law permits payment of an allowance up to $1,600 toward the purchase of an automobile for an eligible veteran if someone will drive the car for him. Since the allowance may only be paid to the seller, do not take any action until after you obtain an application and guidance from the VA. Additional assistance needed to applying for this benefit, and the application form, may be obtained from your nearest VA regional office or your local county service officer.

Q—I read recently that veterans in service after the Korean conflict (after Jan. 31, 1955) have had their education entitlement under the GI bill increased. My brother was in service from June 1963 to June 1965 and received two years of college training under the GI bill. Does he now have additional entitlement? If so, what must he do to receive it?

A—Your brother is being notified by the VA of his entitlement to additional educational assistance. This results from a new law which went into effect December 1 granting Post-Korean veterans 36 months of educational assistance upon completion of 18 or more months of active duty and fulfillment of their military obligation. Otherwise a veteran earns one and one-half months of educational assistance—up to the maximum of 36 months—for each month of service. Previously, entitlement was limited to one month of assistance for each month of service. Your brother should advise VA of the additional education he desires. His revised certificate of eligibility has already been computed and will be issued to him soon after receipt of his application.

Starting in January of 1969, flight training students receiving Veterans administration educational assistance will receive checks monthly, rather than quarterly.

Snow Shoveling Can Be Danger To Many People

As snow piles up, so do related problems. Among these every year is the collapse of a number of snow-shovelers.

If you are sure that you're physically fit, go ahead with the snow-shoveling task, the American Medical association says. But if there is any doubt, AMA suggests: "Get the job done some other way. Hire someone, or use power equipment."

It is much less expensive to employ these alternatives than to risk health impairment or death, AMA emphasizes.

Even if you are physically fit, AMA notes, it is safer to use a small shovel, filling it only partly. If possible, it also is better to push the snow rather than lift it.

By thus lightening the load, it's explained, it is not necessary to tense the diaphragm and abdominal muscles. There consequently is no significant increase in pressure within the chest cavity or increase in circulatory demand within the heart walls.

Frequently, AMA says, the problem with snow-shoveling is aggravation of an existing heart condition. When such a condition exists, breathing cold air may cause a spasm of small arteries serving the heart.

This usually can be avoided, AMA advises, by wearing a cold weather mask or covering the face with several layers of a knit scarf. This permits warming of inhaled air before it reaches the lungs.

Even for the physically fit, it's suggested, the motto should be: "Easy does it." When there is a lot of snow and a large area to be cleared, do the job in stages, resting periodically.

Finally, AMA cautions, falls also are hazard for the snow-shoveler. Footwear that is not likely to slip on icy surfaces, and making sure of firm footing before moving snow, are important.

Clint Eastwood sees his enemies make two mistakes . . . hang a man they thought was he . . . and not finish the job. His latest starrer, "Hang 'Em High," will open Wednesday at the Falls Theatre. The film, in Color by DeLuxe, is released through United Artists, a Transamerica Corporation.

Minnesotan Is Finalist For Teacher of Year

For the third time in four years, Minnesota has a finalist in the national teacher of the year program.

He is 34-year-old Richard A. Hanson of Burnsville high school where he is a coach, mathematics teacher and chairman of the department. He is the current Minnesota teacher of the year.

The 1966 Minnesota teacher of the year—Roger Tenney, Owatonna public schools music teacher—became the 1967 national teacher of the year. The 1965 Minnesota teacher of the year—Robert F. Arnold, sixth grade Richfield teacher—also was in the top five nationally.

Hanson—one of five selected by a screening committee of national educational leaders—has been teaching 13 years. The national teacher of the year—the one for 1969 will be named next spring—is chosen for "sound knowledge and to instill intellectual curiosity and a love of learning in students."

Hanson received his bachelor's degree from the University of North Dakota in 1956 and his masters from the same school. He has done graduate work at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, and at Bemidji state college. He has received five National Science foundation grants for study in the field of science and mathematics.

Hanson began his teaching career at St. James high school in his home town of Grand Forks, N. D., in 1956 and went to Burnsville high in 1960.

To Protect A Right

Early into the new year, meetings will begin between the Thief River Falls board of education and the teachers' negotiating council in an attempt to negotiate faculty salaries for the 1969-70 school year. Last year these meetings—held for the first time under law enacted by the 1967 legislature—resulted in approximately $150,000 in increased salaries for the district's classroom teachers.

During last year's series of meetings, the public and the press were denied access to the meetings. Statements were given by spokesmen for the school board of the meetings, most generally indicating the positions of the two sides. Not infrequently, there was some difference of opinion in interpretation of what actually transpired at the meetings.

On Monday the Times sent letters to the superintendent, president of the board of education, and the chairman of the teacher's negotiating council. These letters stated that this newspaper intends to be in attendance whenever possible at the negotiating meetings this year, and asks to be notified when any such meetings are to be held. Further, we stated that we intend to notify the public through this newspaper when the meetings are to be held, and to invite attendance by any interested resident of the school district.

Our basis for attending the meetings, and inviting public attendance, is Section 471.705 of the state law which specifically provides: "Except as otherwise expressly provided by law, all meetings, including executive sessions, of the governing body of any school district however organized, unorganized territory, county, city, village, town, or borough and of any board, department or commission thereof, shall be open to the public." Section 471.705 is known as the "open meeting law" and is designed to safeguard the public's right to know how public business is transacted.

We do not enjoy devoting a number of evenings in our already full schedule to attending these meetings. Neither do we want to challenge any governing body, group or individual. We do, however, believe that it is the responsiblity of the working press to fully and factually report the news in keeping with the public right to know.

In an official joint statement, the Minnesota Newspaper association, the Minnesota Broadcasters association and the Northwest Broadcast News association, including among their memberships every newspaper, radio and television station in the state of Minnesota, strongly objected to the continuing policy of the Minnesota Education association and the Minnesota Federation of Teachers in advising that teachers' salary negotiating sessions may legally and properly be closed to the public.

Legislation adopted in 1967 provided that: "The school board or a committee thereof. . .shall meet and confer at reasonable times with the recognized teachers' organization or teachers' council. regarding conditions of professional service as well as educational and professional procedures, and other materials as applies to teachers."

The joint MNA, MBA and NBNA statement notes: "With such broad language already enacted into law, it therefore becomes clear that unless this planned program of secrecy comes to a halt, the public faces the possibility of a long series of secret meetings between teachers and school boards; that not only the money but anything else 'as applies to teachers' will be discussed; and that the first public knowledge of joint agreements will be given to the taxpaying public after everything is signed, sealed and delivered. There will be no opportunity for the public to know how the settlements were arrived at, no chance to selected officials in action."

Persons who bargain in good faith have no reason to fear open meetings. Closing the doors to the public automatically makes the meeting subject to suspicion, whether justified or not. We certainly hope that the public right will be honored in this district as the law clearly intends.

Killing The Goose

From the Wall Street Journal comes this information on the trend of the times:

Let's say you have been looking forward to the day when your son will step into some nice white collar job which promises a pretty nice income.

And let's say when the day comes he is ready to go to work, he announces that he doesn't want a white collar job—he wants to be a bricklayer. What is your response to that? Do you say bricklaying isn't what you had in mind when you sat up nights helping him with long division, when you pushed and prodded him to finish his education?

No, you do not say that if you have been keeping up with what's been going on lately in the construction and building trades. What you do is congratulate him, buy him a good pair of work shoes, and send him on his way with your blessing.

For in Dayton, Ohio, after a 78-day work stoppage bricklayers have won a 72 per cent raise in pay over the next two years. This increases their hourly pay to $9.75. If they work over time, they get $19.50 an hour.

That's pretty good, but in Toledo, Ohio, sheet metal workers when last heard from were trying to do better than the bricklayers. The sheet metal workers were holding out for an increase of $5.14 hourly over three years. If their strike succeeds in winning that raise, their pay will go up 100 per cent. For they are getting $5.14 an hour now.

Toledo's iron workers are doing rather well too. They recently negotiated a raise of $2.10 per hour over two years, which brings their hourly pay to $7.63, or up 19 per cent per year.

And in Michigan, after an 85-day strike carpenters won a new two-year contract providing increases in wages and benefits of 15 per cent each year.

Somehow, as costly as these and other building trades disputes have been in terms of man-days lost and future construction prices, the Administration seems to have been looking the other way. In the direction of, for instance, the United Steelworkers, whose wage increases this summer amounted to about six per cent.

So be not dismayed if your son decides to be a bricklayer, carpenter or sheet metal worker. But in addition to your congratulations and a good pair of work shoes, you might also give him a copy of Aesop's second fable. It's the one about the goose and the golden eggs.

Why the Rush?

If we were to figure in percentages, we would have to say we disagree with opinions of the Minnesota Emergency Conservation committee (not to be confused with the state conservation department) about 97 per cent of the time. Two per cent of the time we are undecided and only rarely do we agree.

One of the rare times that we do agree is this week, when the committee comments on what it terms "another taconite misdeal". The committee commentary begins as follows:

"Taconite mining lease extensions with the Erie Mining company, covering more than 4,000 acres of state-owned land in St. Louis county, were approved last week by the state executive council, composed of the governor, attorney general, secretary of state, state auditor and state treasurer.

"The only negative vote was recorded by Joseph L. Donovan, secretary of state.

"The agreement with Erie extends the life on 87 mining leases for 25 years. The original leases, signed in 1941, were for 50 years. They would have expired in 1991. The 25-year extensions mean the agreements will hold until 2016."

There is no question that preferential treatment given through tax advantages to the taconite industry has revitalized the Minnesota iron range, brought huge investments into the state and vastly improved the employment situation. In general, Minnesotans are agreed that the taconite amendment is doing what was hoped it would do.

But this is 1968 and original leases do not expire for another 23 years. We would have to agree with the emergency conservation committee in asking, "Why the rush. . .?"

A farmer, hoping to sell a horse to a city dweller, was queried as to whether or not he might just happen to have, a dead horse for sale. "As a matter-of fact," the farmer replied, "I do have an animal that died this morning. But I confess I do not understand why you should prefer him."

"Well, said the city dweller, "you've made a sale, and if you will bring the horse to my house and put him in the bathtub, I will be forever grateful. You see, it's like this: each evening my roommate returns from work and asks, "Well, whats new?' I can never think of anything to reply, but tonight I will be ready for him. I will say, 'Well, let's see. . .oh, yes. . .there's a dead horse in the bathtub!' "

The old year wanes. The last sands trickle down the hourglass as the old man totters into irrevocable past and a lusty infant year begins.

Bells ring in church steeples, confetti rains, horns blow. People sing and shout and maybe shed a tear. Cries of "Happy New Year" fill the ears and fall on happy hearts, or sad.

To some, the old year brought joy and happiness. To others it held sadness and despair. Thus, men greet the new year differently; some with mockery, some with resolution, still others with a smile.

Whatever your feelings about the year ahead, there is one way to be sure of its promise. God is the source of all goodness. Make Him and His Church a part of your life and you will find the strength and inspiration to make each day prosper.

The sum of its days shapes the year.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Prowler Cagers, Hockey Squads Fall in Tourneys

Cagers Beaten by Fargo North, South

by Bob Wisinski
Times Sport Writer

Thief River Falls Prowler basketball team traveled to Fargo on Friday and Saturday to take part in the Fargo North Holiday basketball classic and the Prowlers fell to Fargo South by a 74-56 score, and then lost to Fargo North on Saturday night 70-60. In the other game of the classic on Friday night, Fargo North handed Fort Yates their first loss 72-58, while Fargo South pinned a second loss on the Fort Yates club on Saturday night 80-75.

Prowlers-Fargo South

In Friday night's contest the Prowlers were unable to get moving as the Fargo South squad jumped to a 7-0 lead before Sheldon Joppru scored for the Prowlers. The Prowlers then closed the gap to 9-7 as Dan Brodin and Steve Edlund tallied five points for the Prowlers. Seven straight points by the Bruins gave them a commanding lead and the Prowlers were never in the contest after that point.

The Bruins had five players in double figures, including four starters and one reserve. Leading the way was forward Ron Engel with 17 points. Others in double figures were Kalth Wnattaja, 12; Brian Neugebauer, 13; and Ron Hendrickson and Dale Sundby, 10 each.

The Prowlers had three in double figures as Joppru tallied 20 points to lead all scorers, while Brodin and Edlund tallied 13 and 12 points respectively.

In the opening period the Bruins scored seven straight points before the Prowlers were able to get on the scoreboard. The period found Engel laying seven points as South took a 20-11 lead at the end of the quarter. Joppru led the Prowlers in scoring with six points.

The Prowlers were forced to play most of the game without their second leading scorer, Don Balmer, who saw little action because of the flu and a cold.

The Bruins opened their lead to 40-23 at half-time as the reserves came in to play most of the second period and then saw action through the third period as Fargo South coach Karl Groth used most of the players he had dressed. At the end of the third period the score was 62-36 in favor of South.

The Prowlers pulled within 14 points of the South squad with three minutes left in the contest, but Groth put his starting five back into the game and they preserved the victory—74-56.

Prowlers-Fargo North

The game on Saturday night looked like the Prowlers were going to walk away with the contest as they jumped to an 11-8 lead at the end of the first period and led by as much as 17-11 before Fargo North, led by Kent Jacobson who tallied 10 points in the second period, collied th the second eight minutes of play to take a 36-30 lead at half time. North closed the score to 50-39 at the three quarter stop and went on to win the contest 70-60.

The Prowlers also played most of Saturday's contest without Balmer, as the junior forward was nursing a cold. His replacement, Dave Kildahl, came off the bench in the opening period to spark the Prowlers to an 11-8 lead at the end of the period, as he tallied five points. He finished the night with 10 points.

The Prowlers took the lead at 1-0 on a free throw by Steve Edlund, and a lay up by Balmer gave them a 3-0 lead before Fargo North came back with two quick baskets by Mickey Anderson and Ron Anderson. Edlund's free throw knotted the score at 4-4 with 2:58 left in the period. North took a 6-4 lead before the Prowlers took command of the period as Kildahl scored five points to give the Prowlers a 9-8 lead. Joppru dumped th a basket at the horn, giving the Prowlers the 11-8 lead.

A tip-in shot by Joppru made it 13-8 in the second period, but a basket and a free throw by Greg Bentson cut the lead to 13-11. Dan Brodin made it 15-11, and a basket by Joppru gave the Prowlers their biggest lead of the game 17-11, before Jacobson tallied six straight points for the Spartans, knotting the score at 17-17 with 5:57 left in the period.

The game then see-sawed back and fath until a basket by Mickey Anderson broke a 21-21 tie and put the Spartans ahead to stay at 23-21, from where they went on to take a 36-30 lead at half time.

A cold third period was the downfall of the Prowlers as they were only able to tally nine points as the Spartans took a 50-39 lead at the end of the period.

In the final period the Spartans retained their 10-point lead and won their third game of the year 70-60.

Taking scoring honors for the contest was Joppru who tallied 22 points, 16 of them in he second half. Steve Edlund added 12 for the Prowlers while Kildahl scored 10 in the losing cause. The Spartans were led by Mickey Anderson's 15 points while Jacobson added 14 points in the win.

City Electric Use Rises; Water Use Down in 1968

Electric power used in the city of Thief River Falls increased, water usage decreased and sewage flow was measured for the first time in 1968, according to the annual report prepared by Morris Owen, superintendent of utilities.

Total electric usage in 1968 was 32,736,352 kilowatts—a gain of 5.8 per cent or 1,747,516 from the 1967 mark of 30,988,536. Of the 1968 total usage, 30,935,052 kilowatts were purchased from the U. S. bureau of reclamation and 1,801,300 kilowatts were generated at the local power plant.

Peak electric load for 1968 was 6,845 kilowatts—an increase of 497 from the peak load of 6,348 in 1967. Electric use in the city has been rising steadily for a number of years.

During 1968 the city water plant pumped 294,190,700 gallons of water into the city's mains, a decrease of 11,107,000 gallons from 305,297,700 gallons in 1967. Much of the decrease was attributed to the wet summer with few people watering lawns or gardens. Highest month in 1968 was October when 30,007,600 gallons of water were pumped. The highest individual day was August 8 when 1,313,700 gallons of water were used.

A metering system was installed at the sewage plant in time to permit a recording of sewage flow for the first time. Total flow for 1968 was 331,916,400 gallons.

Sewage flow was about 37 million gallons greater than the total amount of water pumped, Owen noted, and attributed the difference to seepage, surface water and use of water from industrial wells.

Monthly totals for kilowatts used and gallons of water pumped include the following:

Month	Kilowatts

Farmers To Get Payment Notice For '68 Program

Wallace Sparby, Pennington county ASCS office manager, reminds farmers who participated in any ASCS-administered programs that ASCS, as required by law, must report to the Internal revenue service all program payments made to farmers during 1968. This would include ACP, feed grain, wheat and other direct payment programs.

This report will include payments made directly to the farmer, to his assignee and to the U. S. government agencies for any debt owed by him. It will not include commodity loans, commodity purchases, reseal storage payments or ACP cost-share payments to a vendor on a purchase order.

As an additional service, farmers will receive a notice of the amount reported. This notice will be prepared on form CCC-182 and will be mailed during the last two weeks of January. Farmers may also receive a supplemental report on form CCC-182-1. This supplemental report will include additional program payments, if any, which were not included on form CCC-182 but which will be included in the report to IRS.

When farmers have received one or both of these notices, we suggest that they carefully read the explanation on the form and check the total against their records to see that the amount reported is correct. If they find that the amount is not correct, or if they have any questions regarding the form, they should contact the county ASCS Office from which the payment was received.

Feed Grain Program For 1969 Announced

A voluntary 1969 feed grain program virtually identical to that for 1968 was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. Signup will be conducted simultaneously for feed grains, and wheat from February 3 through March 21.

Target for acreage diversion in 1969 is 37 million acres of corn, grain sorghum and barley. This compares to the 1968 diversion of 32.4 million acres when barley was not included in the program. The 37 million acre diversion target for next year is designed to produce a 1969 crop about three to five million tons below estimated requirements. Utilization is increasing because of greater domestic livestock production, and corn exports are expected to show modest gains.

Price-support loan and payment levels for corn and sorghum will be the same as in 1968.

Producers may participate in the 1969 feed grain program by reducing their total base acreage by at least 20 per cent. Additional acreage reduction is being encouraged by acreage diversion payments based on 45 per cent of the total county price-support loan and payment (U.S. average of $1.35 for corn), times the farm's projected yield.

"Exceptionally good crop weather and improved cropping practices at home and abroad during the last two years have led to world-wide increases in grain production," the secretary explained. "The 1968 feed grain program put a strong brake on soaring domestic production.

"Despite the fact that corn yields in 1967 and in 1968 were about 13 per cent greater than the preceding 1962-66 average, the acreage diversion programs for those two years kept carry-over stocks near needed reserve levels.

"Based on the Dec. 19, 1968, crop report, production for 1968 will be about 168 million tons. Utilization for the 1968-69 marketing year currently is estimated at 169 million tons by October of 1969, resulting in a slight reduction in stocks to around 47 million tons. Through active participation in the 1969 program, farmers can realize further reduction of three to five million tons by the end of the 1969-70 marketing years.

"Finally, I firmly believe the price-support loan program, if fully utilized by producers will substantially firm up market prices. If growers continue to use the price-support loan program for orderly marketing throughout the year as thry now are doing, we can look forward to much progress," the secretary concluded.

Price supprt loan levels under the 1969 program will be the same as in 1968 for corn, $1.05 per bushel; sorghum $1.61 per hundredweight; oats, 63 cents per bushel; and rye, $1.02 per bushel. Barley will be 83 cents per bushel instead of 90 cents as in 1968 because it now is eligible for price-support payment. These price-support payments will be unchanged at 30 cents per bushel for corn and 53 cents per hundredweight for sorghum. Barley payment will be 20 cents per bushel. All price-support payments will be based on planted acreage up to one-half the farm base times projected yield.

Key provisions of the 1969 feed grain program are:

(1) Required acreage diversion to conserving use to qualify for price support loans and payments is continued at 20 per cent of a farmer's base acreage of corn, sorghum and barley. No diversion payments will be made for this minimum diversion, except for small base farms—the same as in 1966-68.

(2) Additional acreage diversion will be possible up to a total of 50 per cent of the base or 25 acres, whichever is larger, the same as in 1968. The acreage diversion payment rate will be at 45 per cent of the total price support times the projected yield.

(3) As in 1966-68 a farm with a base of 25 acres or less will get payment on the first 20 per cent acreage diversion at 20 per cent of the total support rate times yield, and at the regular 45 per cent payment rate on the remaining acreage diverted to a conserving use. Producers

Rain, Rain, Rain Is 1968 Weather Story

Water provided the weather story for 1968, as the Thief River Falls area was hit hard by rain after rain. In June alone it rained on 21 out of the month's 30 days for a total of 6.80 inches. During the year measurable precipitation totaled 34.98 inches, and adding all the unmeasurable traces of rain or snow that fell during the year which was not measurable the total undoubtedly passed the 35 inch mark.

While moisture was the major story, another factor in the weather could also be mentioned. The average temperature for the year was only 39 degrees, with the average high temperature being 49.2 degrees and average low temperature being 28.3 degrees.

Once again, like in 1967, February and January were the coldest months of the year as the mercury was below zero most of the months. In fact, the low temperature for the two months was an average of seven degrees below zero. The low reading was below zero for a total of 16 straight days in February.

Coldest day of the year was on January 6 when the mercury dipped to a 40 below zero reading and only reached a high of 19 below for the entire 24-hour period. The high temperature of the year was recorded in June and again in August as the mercury reached a high of 92 dgrees, a variation of 132 degrees from the lowest reading.

July proved to be the warmest month for high temperatures as the mercury averaged a high reading of 75.9 degrees, two-tenths of a degree higher than the average high temperature record for August. The coldest monthly low for the year was minus seven degrees for both January and February.

While the rest of the state of Minnesota was being swamped with rain during September and October, the Thief River Falls area received a total of 5.54 inches of moisture. Harvest by most area farmers was not completed in the area until late November, while some in the southern part of the state finished after the first of December.

A total of 24 inches of snow fell from January 1 to December 31 last year, with January recording the greatest amount of snowfall during the 12 month period with 12 inches.

The average high, low and mean temperatures and total amount of precipitation for the 12 months is as follows, along with the daily records of November and December. The mercury during November hit a high of 61 on the 3rd and then fell to a low reading of six degrees on the 20th and 29th. The lowest temperature for December was on the 31st with a -24 degree reading, while the high was 38 on the first.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

of Thief River Falls

Some children in their early teens enjoy cooking and baking, especially if the recipes are explicit and the completed product meets with their approval. The instructions for most recipes are too complicated for the inexperienced cooks and lead to misunderstanding, such as the young cook who added a cup of ground coffee to the recipe that required coffee. Such failures are hilarious in years to come, but at the time are tragic and often ends the cooking enthusiasm.

We are grateful to Mrs. Les Snetting of Thief River Falls for submitting today's recipe for Turtle cookies. She stated that her youngest daughter, Cheryl, 11, enjoys cooking and this is one of her favorite recipes.

Turtle Cookies

2 squares chocolate
One-third cup butter
2 eggs
¾ cup sugar
1 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup finely chopped nuts

Method: Combine chocolate and butter and melt together over low heat, stirring to avoid scorching. Set aside. In another bowl beat eggs, add sugar and fold in flour, salt and vanilla. Blend in chocolate mixture and chopped nuts. Drop by spoonsful in a waffle iron. Bake 1 to 1½ minutes. To speed the process, cookies may be baked in each section of the waffle iron.

Frost with chocolate frosting and sprinkle with multi-colored sugar.

Icing

One third cup half and half cream
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon white syrup

Bring to a rolling boil and time for one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add ½ cup chocolate chips or butterscotch chips. Stir until melted and frosting is the right spreading consistency. Both cookies and icing freeze well.

The Les Snettings are co-owners of Northwesteen Trailer Court and Sales. They have two daughters Cheryl and Becky, 14, who prefers housecleaning to cooking. Mrs. Snetting enjoys sewing, knitting and cooking. She is active in the Girl Scouting program and the women's group at Trinity Lutheran church where the family attends services.

Business to Scale New Peaks In 1969

The momentum built by rising business volumes and production will surely carry the usual measurements of Gross National product and the Federal Reserve Index of Production onto new all-time high ground in the year 1969. But that is not the whole story. What you want to know is what the rate of grain will be and what the shape of the year, business wise, will look like.

Gross National Product—Total dollar value of all goods and strong note. . .at nearly a $20-billion gain. That is only slightly less than the best 1968 quarter of $22 billion. Prospects now favor a good further boost in the first 1969 quarter. . .perhaps equivalent to the $18-billion advance of the third 1968 stretch. The second quarter of next year may slip a bit from the first; but the upcoming half year will show a climb in dollar values perhaps only $3-$4-billion below the great bulge of a year earlier. Assuming no dropping of the surtax, we look for a lesser rate of gain in the final 1969 half. . .another big year, but tapering as it wears along. Over all, expect a GNP upthrust over 1968 of close to 7% (about $60 million).

Physical Volume — Physical output is not expected to match the dollar value of increase in 1968. . .not surprising, as more than half of the looked-for improvement will result from higher prices. Assuming the Federal Reserve Index of Production averages around 165 for 1968, we can project about a 4-point climb in the year ahead. But again, we think the best will be seen early in 1969.

Capital Outlays— Despite a continuing depressed rate of plant utilization, business managers are projecting increased budgets for new plant and equipment. Look for a strong start—perhaps as high as an 8% increase—to be followed by a slower rate of gain as the year ages. For all of 1969, a 4% betterment would seem about the best to expect.

Profits—Total corporate profits in the first half of 1969 will out-distance those of the year-earlier period. . .they may even equal the strong final six months of 1968. Here again, however, squeezed by inflationary costs and somewhat less boisterous demand, we look for a down-drift in profitability before 1969 has advanced too far.

Money To Stay Costly

The first half of 1969 may experience some moderate easing in short-term interest rates. This will be occasioned by lessened federal demand for loans. . .as the budget moves from deficit to surplus and the Treasury has no need to borrow. Most of the easing, however, will show up in the Treasury 90-day bill rate. Long-term money may experience some temporary downjiggle. . .but ovre all Babson's Reports is not expecting any sustained slide-off from the most costly credit of the century. Also, as Uncle Sam comes back into the bond market later in the year, rates should again stiffen.

Mortgage Costs—No real relief is in sight here. Availability and rate may be somewhat more favorable in the first half of 1969 than in the last. No incentive to postpone building or buying plans.

Business Loans—If the Treasury bill rate declines in the first half—as we expect—there will be much talk of lowre costs for business loans. Here again, we feel that any easing will be tiny and temporary.

Another High In Common Stocks

The buy - stocks - to - protect - against - inflation "bug" has bitten deeply. Most investors are convinced that a stock-buying formula is the best antidote for soaring living costs. New common - stock - oriented institutions are being formed "a mile a minute." Foreign investors are flocking back to U. S. securities markets. And corporate sales and earnings trends are supporting the convictions of the multiplying herds of bulls.

On pure momentum alone, we anticipate new all-time highs in the Dow Industrials, as well as in the more comprehensive averages, during the forepart of 1969. If such does occur, however, we shall have our "fingers crossed" about the course of stocks during the time after mid-year. . .especially if market "fireworks" become particularly brilliant in the early 1969 days. Under these circumstances, cautious selecting may pay bigger dividends in 1969 than "playing the field."

Farm Equipments — One group that has hardly gotten off the ground in 1968 has been the agricultural machinery makers. Some good long-range values exist here in issues such as Deere and International Harvester.

Conglomerates — The big multiple-activity companies have certainly failed to shine in the year now closing. Some issues may hold low risk for investors with patience. Among such are Textron, Gulf & Western Industries, and TRW Inc.

Chemicals — This once-favorite of securities fans has again passed a year in the market doldrums. Some indications of a turn - in - the making are beginning to appear. We feel there is not too much risk in Chemical and Union Carbide at recent levels.

Containers — Another group that does not seem to have exhausted its investment potential is containers..though they are not as cheap as they were a year ago. Our choice in this field would be Continental Can.

Fertilizers — After a long and painful stretch of being "put through the wringer," there are now some signs that moderately more profitable days may lie ahead for the plantfood makers. International Minerals & Chemical—with vast potential raw materials resources on more than one continent--appears to hold little risk at purchasers with patience.

Life Insurance — Hailed five years ago as "the greatest" for appreciation, life company stocks overshot their dynamic possibilities and were distained by speculators for several years. In 1968, however, life stocks—with management becoming much more aggressive in diversifying—again began to stir. The persevering speculator might find opportunity in Life Insurance of Kentucky.

Electric Utilities — Electric power stocks, one of the soundest growth areas, are showing signs of emerging from the investment pall that has enshrouded them for some time. They offer both income and growth. Try Texas Utilities for the latter and Niagara Mohawk for the former.

Bonds Still On Bargain Counter

With stocks all the rage, bond buyees among individuals have become "scarcer than hens' teeth." Yet bonds are selling at the lowest prices and the highest income yields of this century. . .yes, in many cases, for a full 100 years. We state emphatically: If the inflation prospects are as sure-fire, as pervasive, and as unpreventable as many would have us believe, we doubt that the ownership of common stocks will provide a truly safe passage through the inevitable maelstrom that will follow in inflation's wake. If the storm comes, high-quality bonds may ride it out better than stocks. If it does not come, 8½%, 7%, and even higher incomes from senior securities will furnish food and sheltre to those dependent upon savings.. and afford something left over with which to "feed" inflation.

For Big Income—If current high return is your major need—retired or supplemental—top-quality corporate issues of recent flotation are your best bet. Returns here run from 6½, to 7½% for the "cream."

Income Plus Profit — Those who can take somewhat less currently, but with equal certainty of income, should pick up best-grade deep discount bonds. Middle-term maturities—say 8 to 12 years—give you fairly high current return .. and a capital gain if held to pay-off time.

For the Affluent — Never have tax-exempt bonds been so attractive. Follow the general rules laid down above. Buy the new, long-term exempts of best quality. . .if the best in income right now is your need. If saving for the future, however, there are plenty of near-and middle-term maturities available in nontaxables that will save on your annual tax bill and give you a capital gain at maturity.

Convertibles? — At a time such as now, after stocks have had a long and sizable runup, we at Babson's Reports, Inc., are not attracted to convertible bonds. . .freling that, in most cases, the cost of the call on the common has become inflated. Convertibles are most attractive aftre a stock market shake-out .. when uncertainty exists and when you are not paying too much above the investment worth of the bond for a call on the common.

Risks To Rise As Year Lengthens

The nation is now in the days of hope. . .the honeymoon of the electorate with the new Administration. But the "changing of the guard" at the White House is not likely to be accomplished without causing uncertainities. With business and the stock market bowling along toward new highs, the risks of change lean toward increasing exposure as the euphoria of early post-election comes to full bloom.

As we peer into 1969, the staff of Babson's Reports, Inc., foresees new advances on both the economic and the financial fronts. But we also are convinced that as the year lengthens, risks for businessmen and investors will likewise increase. Temper your optimism with coution.

Land O'Lakes Buys Land for Research Farm

A 98-acre tract of land has been purchased by Land O'Lakes for a new turkey and calf research farm. The land is located one mile north of Hampton, 32 miles southeast of the Minneapolis office. Land O'Lakes formerly operated a research farm at Anoka, and this farm was recently sold for a housing development.

Although operated by Land O'Lakes, the new farm will be one of the farms within Cooperative Research farms. Cooperative Research farms includes 9 regional cooperatives, such as Land O'Lakes, throughout the United States and Canada who have pooled their research facilities.

These farms are operated in order to develop better rations and new management programs for farm animals. This combined research effort avoids duplication of research and at the same time permits much more total research work to be done. The research farm at Hampton will do turkey and calf research work only.

Research buildings at Hampton are projected to include one calf building, one turkey growing building, one turkey breeder building and an office-utility-storage building. All calves and turkeys will be raised at all times in total confinement within the buildings. The calf building will have a liquid manure handling system.

The Hampton research farm will be operated under the direction of Dr. Mike Hansen, Land O'Lakes' research veterinarian, and Herb Polzin, Land O'Lakes' research farm manager.

Change of beneficiary on a GI life insurance policy may be made by simply writing the office where premiums are paid.

Facts Given on Lakehead Oil Pipeline in Area

It takes 16,267,510 barrels of crude oil to fill the massive network of pipelines owned by the Interprovincial Pipe Line company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Lakehead Pipe Line company, Inc. A total of 4,670 miles of pipe, including branches from the looping program started in 1962, stretch from Redwater, Alberta, Canada to Buffalo, New York.

Interprovincial Pipe Line company was incorporated by a special act of the parliament of Canada in 1949. Lakehead Pipe Line company, Inc., was incorporated in the United States in the same year.

The first large diameter pipe line from Edmonton, Alb., to Superior, Wis., was constructed the following year, and was in operation by December of 1950. Additional construction of loop lines, extensions of the main line, stations, tankage or other facilities has taken place each year since 1950.

Among the 53 pumping stations in operation are Viking, Plummer and Clearbrook in the mid-Northwestern area of Minnesota. Clearbrook pumping station was among the first eight constructed in 1950. Viking was built the following year when stations were built along the line. Plummer wasn't added until 1960, when the company was installing electric pumping stations instead of the original diesel.

One of the latest expanding projects was a line looping program between Donaldson and Clearbrook. The program included 33 miles of 34-inch pipe, an additional pumping unit added to the Clearbrook station, and new pumps added to the existing units at Viking and Clearbrook.

Approximately 560 employees are employed with Interprovincial and Lakehead pipe line companies. Of those, 185 are with Lakehead.

As of Dec. 31, 1967, the total investment in plant and equipment was $411,228,083 and estimated 1968 expenditures are $113,154,000. In comparison with the number of employees and including the 1968 construction, this is approximately $953,000 investment per employee.

The entire system delivered 232.6 million barrels of oil in 1967, which averaged 736,290 barrels per day. In September, 1968, deliveries reached 758,246 barrels per day, the highest rate for one month in the company's history. At September 31, the average deliveries for the past nine months of 1968 stood at 726,349 borrels per day.

Freeman Makes Milk Support Price Permanent

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced two actions recently to maintain dairy farmers' income during the 1969-70 marketing year. The present support price for manufacturing milk and the present Class I price levels under federal milk orders will be continued.

The support price for manufacturing milk for the marketing year which begins April 1, 1969, will be $4.28 for milk of average milkfat content (approximately 3.7 per cent). This is 87 per cent of the latest parity equivalent price published in late November. The law provides for support at prices between 75 and 90 per cent of parity as of the beginning of the marketing year.

The specific prices at which Commodity Credit corporation will buy butter, cheddar cheese and nonfat dry milk inorder to carry out the support will be announced at a later date.

Under the federal order program, the secretary's action will continue fluid milk prices (Class I) to dairy farmers at their present levels after April 1969, when a temporary 20-cent increase and a basic formula floor price granted last year for 67 markets is due to expire.

The secretary said he is terminating the April 30, 1969 expiration date, which provided for the price increases through April. In effect, the action will make prices set by the orders permanent, instead of temporary, at their present levels, officials said.

The price action includes a continuation of the 20-cent increase in the Class I price differentials now in effect and the minimum basic formula price of $4.33 a hundredweight (3.5 per cent milkfat content. In a few eastern markets using economic price formulas, comparable action will maintain prices at their present levels.

"The improvement in dairy prices received by farmers in 1968 helped to moderate the decline in total milk production," the secretary said "With an improvement in consumption in marketing channels, price support purchases of dairy products so far in this marketing year have been substantially smallre than a year earlier. Dairy farmers need assurance now that their income will be maintained so that they can plan their dairy operations. The action announced today also will assure an adequate supply of milk and dairy products for consumers."

Sheep on Eddie Wolff Farm Near Greenbush Shot

Roseau county law enforcement officers are seeking clues to the identity of a person or persons who reportedly shot three sheep on the Eddie Wolff farm near Greenbush and may have shot several others on the Arlene Anderson farm recently.

They also investigated the deaths of eight sheep reportedly killed on the Elmer Nohre farm by wolves.

The sheep on the Wolff farm were apparently shot with a high powered rifle, Sheriff Paul Knochenmus of Roseau county said. He indicated that several sheep may have been killed by the same method in Kittson county.

In another incident, a snowmobile parked overnight in a field near Greenbush was discovered the following morning with six bullet holes in it.

Investigation into the cases is continuing. Anyone with information about possible leads is urged to contact the Roseau county sreriff's office.

The course combines programs directed towards three profesional groups. The county agricultural inspectors program covers the entire course while programs for ariculutural pesticide dealtrs and custom operators will be held on January 15-17.

Course speakers inclde chemical industry representatives, federal and state government inspectors and university specialists. Registration for the general session is 8-10 a.m., January 15, in the Leamington hotel's hall of states. The course fee is $5 per person for all or part of the course.

The county agricultural inspectors programs on January 13 and 14 will include discussion and weed control and seed inspection. On Wednesday, January 15, a combined session on equipment will be held for agricultural inspectors, pesticide dealers and custom operators.

On January 16, participants in the combined sessions will hear discussions on weed and seed law, discussions on herbicides and pesticides, and custom application.

On January 17 the ground sprayers and retailers, and the aerial operators will attend separate programs. The ground sprayers and retailers program will focus on weed control in fruit, herbicides for vegetables and in the landscape, and on control of specific insects.

Topics to be discussed in the aerial sprayers program include cereal disease control by aircraft, safe practices for handling hazardous chemicals, aerial spraying accidents, atrazine application, low volume application and new equipment and a panel on problems in aerial application.

Knowing how to control a skidding car can be valuable information. Never jam on the brakes or step down on the accelerator. Steering in the direction of the skid and pumping the brakes are the most effective ways of regaining control of the vehicle.

Aasland, Wedul Memorials Given To Heart Fund

Heart fund memorials in the name of the late T. E. Aasland and Arnt Wedul, both of Thief River Falls, were recently received by the Minnesota Heart association, according to David Drotts, Thief River Falls, Pennington county memorial chairman.

Because the full amount of these gifts will be used for heart research, Drotts said, they are likely to lead to further advances in the conquest of heart disease.

The great need for heart research funds, Drotts pointed out, is indicated by the fact that during the past year, more Americans died from heart disease (approximately 1,000,000) than the total number killed in all the wars in our country's history (602,339). In Pennington county, for example, there were 126 deaths last years, and of this number 72 were from heart disease.

"Those who have no resources within themselves to live a good and happy life find every period of life burdensome. But those who seek their blessings within themselves regard nothing as evil that the necessity of nature brings." —Cicero

Appreciated Words

Last week we received a letter from the office of President-elect Richard Nixon, expressing appreciation for editorial support in his bid for the Presidency. Contents of this letter should be appreciated by all citizens of the country, for he states the following:

"....the best way I can express my gratitude is to do everything in my power in the years ahead to see that our new administration makes a record which will be worthy of the efforts of those who worked so hard for victory.

"In the years ahead, I realize there will be occasions when you may not agree with the policies of the new administration. I want you to know that I will appreciate receiving the benefit of your criticism as well as your praise. I believe it is vitally important for the new administration to seek out the best thinking of the nation's opinion leaders in finding solutions to the critical problems with which we are confronted. Above all, I want ours to be an open administration—open to new ideas—listening and respecting those who disagree with us as well as those who agree with us."

President-elect Nixon's words are appreciated, and we respect him as a man of his word. We expect that we will disagree a number of times during the next four years, and when we do, we will comment editorially on these areas of disagreement.

But it is a welcome situation to have a chief executive who will accept criticism, who recognizes human frailties and who will be responsive to the opinions of others.

No Rocking Chairs

Sterling F. Green, Associated Press staff writer, lists the following plans of government officials who will be leaving Washington as the new administration assumes control in January. Apparently there will be no mass demand for rocking chairs to provide activity for the men moving out of office.

Lyndon B. Johnson speaks longingly of the rocking chair that waits for him in Texas when he leaves the presidency Jan. 20.

Everybody in Washington and Texas knows it is just a figurative rocking chair. Johnson is expected to be riding an executive swivel chair, spinning rapidly from banking to broadcasting to ranching to real estate as he tends to his multimillion dollar assets.

There won't be rocking chair riders or welfare cases among the outgoing cabinet officers or White House aides, either. Most will step into jobs paying a lot more than they got from Uncle Sam.

Some are still weighing offers, some are keeping mum about their business plans, as Johnson is. But most have already nailed down executive jobs in corporations and foundations, or are moving into well-paid college presidencies, professorships or law practices.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler will become a general partner in the distinguished New York investment banking firm of Goldman, Sachs & Co., Jan. 1.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford says he has "no plans whatsoever," but is expected to resume his flourishing law practice in Washington.

Assistant Defense Secretary Alain Enthoven will become vice president of the big and still growing Litton Industries, Inc., a major defense contractor. He'll direct Litton's economic planning.

Dr. Harold Brown, secretary of the air force, will become president of California Institute of Technology, replacing Dr. Leo A. DuBridge, who is coming to Washington to be President-elect Nixon's top adviser on science and technology.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will return to the Rockefeller Foundation, where he was president for eight years before entering President Kennedy's cabinet. As its first Distinguished Fellow, he'll draw what the foundation's director call "A very comfortable stipend."

Undersecretary of State Nicholas B. Katzenback, the former attorney general, who was a law professor before he came to Washington, will become vice president and general counsel of IBM in New York.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has accepted the presidency of EDP Technology, Inc. in Washington.

Stewart L. Udall, secretary of Interior, plans to set up a law firm with offices in Washington and Phoenix. When asked, he doesn't deny he might run in 1970 for the U. S. Senate seat of Republican Paul J. Fannin.

The secretary of housing and urban development, Robert C. Weaver, becomes president on Jan. 1 of New York City's new Bernard Baruch College.

Wilbur J. Cohen, secretary of health, education and welfare, will return to the University of Michigan, where he taught public welfare until he joined the Kennedy administration in 1961.

Secretary of Commerce C. R. Smith, who was drafted by Johnson upon his retirement as president and board chairman of American Airlines, Inc., has only revealed that "I won't be around Washington on Jan. 20."

Other cabinet officers have said even less about their plans, but none are expected to need CARE packages.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, former law partner of the late Adlai Stevenson, has had a number of offers and probably will stay in Washington, but says he doesn't know what he will do.

Postmaster General Marvin Watson, Attorney General Ramsey Clark and Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd also say they don't know—or aren't talking.

One of Johnson's key men at the White House, special assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr., 37, will join the large and prestigeladen Washington law firm of Arnold and Porter.

But Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen of the Internal Revenue Service, 41, who quit Arnold and Porter to enter the government, plans to set up his own law firm.

White House press secretary George Christian plans to return to Austin for public relations work. Another press aide, Tom Johnson, expects to go right on working for Johnson, as executive assistant.

Chaining the Title

In the Becker County Record, contents of two letters regarding real estate dealing and the red tape of doing business with the government make for interesting reading. We reprint the summary and letters as follows:

A Southern lawyer applied to the FHA requesting a loan for a client. The FHA asked for an abstract of title to the Louisiana property involved. The lawyer traced the title back to 1803 and submitted the abstract and application for the loan to the FHA. He received the following letter in reply:

"We received today your letter enclosing application for your client, supported by abstract of title. Let me compliment you on the able manner in which you have prepared and presented the application. We have observed, however, that you have not chained the title back of the year 1803 and before final approval it will be necessary that the titles be chained back of that year.

Yours truly,

The lawyer called his secretary and dictated the following letter to the FHA.

"Gentlemen:

"Your letter regarding titles received. I note you wish titles to extend further than I have presented them.

"I was unaware that any educated man failed to know that Louisiana was purchased by the United States from France in 1803. The title of the land was acquired by France by right of conquest from Spain. The land came into possession of Spain by right of discovery made in 1492 by a Spanish-Portuguese sailor named Christopher Columbus, who had been granted the privilege of seeking a new route to India by the then reigning monarch, Queen Isabella.

"The good Queen, being a pious woman and careful (almost as careful, I might say, as the FHA), took the precaution of securing the blessings of the Pope of Rome upon the voyage before she sold her jewels to help Columbus.

"Now the Pope, as you know, is the emissary of Jesus Christ, who is the Son of God, and God, it is commonly accepted, made the world. Therefore, I believe (it is safe to assume that He also made that part of the United States called Louisiana, and I hope to hell you're satisfied."

Prowler Cagers Drop Third Straight Friday

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

A 27-point production in the second period of play enbled Littlefork-Big Falls to enjoy a 41-25 lead at half time as they handed the Thief River Falls Prowlers their third straight loss 71-50 at the Lincoln high school gym Friday night.

For the Vikings from District 29, it was their seventh win of the season and sixth in a row, their only loss coming to Bemidji, the Prowlers' next foe on Friday night. The loss for the Prowlers was their third straight and evened their season record at 4-4.

The Prowlers were in the game until the mid-point of the second period as they trailed 22-20 before the Vikings caught fire and upped the lead to 31-20 before Dan Brodin scored for the Prowlers. After Brodin's basket the Prowlers hit another cold spell and fell behind 38-22 before Sheldon Joppru tallied a free throw to make it 38-23. The Vikings added three more points to the Prowlers' two by the time the buzzer ended the first half with the Vikings having a commanding 41-25 lead.

In the third period the Vikings cooled off as they only tallied nine points, but the Prowlers were just as cold as they only could tally 12 points to close the gap to 13 points, 50-37.

The final period of the game found two Prowlers fouling out of the game, as Tony Johnson and Steve Edlund collected their fifth fouls of the contest. One Viking fell by way of fouls during the contest as center Eric Rasmussen collected his fifth in the final period.

The contest was poorly played by the Prowlers, who were unable to stop the outside shooting of the Vikings. The Vikings placed four of their starting five in double figures with the other tallying nine points in the victory. The Prowlers managed to place three in double figures for the contest.

Taking scoring honors were Rasmusson of the Vikings and Joppru for the Prowlers, as they each tallied 16 points. Others in double figures for the Vikings were Roe Treat, 14; Bob Gordon, 13; and Lee Tufvander, 11. The fifth starter, Curt Buymeister, tallied nine points. Besides Joppru in double figures for the Prowlers were Dan Brodin with 11 and Don Balmer with 10 points.

Next action for the Prowlers will be Friday night as they meet the Bemidji Lumberjacks at Lincoln high school gym. The Lumberjacks Friday night showed good scoring as they trounced Crookston 81-41 on the Pirates home court. In that game on Friday night the Prowlers will be out to snap a three-game losing string.

'B' Squad Game

Thief River Falls junior varsity posted their fifth win of the season against one loss on Friday night as they halted a fourth period rally by the Littlefork-Big Falls junior varsity and won the game 46-41.

The junior Prowlers jumped to a 13-4 lead at the end of the first period as Tim Olson and Pat Hamilton tallied four points each in the period. The junior Vikings came back in the second period to close the gap to 23-18, but the Prowlers extended their lead to 34-27 at the end of three periods.

The junior Vikings then caught fire in the final eight minutes and closed the gap to three points at 44-41 before Dale Hanson and Tim Olson each tallied a free throw to give the junior Prowlers the edge 46-41.

Hamilton, starting in his first contest for the junior Prowlers, was high scorer for the Prowlers with 10 points. Mike Hamerlinck, Olson and Hanson each added nine. Jerry Pallinen paced three players in double figures for the Vikings with 11 points, taking scoring honors for the game.

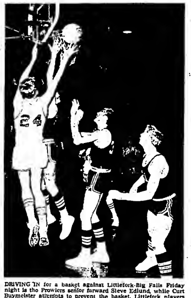
Waiting for possible rebounds are Mike Hamerlinck and Dale Hanson, Thief River Falls, and Rodney Davis of Littlefork-Big Falls. The junior varsity posted its fifth win of the season against one loss as it defeated the Viking junior varsity 46-41.



DRIVING IN for a basket against Littlefork-Big Falls Friday night is the Prowlers senior forward Steve Edlund, while Curt Buymeister attempts to prevent the basket. Littlefork players looking on are Jerry Pellinen (33) and Roe Treat (21). The loss to the Vikings evened the Prowlers record at 4-4.

Times' Sport Spotlight

GAME OF THE WEEK

by Bob Wielinski

Taking a look at the 10 different schools that I cover before the action begins after the holiday season, we see McIntosh and Newfolden leading the pack with 5-1 records. It is also surprising that the two leaders have only one player each in the top 10 scoring leaders of the 10 schools. Mark Schimanski, McIntosh, leads in scoring with one game missing, that being the scoring results of the Scots loss to Fosston. Clyde Strandquist of Newfolden is tenth.

McIntosh is the leading offensive team, averaging 77.8 points per contest, while Newfolden is first in defense, allowing opponents on average of 44.3 points per contest. Gonvick has the least offensive punch as they are only averaging 49.4 points a contest, while Erskine has the worst defensive record this year by allowing an average of 64.1 points per contest.

Goodridge, with a 4-1 record, has the second best offensive punch in the 10 schools with an average of 66.8 points per contest, while Middle River is next in scoring at 66.4 points per contest.

Surprising teams this year in the area are Goodridge, Middle River and Plummer. All three were expected to be down after last year, but have proven that they will be the teams to beat in the future. The Huskies have defeated Fisher, a squad that was a favorite to capture the polar conference crown, but thus far has dropped two games in loop play.

Newfolden, on the other hand, must come up with some outside scoring to keep in contention for the North Border conference title and District 32 crown. The Skippers of Middle River, after losing all five of their starters from last year's squad that won the North Border conference title, have reeled off three straight wins after suffering losses at the beginning of the season to both the Huskies and Nordics.

Now that the holidays are over, a team to watch will be Clearbrook, which will have five of their starters from last year's team return to action. They were unable to play the first half of the season because of ineligibility. This addition to the Hornets will give them a well-balanced squad for the rest of the season. Only one of the starters right now is a senior and is the lone senior out for the squad.

Top Scorers

The top 10 scorers from the 10 schools covered show some impressive statistics, as 25 boys in the 10 schools are averaging in double figures so far for the season.

Leading the way is Mark Schimanski, McIntosh, with an average of 27 points per contest for five games. The Scots have actually played six games, but there has been no box score sent in on the Fosston game.

Schimanski, a 6-1 senior center, has tallied 54 field goals and 27 free throws for a total of 135 points in five games for the Scots. His highest point production came against Oklee when he set a new school record by scoring 37 points.

In second place is Brian Wiseth, Goodridge. A junior forward on the squad, standing at 5-11, he has scored 34 field goals and 13 free throws in four contests for the Huskies. His total is 81 points for a 20.2 average. He missed one game for the Huskies this year and is one of the main reasons that the Huskies have a 4-1 record.

Third place is held by Curt Jenson, Erskine, who in five games is averaging 19.6 points per contest at the center position for the Comets. Jenson has tallied 98 points on 38 field goals and 22 free throws.

Doug Martell, with a 37-point performance against Alvarado, is in the fourth position and scoring at a 19.2 clip for the Cardinals. Martell has scored 96 points on 39 field goals and 18 free throws.

In a tie with Martell for the fourth position is Rabie Super, Mentor, also supporting a 19.2 average in four games, as the box score for the Mentor-Gonvick game has failed to reach this office. Super has scored 77 points on 30 field goals and 17 free throws.

Rounding out the top five is Rick Stelle, Gonvick, with an 18.2 average in five games. He has scored 36 field goals and 19 free throws for a total of 91 points.

The other top four scorers in the top ten are Dave Ruud, Middle River, 18.0; Steve Radniecki, Oklee, 16.5; Gordy Engebretson, Clearbrook, 16.2; and Clyde Strandquist, Newfolden, 15.1.

Viking-Land Publishes New Tourism Book

First major promotional "lure book" for Viking-Land, USA, is now off the press. With a run of 90,000 copies, Viking-Land has entered the travel market with a brochure which will compete favorably in the highly competitive market for the travel dollar.

The Viking-Land lure book will be distributed at eight sport shows in the Midwest and Canada and through the department of economic development and other agencies. Further distribution will be from its regional office at Battle Lake.

The 8 and three-eighths x 10 lure book is in full color. It is designed not only to entice travelers to the 17-county northwestern Minnesota region, but also to encourage them to live here.

The favorable agriculture and industrial climate to be found in Viking-Land is portrayed as well as the historical background of the region. Fifteen counties and 45 municipalities are part of the 1968-69 promotional effort along with regional industries.

4 Starters Tally 82 Points

Northland Wins First Loop Game 104-92

By Daryl Augustine
Times Reporter

Northland state junior college Northmen swamped the Vermillion junior college of Ely Iron Men on Saturday afternoon in the Lincoln high school gym by a score of 104-92. Eight men, four from each team, tallied double figures in the high scoring game.

Four of coach Al Adams' starters scored double figures. Leading the group was Tom Super, sophomore from Mentor, with ten field goals and seven of eight free shots attempted for a total of 27. Nick Neibauer, a freshman and also from Mentor, was close behind Super with eight field goals and five free shots for a total of 21 points. Frank Dewey, freshman from Bagley, was next in line with seven field goals and four free throws for a total of 18. Dwight Jaros, freshman from Warroad, scored seven field goals and two gift tosses for his double figure of 16.

Roger Cardinal, freshman from Bohl, the fifth starter, made four field goals for a total of eight points.

Scoring big for the Iron Men and top of the game was Terry Erchul of Tower Soudan. Erchul made 12 buckets from the field and shot five for six at the charity line for a grand total of 29. Others scoring double figures for Vermillion were Jerry Chiabotti from Tower Soudan with 11 field goals and two free throws for a total of 24 points; Lon Lampa of Embarrass with five goals from the field and three from the charity line for a total of 13 points; and Gary Kilkin of Babbitt with four field goals and two free throws for 10 points.

Fools and free shots were almost equal. Each team had 21 fouls and the Iron Men had 30 free throw attempts to the Northmen's 32. The Northmen utilized their charity shots more by making 24 of the 32 or 78 per cent of the total. The Iron Men were able to drop only 18 of their 30 for 60 per cent.

Coach Adams was forced to change his starting line-up slightly. Gordon Eftefield, 6'3" forward and center freshman from Stephen, had to sit on the sideline, recovering from a case of the flu.

Roger Cardinal, who replaced Eftefield as a starter, was not a stranger to the starting five, however. Cardinal was in the first string of players in the first three games of the season for the Northmen.

The victory over Vermillion was a big win for the Northland cagers. The Triumph gave Northland a record of one win and one loss in conference play and broke a long streak of five games in a row.

The defeat was the second for the Iron Men. Prior to Saturday's game, the Vermillion cagers had a one-and-one record, losing only to Hibbing Junior college. Hibbing also scored 104 points against the Iron Men.

Next game for the Northmen will be Wednesday when the Northmen will again meet the University of North Dakota freshman team. The freshmen dumped the Northmen in the game held at the university field house on December 11 by a score of 70-59. Coach Adams is hoping to counter act the lose when the freshmen meet the Northmen on the Northmen's home court in Lincoln high school. Startng time for the game is 7:30 p.m.

Thief River Falls Prowler wrestling squad traveled to Grand Rapids on Saturday to take part in the 11th annual Grand Rapids Indian Invitational wrestling meet and placed a surprising fourth in a field of eight at the tournament.

Finishing first for the 11th straight time was the host school, Grand Rapids, as they finished with 108 points, eight better than runner-up Anoka with 100. Aitkin was third, followed by the Prowlers, with 87 and 77 points respectively. Warren was fifth with 62, Hibbing sixth with 59, Greenway seventh with 50 and Superior finished last with 40 points.

The Prowlers in the meet had one champion, one second place finisher, three thirds, three fourths one fifth and a sixth place finish for their 7 points.

Winning the only championship at the tournament was 145-pound Tom Duke, who reached the finals by defeating opponents from Hibbing, Superior and Greenway. Tom, as the result of his win, is the only Prowler wrestler to remain undefeated so far this season.

Finishing second was Tim Hoaas in the 165-pound division as he fell to Al Stenslund of Hibbing, the champion in that weight division.

Third place finishes were taken by Rick Nordhagen at 103; Tim Duke a 154 and Scott Vettleson at heavyweight. Finishing fourth were Eddie Furuseth at 112; Allan Taylor at 120; and Rod Peterson at 127; while a fifth place finish went to Curt Swanson at 133, while Tony Madunich was sixth at 165.

In the opening round the Prowlers advanced eight into the semi-finals with only two of them moving to the finals of the match, while the others dropped to third place and fifth place.

Tom Duke in the opening round decisioned Dennis Mischel, Warren, by a 7-0 score. He then moved against Butch Belck, Greenway, in the semi-finals and gained a 4-1 decision. In the finals he scored a 9-0 decision over Mike Borie of Superior.

Hoaas, who like Duke gained the finals, scored a first round decision over Carl Anderson, Aitkin, 8-1. In semi-finals he defeated Jim Hood, Warren, by a 6-1 score. In the finals Hoaas fell to Al Stenslund, Hibbing, by a 4-2 margin, for the 175-pound championship.

Teachers who have not earned nine quarter hours of credit since 1963 will remain at their 1967-68 salary level.

Tuition for nine quarter hours of credit will be paid by the school district for each teacher every four years, effective in 1968.

68-69 Salaries Listed Together With Activities

Negotiations will open tonight between the Thief River Falls board of education committee and the local teachers' negotiating council. The session is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the superintendent's office in Lincoln senior high school, and will herald the beginning of talks to determine the salary schedule for the 1969-1970 school term.

The Times has requested and secured from the office of the superintendent of schools a listing of the personnel presently in the district, and for whom salaries for the next school year are being negotiated. This list, including names, degrees, experience, base pay, extra pay and total salaries, is published in this article in the public interest.

Also published is the salary schedule (see tabulation at left) adopted for the 1968-69 school term in March of 1968. The schedule shows the various lanes of education and steps of experience which determine the base salary paid for this school term. It is this type of a schedule—however, modified through negotiations—which will be discussed by the school board and teacher representatives.

It is expected that the teachers' council will present tonight its proposal for the 1969-1970 salary schedule. Last year the base pay for a teacher with a BA degree and no previous experience was raised from $5,200 to $6,000 for the nine-month school term. A review of the salaries of teachers, counselors, librarians, attendance director, nurse, social worker and therapist—all of whom are covered in the negotiations—shows that 12 of the 168 people listed are at the $6,000 minimum. Of these 12, six do not receive additional compensation for other activities.

Old-Fashioned Yule Party Given By Mrs. Peterson

An old-fashioned Christmas motif formed the setting for the Circle One Christmas party held recently at Viking at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Peterson.

Enhancing the motif was a Christmas tree dreamted like the ones Mrs. Peterson saw as a child. Hung with polished apples, oranges, bits of bright ribbon and colored papers cut into fancy designs, the tree featured strings of popcorn and old-fashioned twisted candles in individual holders. A homemade wooden stand supported the tree.

The party included a program with the singing of Christmas carols by the group. Mrs. Oscar Hjelle presided at the organ. Mrs. Gene Nelson presented the Bible lesson and the offering collected was designated for missionary work in foreign fields. During the brief business meeting, all officers were re-elected to serve for another year.

For the festive luncheon that followed, president Mrs. Olger Foss poured. Candles and a Christmas centerpiece graced the serving table. In keeping with the old-fashioned Christmas theme the lunch featured the traditional Scandinavian delicacies of flat bread, lefse, krumkake and etc., all baked by Mrs. Petersen, 81, who has been confined to a wheel chair for the past few years.

Members of the circle present, in addition to Mrs. Foss, were Mrs. Melvin Grandstrand, Mrs. Manda Znerold, Mrs. William Forsberg, Mrs. Mabel Tostrup and Mrs. Harold Kagg. Attending as guests were Mrs. Leonard Larson, Mrs. Frank Anderson and Miss Ethel Locke. As they arrived, each was presented with a small Christmas corsage.

Viking Garden Club To Meet January 15

Feeding Birds in Winter will be the topic at the Viking Town and Country garden club meeting scheduled for Wednesday, January 15, at 2 p.m., at the Arthur Grandstrand home. A discussion period will follow the topic. Mrs. Grandstrand will serve as hostess.

The club's program for the year was planned recently at the Arne Samuelson home when Mrs. Samuelson hosted the officers and their husbands.

Local Fire Loss Only $14,800 During 1968

Eighty-eight fire calls were answered by the Thief River Falls fire department during 1968, according to Roy Langevin, Thief River Falls fire chief. The calls were answered in the city of Thief River Falls and in North and Rocksbury townships, which are both served by the local department.

Total losses during 1968 from fires were estimated at $14,800. Of this total, North and Rocksbury suffered about $3,000. They included a hay stack struck by lightning, a combine motor and tractor wiring fires. A total of 20 alarms were answered by the fires department in the townships and 13 of these were within a 30-day period last spring.

Largest loss for the year in Thief River Falls was a house located on West Sixth street and owned by Mrs. Wm. Forsts, with an estimated loss of $4,800. Next in line was a truck owned by Midland co-operative and valued at $4,000, and Johnnie's Hamburger shop on Main ave., estimated at $2,800.

Examples of the types of alarms answered by the local fire department are faulty stoves and furnaces, appliances, grass fires, cigarettes dropped into chairs, sofas and beds, rubbish, small children playing with matches, etc. Fire calls were also caused by electric motors, car fires, gasoline spills, welding sparks and smoke scares. Chief Langevin listed roasts and toast burning in ovens and contact glue igniting from electric sparks as the most peculiar fires.

Fire losses in Thief River Falls for the past five years are as follows: 1963—$37,000; 1964—$3,000; 1965—$50,520; 1966—$9,000; 1967—$14,825; and 1968—$14,800, for a total of $126,145.

The national per capita fire loss is $7.10 per person, which would allow an annual loss for Thief River Falls (with an estimated population of 8,000 residents) of about $59,200 per year or $296,000 for the past five years. Thief River Falls' fire loss of $126,145 is $169,855 under the national fire loss average.

There were no local drownings and no local fire fatalities. The department did, however, assist the Red Lake Falls fire department with the recovery of the bodies of two brothers drowned in the Red Lake river.

School Officials To Attend 1969 MSBA Conclave

"The School Board's Role in Today's Society," is the theme to be discussed by over 3,000 school board members, superintendents, school business officials and other leaders in public education during the 1969 state convention of the Minnesota School Boards association.

This 48th annual convention will be held in the St. Paul auditorium on January 13, 14 and 15. Registration and the opening of exhibits will be at 8:30 a.m., Monday, January 13. Local school officials are expected to be in attendance.

W. A. Weltergren, executive secretary of the MSBA, has released this year's program which features 22 prominent national and state guest speakers, including three outstanding high school seniors.

Speaking to the delegates at group meetings will be Bruce Bauer, Osseo school-community relations director; Walker State Representative Robert Renner; Dr. Clifford Hooker, University of Minnesota consultant; MSBA counsel Peter Popovich; Jim Anderson, consultant to Minnesota independent insurance agents; and Jos. McDermott, project development director for Channel 2.

Monday evening's session will feature a panel discussion by four legislators, followed by a question and answer period on "The 1969 Legislative Session and the Public Schools." State Representatives Roy Schulz, Mankato, and Salisbury Adams, Wayzata, along with State Senators Karl Grittner, St. Paul, and Stanley Holmquist, Grove City, will make up the panel.

Philip Duff, editor of the Red Wing Republican Eagle; David Roe, Minnesota AFL-CIO president; Russell Schwandt, Minnesota's commissioner of agriculture; Robert Tucker, representing the Minnesota assolation of commerce and industry; and George Sommers of the Upper Midwest research and development council, will give their views on "As I See the Needs of Public Education."

University of Minnesota President Malcolm Moos will address the convention Tuesday afternoon.

Speaking at the banquet Tuesday night, in the auditorium's Stem hall, will be Governor Harold LeVander and Minneapolis Star Columnist Jim Klobuchar. The Minnesota Education association will also present its "Outstanding School Board Member Award" during the banquet.

Wednesday morning's final session will be the business portion of the convention. Delegates will discuss and vote on the resolutions submitted to the convention by the association's delegate assembly. This session will determine the legislative policy of the associaton for the coming year.

UM Offers Seed Rights on New Fox Bromegrass

Crop variety review committee of the University of Minnesota agricultural experiment station voted recently to offer exclusive foundation seed rights on the new variety of smooth brome grass.

The variety is named Fox and originated in a breeding project conducted by H. L. Thomas of the university's department of agronomy and plant genetics. It is a synthetic variety produced from five clones.

According to William F. Hueg, experiment station director, the new variety was released last June for further seed increase. It was made available to Minnesota seed growers and dealers, and to experiment stations and foundation seed programs in other states of the North Central region.

"Since there were no requests for foundation seed on the basis of this general release," Hueg explained, "The committee decided to offer exclusive release to a single seed company, growers' association or similar group."

He explained that this does not represent a change in experiment station policy concerning release of new varieties. Exclusive release of this variety is offered because there appears to be no interest on the part of growers or companies in a general release arrangement.

Any company or association interested in obtaining exclusive release of this variety should contact Hueg at 200 Coffey Hall, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minn. 55101.

Bromegrass is one of the principal perennial grasses used in Minnesota for hay and pasture. The new Fox variety is superior to other available bromegrass varieties in seedling vigor and resistance to leaf spot. In Minnesota tests it has been equal to Lincoln in yield and is similar in maturity.

Widows and children of veterans with service after Aug. 4, 1964, are eligible for pensions on the same basis as those of veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean conflict.

ASCS Activities

by Wallace Sparby, Manager

The 1969 feed grain program has been announced. Signup will begin on Monday, February 3, and will end on Friday, March 21, for both feed grain and wheat.

Basically the program is the same as in 1968. If you have a base of 25 acres or less you will be able to divert the entire 25 acres. The first 20 per cent of acreage diverted will be paid at 20 per cent of the total support rate times yield on your farm and at the regular 45 per cent payment rate on the remaining acreage diverted to a conserving use such as summer fallow.

Substitution provisions relating to wheat and feed grain acreage will be continued. Barley is included in the 1969 feed grain program as announced earlier. Malting barley will not be exempted from these diversion requirements.

Determinations on advance payments, substitute crops and other details have not been announced to date.

The national loan rate on barley has been lowered from 80 cents in 1968 to 83 cents per bushel for 1969. The barley price support payment per bushel will be 20 cents and this will be based on planted acreage up to one-half the farm base times projected yield.

Prior to sign up we will have more details for you on this program in this column.

Last Saturday and Sunday I had my first opportunity to do some snowmobile racing and found it to be a real thrilling experience. The competition in the sport is great. I hope that you will have an opportunity to see a competitive event some time this winter. It is amazing what those snowmobile machines are capable of performing. I truly found out I was not in the best of hysical condition when I had completed the cross-country course. Snowmobiling is a lot of fun; try it some time if you have an opprtunity.

State Looks To Income Tax for Bulk of Revenue

State income taxes provided the bulk of state tax revenue in Minnesota and 14 other states in fiscal 1968, according to Charles P. Stone, executive director of the Minnesota Taxpayers association.

"Individual and corporate income taxpayees in Minnesota contributed 42 per cent of all of the tax revenues collected by the state government in the 12-month period ended last June 30," Stone said, citing figures from the December 17 issue of 'State Tax Review', a Commerce Clearing House publication.

"Minnesota was one of 15 states in which the income tax brought in more state tax revenue than any other levy. In all states levying income taxes the total 'take' was $8¾ billion, an increase of 22.8 per cent over the previous year.

"In 32 states general sales and gross receipts taxes were tops in revenue productivity, turning in $10½ billion, an increase of 17 per cent over the previous year."

In all 50 states, Stone said, the total of state tax collections soared 14 per cent to a record high of nearly $36 billion.

"Minnesota's collection of state-levied taxes in fiscal 1968 increased 23½ per cent over the previous year," Stone said, noting that only three other states—Nebraska, California and Wyoming—recorded greater increases. "Much of the increase in Minnesota taxes levied at the state level stemmed from imposition of a three per cent sales tax as a part of a tax reform program, and was offset by substantial reductions in property taxes paid at the local level by home owners and businesses."

damages resulting from pipe line installation last summer. Joe Seidel, county highway engineer, had determined that damages totaling approximately $6,150 had been done to roads and ditches by the Fulton company in laying pipe during the summer. No settlement was reached on the county claim.

The board also ordered that bills for snowplow service to individuals be paid with service to be discontinued until the payment is made.

With business on the agenda uncompleted at adjournment, the board recessed until 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday (today). Primary consideration at the continued session is being given to salaries for county employees.

Start Negotiations On Salary Schedule

Base salaries total $7,375,118 with an additional $33,129 paid for activities or extra classes for a total of $1,408,247. This excludes $2,100 in dependency allowance paid to 40 persons who are heads of household, since the dependency allowance is being phased out and the last phase is being paid in 1968-69.

In obtaining the salary report, the Times was informed that there may be current contract changes resulting from advanced study by individuals, but that these are minor in relation to the total salary picture. It was also noted that certain vocational school teacher salaries are under federal subsidy and may be paid up to 100 per cent with non-district funds.

Saint Mary's College Will Register Coeds

Board of trustees of Saint Mary's college, Winona, has announced that the college will accept women students at the undergraduate level beginning next September.

In making the announcement, Brother I. Basil Rothwell, chairman of the board, asserted that, 'the question of coeducation for the college has been under consideration for the past year. The matter was brought to the board in a recent recommendation by the faculty that the college accept applicants for the 1969-70 academic year without regard to sex."

The proposal, made after examination by a faculty committee, stated that "there appears to be no educational or corporate reason for maintaining a segregated undergraduate admission policy. There are numerous examples of private men's and women's colleges which have successfully implemented a coeducational program. Such a policy is dictated by modern demands for the continued betterment of the college."

This is nearly five times the average of about nine pounds lost per member during the year, since the club recorded a net loss of 711½ pounds during 1968. Many members, however, were not in the club for the full year.

What Is Your Window Problem?

High fashion styling makes tall tandem windows part of a room's decor.

Windows, like people, come in all shapes and sizes. Nearly every home has at least one "problem" window, that is, a window or group of windows that seems to defy all efforts to decorate it.

Marie Graber, author of the "First Official Window Decorating Guide," points out that even the narrowest, tallest, most poorly proportioned tandem window takes on new high fashion width, dimension, and balance when you use a special treatment.

Treat tandem windows as a unit to attain the balancing width, as in this elegant use of cinched and tieback draperies over panel sheers. You can do it all on a double curtain rod, only one set of brackets needed.

An exciting variation of the tandem tall window treatment with variations adds to your room's decor. You can create the ultimate in high fashion decor with a pair of 1⅜" decorative cafe or café traverse rods. These distinctive decorator fixtures, in your choice of antiqued finishes, set the mood for luxurious cafe-type draperies. These rods can be used in combination so that under draperies traverse while the over draperies remain stationary or viceversa! Over draperies can be accented with tassels or fringe. "Under" draperies hang from ¾ height to the floor.

A stunning combination . . . sheer traversing under draperies are framed with heavier contrasting over drapes and a crisp pleated valance to hide those truly troublesome double windows. The key to success with apparent problem windows lies in creating a whole new atmosphere, turning a distracting structural element into a pleasing focal point.

"...didn't even know she was married"
Well, she's married all right. You could have read about it a year ago on page six. Her wedding announcement was printed in the same newspaper that recorded her parents' wedding, her birth, her graduation, and now the beginning of another generation.
When each of these events took place they were duly noted and set down in permanent print in the continuing record of your community. From birth and death announcements to chronicling the mighty events of war and peace, newspapers have been printing the facts in America since pre-Colonial times. And if you believe that "printing the facts" is easy, you should sit in an editor's chair, sometime.
If it's in print it stays there. It can be checked and double-checked. It forms a permanent record. It's not chatter in the air, loose talk ". . . whose edge is sharper than the sword, whose tongue outvenoms all the worms of Nile, whose breath rides on the posting winds . . . ," as Shakespeare put it.
You may take this service lightly. You should live, then, in a community without a newspaper. You would probably find that, without the modifying force of printed news, the winds of slander and controversy would be blowing pretty hard.

More Information About Sodium Chloride and the Pheasant

A recent column commented about the possible dangers of Sodium Chloride (as used on winter roads) to the pheasant. We have a letter from Maynard Nelson, Asst. Supervisor of the research section of game of the Conservation Department of the State of Minnesota. Here is some very interesting information:

"In regard to your concern about the possible poisoning of pheasant by sodium chloride, I know of no such instances in the United States. I recall it having been reported in Wisconsin some years ago that a few cottontails were killed. However, I am quite certain that it doesn't happen to pheasant because the pheasant has surprisingly good sense of taste, and I believe that they would reject any grit containing appreciable amounts of salt."

"We know, for example, that they can selectively pick grit high in calcium when they need it for egg laying. Also we have learned that in penned experiments they will avoid consuming fertilizer. This was an emphatically demonstrated in a study a couple of years ago. Fertilizer was mixed with the food in the water. Some birds died of thirst rather than consume water saturated with this fertilizer."

"For your information, I am also sending a copy of a booklet prepared by the Conservation Department, "The Rugged Ringneck". I hope that you will find this publication to be both interesting and informative."

Sincerely yours,
Maynard Nelson

Section of Game

In Memoriam

In memory of Lawrence Gilbert who passed away one year ago Jan. 4, 1968.

He little thought when leaving home
He would return no more,
That he in death so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.
We do not know what pain he bore
We did not see him die
We only know he passed away
And could not say goodbye.

Sadly missed by wife Eloise and son Greg. 1t3p

Prowler Cagers Hope To Break 3 Strings Friday

by Bob Wislinski
Times Sports Writer

Friday night the Bemidji Lumberjacks, once powers in Region Eight basketball, invade the Lincoln high school gym to meet the Thief River Falls Prowlers. The Prowlers will try to snap three strings that the 'Jacks hold against them. Game time is set for 8 p.m. with the two 'B' squads doing battle at 6:30 p.m.

The first string that the Prowlers will be out to break is their current three-game losing string. The next will be to bring a victory over the 'Jacks under the direction of coach Whitey Olson. Third will be to snap a 17-game losing streak to the Lumberjacks that dates back to the 1960-61 season when the Prowlers stopped them 48-46 at Lincoln high school.

Since that date, on January 11 to be exact, the Prowlers have fallen in 14 regular season games to Bemidji and in three Region Eight games either in the opening round or in the finals.

This year may be a different story, if the Prowlers can stay healthy and the flu bug that has plagued them in the past three games is gone. But as of Tuesday, two of the Prowler starters were missing from practice because of the flu. The Lumberjacks before the Christmas holidays slumped to a 2-4 mark, but since then have walked to two straight wins over Crookston 81-41 and Cass Lake [illegible]. The Jacks have lost to Detroit Lakes and topped Littlefork-Big Falls, while the Prowlers have topped the Lakers and lost to the Vikings last Friday. If this is any indication, the Prowlers should have a tough battle on their hands. One factor in favor of the Prowlers will be that they will be playing in their own gym, while Bemidji has found in past years that Lincoln gym presents problems to them.

Against Cass Lake on Monday night, coach Bun Fortier started three seniors and two sophomores. This is no indication that he will start the same five against the Prowlers Friday night.

The five that started against the Panthers Monday night were Wayne Olson, 6-0 senior, guard or forward; Dwight Degerman, 5-10 sophomore guard; Tony Burke, 6-4 senior center; Greg Beaumont, 6-0 senior forward; and Allen Lyseng, 5-10 sophomore forward or guard. In that contest the Lumberjacks gained a 23-8 lead at the end of the first quarter and had a 54-14 lead at half time. Beaumont, Degerman and Burke were all in double figures at half time. The trio played little in the second half, as Beaumont tallied 18 points, 16 in the first half; Degerman had 17, 15 in the first half; while Burke tallied 10 points, all in the first half. The other sophomore; Lyseng, played most of the game and scored 11 points, seven in the opening two periods. Olson finished with four points, playing only two quarters. Top reserves are Dave Rose, senior, 6-0 forward or center, and Jerry Oelrich, senior forward at 6-0.

The Prowlers will just about be able to match the Lumberjacks in height but will be giving away pounds to the husky Lumberjacks. Olson indicated that barring the flu his starting line-up will remain as it has in the first eight games for the Prowlers. That means Sheldon Joppru, 6-2, who was elected as the squad's captain last Thursday, will be at center; forwards will be Don Balmer, only junior in the lineup, 6-1, and Steve Edlund, senior, 6-0; and guards are Tony Johnson, 5-6, and Dan Brodin, 5-10.

The Prowlers lost one of their top reserves during the holiday season as Mark Gustafson moved to Brainerd. Olson indicated on Tuesday that he will be using Dave Kildahl, Tim Olson and Darroll Rodahl in the action on Friday night if the need arises.

PROWLER NOTES—Joppru is the squad's leading scorer with a 19.6 average and is the top rebounder with 111. Balmer is averaging 11.1 points per game, while Edlund has a 10.8 average. He is also second in rebounds with 65 and leads in assists with 13. Joppru and Johnson have 12 assists each. Brodin is scoring just below double figures as the senior guard has a 9.2 average.

The 'B' squad will be after its sixth win of the campaign against a lone defeat. Monday night the younger Lumberjacks suffered their sixth straight loss as Cass Lake scored a 62-54 victory.

Icemen Host Roseau; Matmen on the Road

Both the Thief River Falls Prowler hockey and wrestling squads will be in action over the weekend with the wrestling squad traveling to Park Rapids on Friday night. The hockey squad will play host to the Roseau Rams on Saturday night with a full house expected at the city arena for this contest.

The wrestling squad, under the direction of coach Ed Krystosek, will travel to Park Rapids to meet the Panthers, one of the powers in Region Eight the past few seasons.

The Prowlers are fresh from a fourth place finish at the Grand Rapids Invitational last Saturday will try to get back on the winning trail as they have lost their last two dual meets. Between those two losses was a first place finish at the Sioux invitational at the University of North Dakota.

Captain Tom Duke, who has yet to lose a match in any competition this year, will lead the Prowlers against the Panthers. He picked up the Prowlers' only championship at Grand Rapids on Saturday. Although beaten last Saturday in the invitational, Eddie Furuseth, 112-pound grappler is unbeaten in five dual matches and will be out to increase that mark against the Panthers.

Others leading the way for the Prowlers and who are expected to pick up wins will be Tim Duk, Tim Hoaas and Scott Vettelson. Hoaas finished second in the tournamnt at Grand Rapids while the other two finished third for the Prowlers who tallied 77 points. The other positions on the Prowler wrestling squad are wide open with wrestle-offs to be held during this week.

Hockey Squad

In what is expected to be a crowded arena Saturday night, George Schlieff's Thief River Falls Prowler hockey squad will meet the defending Region Eight champion Roseau Rams.

The Prowlers will be after their fourth straight win and sixth overall this season. Against the Rams they will also be seeking their fourth straight shutout as Hallock, East Grand Forks and Baudette all have failed to score against Prowler goalies Jerry Owen and Dan Sullivan.

Roseau ranks third in Region Eight north half standings with a 5-1 record, while the Prowlers are second behind Moorhead in the south half of Region Eight with a 5-2 mark.

The Rams, after scoring four straight wins, have fallen since Christmas to Richfield, Mpls., Washburn, Warroad and Duluth East, while stopping St. Paul Johnson last Friday.

Meanwhile, the Prowlers have beaten Virginia, tied Mpls. Washburn and lost to Richfield, Bemidji and the Alumni.

Leading the Prowlers in scoring is Rick Holmes, co-captain, as the center has come up with the only hat trick so far. He has scored two goals in other contests and is one of the main leaders in assists. Others who have been scoring of late for the Prowlers are Cal Wickander, Dana Stromberg, Ron Runger, Rex Rugland and Bruce Broughton.

Prowler Notes: The top 15 hockey teams in the state are as follows: 1. Greenway, 12-2; 2. Mpls. Southwest, 8-0; 3. International Falls, 8-2; 4. Warroad 7-1; 5. Edina, 10-0; 6. Hibbing, 9-4; 7. Teaching About Change Is Role Of Grandparents

Grandparents can play an important role in the life of their grandchildren in teaching them about change—a far different role from that of grandparents of the past, many of whom were immigrants tied to the customs they left behind in the old country.

In today's changing society grandparents are men and women who have experience in incorporating new ways and new ideas. They are younger than those of previous generations, generally with years of vigorous living ahead. Instead of settling into retirement, they often launch into new activities.

Grandparents may well be the best people to teach their grandchildren about change, since as adults they have lived through so much change themselves—the first movies and airplanes, the first "talkies" and television, the first computers and satellites.

"With a lifetime of experience of how far we have come and how fast, grandparents can give children a special sense of sureness about facing the unknown to the future," says Ronald Pitzer, extension specialist in family life education at the University of Minnesota. "Having experienced so much that is new, they can keep a sense of wonder in their voices as they tell their grandchildren how something happened, what it was like the first time, and open their grandchildren's eyes to the wonder of what is happening now and may happen soon."

As men and women who are making new beginnings and developing new interests, today's grandparents can demonstrate to children that growing up is only one stage in a lifetime of growth. As in the past they represent continuity. But now, in a changing society, this continuity includes the future and acceptance of the unknown, according to the university family life specialist.

AUTO PLATE TREND

NEW YORK (a) — With this year's changeover by Idaho to aluminum for automotive license plates, 22 states plus the District of Columbia now are using the durable, lightweight metal.

Major economies are possible because of the metal's long service life, less costly mail distribution and handling, higher scrap value and reduced administrative costs.

Steve Boman Is Winner of Trip To Grain Meet

His 4-H record in crop production and marketing has won a trip for Steve Boman, 16, Twin Valley, to the national 4-H grain marketing conference in Chicago January 29-31. Boman has exhibited cattle at Northwest Dairy day in Thief River Falls for the past six years.

The conference, sponsored by the Chicago board of trade, is designed to help youth learn principles of marketing and to help give them the opportunity to take part in educational activities related to grain marketing and career studies.

Through his 4-H work the Norman county youth has attained registered seed grower classification with the Minnesota Crop Improvement association. He has carried the 4-H agronomy project for six years and is a member of the Norman county crop improvement association.

Interested in experimental work on his crops, he is now involved in increasing some special timothy seed from Holland. Steve is a freshman at the University of Minnesota technical institute in Crookston.

Bond Sales in County to Date Total $109,800

Sale of United States savings bonds in Minnesota totaled $61,337,000 for the 11-month period ending November 30, according to figures released by Rollin O. Bishop, state volunteer committee chairman. This figure represents a 1.8 per cent decrease when compared with 1967 sales.

Talking Bicycle Aids Bike Safety Program

A bicycle safety message has been carried to more than 40,000 school children in 11 southeastern Minnesota counties by "Mike," a talking bicycle which invaringly upstages its creator, Gerald R. Dickson, a Minnesota highway patrol safety education officer.

But Dickson doesn't mind. "I'm convinced that Mike can do a better job teaching youngsters bicycle safety than I was ever able to. He grabs and keeps their attention." So effective is Mike that the children spontaneously shout, "Goodbye, Mike," when Dickson retires him from the stage at the end of a program.

"Mike" is a Schwinn bicycle which has been equipped with a siren, flashing red light, a cassette tape recorder which gives "Mike" his voice, and other accessories.

The tape recorder, batteries, amplifier and other electrical equipment are housed in a special compartment fitted under the seat. A loudspeaker is attached to the front fork.

Dickson introduces "Mike" to his audiences by riding it into the school gymnasium or auditorium. Whenever possible Dickson arranges to have a teacher ride a regularly-equipped bike in first.

"Mike," with siren blasting and red light flashing, is greeted with shouts of delight. When parked on stage, "Mike" begins to talk, telling the youngsters they should learn to become bicycle "drivers" and not just riders. The 8½-minute message is accompanied by slides which illustrate the points made by "Mike,"—parking, single-file riding, signaling, obeying traffic signs and other safe riding rules.

For his spring school tour, he plans to have a conversation between himself and "Mike" on the tape.

"Mike" also has been a hit at service club and PTA meetings. He is transported on a special wooden frame which slides in and out of Dickson's station wagon.

Judging Events Are Planned at Minnesota Tech

February 1 has been set for a series of judging contests and other events to be held at the University of Minnesota technical institute at Crookston. The staff of the agriculture division is plannin this as a service in area 4-H clubs and FFA groups for observation, practice and selection of team members.

Eight different contests will be held. Each will be run according to 4-H and FFA state rules. The contest's areas are crop judging and identification, general livestock judging, dairy cattle judging, horticulture identification and judging, potato judgin cow-clipping, farm mechanics and wildlife identification. Appropriat trophies and ribbons will be awarded to high team individuals in each contest.

Participants, instructors, coaches and other school personnel are invited to the day. All visitors will be guests of the collee and are invited to attend a basketball game between Minnesota Tech and Mesabi state junior college in the afternoon.

Search for Truth Is Answer to What Science Is

By Bill Hafling
University of Minnesota
Science Writer

"Scientific management," "scientific" business and "Scientific" farming, as well as such things as the "science of plumbing," are included in the news today—side by side with stories of scientific progress in areas such as space and medicine.

With everything so "scientific" these days—have you ever wondered just what science is?

In interviews with scientists at the University of Minnesota, trying to answer this one question often leads to long discussions. No one seems able to agree, yet oddly enough researchers in fields ranging from astronomy and physics, through psychology and zoology, often come up with the same general characteristics as to what science is. Their answers match the range of thought given the subject by great scientists over the centuries.

If a dictionary definition of science does not satisfy you, you may be "scientific" minded enough to want to search for more than mere definitions, factors, rules or regulations about what science is.

You may only be satisfied by attempting to get that "feeling for" and "awareness of" science which can make a top scientist unable to answer very quickly when someone asks him, "What is science?"

Science, to Sir Isaac Newton, the great english mathematician, consisted of a very sincere search for truth about the universe, based on a fundamental belief in an underlyin order in that universe.

Warren Weaver, a scientist of our time, writes, "Science is an adventure of the human spirit. It is essentially an artistic enterprise, stimulated largely by disciplined imagination, and based largely on faith in the reasonableness, order and beauty of the universe of which man is a part."

Now reread what Weaver has to say. Underline such words as "human," "artistic," "faith." Have such words occurred to you before when you've thought about the meaning of science? Perhaps you disagree with their use in defining science—there are people who do.

On the other hand, words such as "reasonableness" and "order" get a lot of votes from people when they talk about science.

NEW YORK (a) — More aluminum is being used in new cars than ever before but if you're a new car owner you're probably noticing it less.

The explanation is that while use of aluminum in auto trim and accessories has declined slightly because of styling changes, it has increased in under-the-hood items, notably transmissions and engines.

Dental Service Corp. to Start Pre-Paid Plan

Formation of a dental service corporation to underwrite and administer group prepaid dental care programs in Minnesota was unanimously approved by the Minnesota State Dental association house of delegates at a special meeting on December 14 in Minneapolis, according to Dr. Kenneth J. DeVilliers, MSDA president.

Formation of the new organization, which will be called the Minnesota Dental Service corporation, was ordered by the house of delegates by its approval of a resolution prepared by the association's dental health care committee and submitted by its chairman, Dr. Lyle A. Brecht, Minneapolis.

"Upon its incorporation, the Minnesota Dental Service corporation will operate as a not-for-profit service plan sponsored by, but separate from, the state dental association," Dr. DeVilliers said.

"It will be able to contract with corporations, labor organizations and other consumer groups to provide their employees and members with dental care coverage on a prepaid basis.

"The new service corporation, when it is activated, also will be able to serve as administrator and fiscal intermediary for publicly funded dental care programs throughout the state," he added.

Enabling legislation to permit establishment of the dental service corporation was enacted during the 1963 session of the Minnesota legislature.

Dental service plans are sponsored by state dental societies and operate on a statewide basis similar to plans which administer prepaid medical care programs.

At present there are 23 dental service plans in the U. S. actively providing or administering dental care programs for approximately 1.5 million Americans.

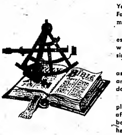
Too close for comfort



Here's a photograph taken from a kayak. You don't bring a ship this close to an iceberg! For underwater the tentacles of this cruel, cold monster may reach out a mile or more.

Life for some folks is a succession of narrow escapes. But these are adventures we can do without. They don't prove us bold sailors. They simply prove us poor navigators.

Frightened men sometimes turn to religion as a refuge when dangers—moral, spiritual and physical—loom too close for comfort. God does not fail us in crisis.

But the every-day function of faith is to pilot men on a true course through the sea of life. The Church cannot sweep away icebergs. It warns us of their whereabouts and helps us give them a wide berth.

Maxi-favorite for a mini-budget is good old fashioned meat loaf. Marvelously easy to shape and bake is this ground-beef mixture. Onion, salt and pepper are the simple seasoners. Bread crumbs are added as usual to keep the texture light. Secret of the juicy moistness is the binder—evaporated milk used just as it comes from the can. This double-rich milk blends the ingredients superbly and helps seal in natural juices during the baking.

For a festive and savory finish, spoon tomato sauce, catsup or barbecue sauce over the loaf for the last minutes of baking.

Favorite Meat Loaf

- 2 pounds ground beef chuck
- ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 tall can (13 fl. oz.) evaporated milk (1⅔ cups)

Mix all ingredients lightly but thoroughly. Press into a large loaf pan, or shape into a loaf in a shallow baking pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 1¼ hours. (If you like, spoon ⅓ cup tomato sauce, catsup or barbecue sauce over top prior to last 10 minutes of baking.) Cool loaf 5 minutes before slicing. Makes 8 servings.

Charity Ball Coming

With a history of past successes and approximately $3,000 contributed to local programs for retarded children, the eighth annual Mrs. Jaycees charity ball will be held on Saturday, January 25. The event has become something of a social highlight, and the cause which it serves is certainly a most admirable one.

Committees from the local Mrs. Jaycees chapter have been working on the various phases of their activity for some time. The group is small in number but large in spirit, optimism and determination. And the ladies in the organization work every angle possible to cut costs without reducing quality, thereby guaranteeing that the amount contributed to their selected charity is as large as possible.

With cooperation of several other groups which provided financial gifts to the cause, the Mrs. Jaycees last year contributed nearly $780 to the Thief River Falls day care center for retarded youngsters. Mrs. Roger Person, who is in charge of ticket sales for the 1969 ball, has set a goal of a $1,000 contribution this year. She just might make it, too.

To reach that attainable goal, however, public support will be needed. That means that persons who do not intend to attend the ball must purchase tickets to aid the cause. To those who consider this a sacrifice, consider the fact that the Mrs. Jaycees themselves, and their husbands, irregardless of the effort that they put forth in arranging and presenting the event, also pay their full admission to attend.

The price of a two dollar ticket isn't exactly sacrificial, for that matter, but the purchase will aid immensely in bringing a little more happiness into the lives of local retarded children.

There is one other point that the Mrs. Jaycees want to emphasize. They don't want the term "charity ball" to imply a formal event. Ladies who have formal attire and appreciate the opportunity to wear it are encouraged to do so. But any type of 'Sunday-go-to meetin' " or party dress is equally acceptable. Those who don't have formals needn't feel that they can't attend. The ball is intended to be a "fun" event for an evening of entertainment, not a fashion show or high society mixer.

In fact, many people attend each year even if they don't dance. The decorations—created, improvised or borrowed by the Mrs. Jaycees—are attractive, and the floor show program is highly entertaining. The music is good and the gathering provides an opportunity to meet and visit with old friends, and to meet and gain new acquaintances.

But above all, ticket purchase gives valuable help to a very worthy local charity. Theme for the ball this year is "Jewels in January". Be a real jewel and buy a couple of tickets to aid a worthy cause. And plan to attend if you can; you'll enjoy yourself.

Memos from Your Child

This list of hypothetical suggestions from a child was originally published in the Nevada Parent Teacher magazine:

1. Don't spoil me. I know quite well that I ought not to have all I ask for—I'm only testing you.

2. Don't be afraid to be firm with me. I prefer it; it makes me feel more secure.

3. Don't let me form bad habits. I have to rely on you to detect them in the early stages.

4. Don't correct me in front of people if you can help it. I'll take much more notice if you talk quietly with me in private.

5. Don't make me feel that my mistakes are sins. It upsets my sense of values.

6. Don't protect me from consequences. I need to learn the painful way sometimes.

7. Don't be too upset when I say "I hate you!" It isn't you I hate but your power to thwart me.

8. Don't take too much notice of my small ailments. Sometimes they get me the attention I need.

9. Don't nag. If you do I shall have to protect myself by appearing deaf.

10. Don't make rash promises. Remember I feel badly let down when promises are broken.

11. Don't forget that I can't explain myself as well as I should like. This is why I am not always very accurate.

12. Don't tax my honesty too much. I am easily frightened into telling lies.

13. Don't be inconsistent. That confuses me and makes me lose faith in you.

14. Don't put me off when I ask questions. If you do, you will find that I stop asking and seek my information elsewhere.

15. Don't tell me my fears are silly. They are terribly real, and you can do much to reassure me if you try to understand.

16. Don't ever suggest that you are perfect or infallible. It gives me too great a shock when I discover that you are niether.

17. Don't ever think it is beneath your dignity to apologize to me. An honest apology makes me feel suprisingly warm toward you.

18. Don't forget I love experimenting. I couldn't get on without it, so please put up with it.

19. Don't forget how quickly I am growing up. It must be very difficult for you to keep pace with me, but please do try.

20. Don't forget that I can't thrive without lots of understanding love, but I don't need to tell you, do I.

A Case Of Judgement

The following editorial comes from the Grand Rapids Herald-Review:

Apollo 8 astronauts gave millions of television viewers a breath-taking, highly emotional moment on Christmas eve when they solemnly read the story of creation from Genesis I in the Bible.

While Apollo 8 orbited the moon a quarter of a million miles from earth, Col. Frank Borman, Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Maj. William A. Anders took turns reading part of the scripture which begins, "In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth."

Nothing could have more effectively cut through the superficial tinsel and glitter which so often surround Christmas. Teamed with the surprisingly clear photographs of the moon, it was a remarkable enjoying some of its finest hours in the coverage of the spacecraft orbiting the moon.

Yet even as the tv industry demonstrates its maturity and technical competence, it is under fire from a National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence for the "steady stream of murder, rape, mayhem and sadism" in its programs.

It should be.

Spokesmen for the major networks reply that they have been trying to cut down on the excessively violent shows because "the public has become oversensitive to violence since the assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Senator Robert F. Kennedy."

There might be less cause for concern if adult audiences were the only ones exposed to the blood, sex and violence. But television has shown a remarkably ability to look the other way and schedule its most sensational productions at hours when millions of children are in the viewing audience. In fact, there are few hours of the tv day which do not carry their share of violence.

Dr. Walter Menninger, a famed psychiatrist, makes an interesting point when he suggests that tv networks should be required to study the effects of programs on the public, just as drug companies are obligated to determine the impact of their products.

Americans instinctively recoil from censorship and suppression of news and entertainment forms. No person or agency is qualified to tell the rest of us what we should watch or read. But it is becoming increasingly evident that the television industry has not shown much concern in policing its own problems. It wastes no time in cancelling high-quality productions which do not draw a sizable viewing audience, but it seems to find it difficult to shut off the flow of sensational motion pictures and programs of violence and sex.

Much of the concern comes from tv's scheduling of so many off-color productions during the hours when children form a large part of the viewing audience. Surely television has matured to the point where it can exercise better judgment.

While we chastise tv for its shortcomings, let us recognize that other forms of communications are not blameless. And certainly television does a brillant job of covering such memorable stories as the Apollo 8 voyage around the moon. No newspaper, magazine or radio station can duplicate the tremendous impact of seeing it happen on the screen.

But because of this attraction, the tv industry has the responsibility of making certain that its programs meet the standards of most of its viewers. Its problems are greatly exaggerated, really — there is nothing wrong with tv that a few network officials could not swiftly cure by using their authority and discretion. We hope they do it, for tv has become a vital part of the life of most American families. An industry capable of bringing us detailed coverage of Apollo 8 can surely keep its entertainment fit for viewers of all ages.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

What's this about taking the "Thief" out of Thief River Falls? Who ever heard of such a foolish move? Why that would be disastrous and spoil all the fun!

You know how it is when you meet someone from Minnesota and they say, "Where?" and you say, "Thief River Falls." And then they say, "Oh, you mean Teef River Falls." And then you both roar and you say, "That's right, I stand corrected . . . it's TEEF RIVER FALLS."

I ought to know, it's happened to me tousands of times.

Namely yours,
Stella Kordus

P.S. Your new presses are doing a beautiful job. Incidentally, we are getting the same new presses for our local Times paper.

Dear Editor,

In reading the Thief River Falls Times I seen a picture of 2 bucks locked in a death duel, and nature cheated area hunters out of a chance at these 2 huge bucks. Well as we see only one was dead, the other could have been saved had we had the right kind of conservation officers on the job that had actual experience, instead of sitting in a plush room, reading about wildlife, taking an State examination without any experience in the field, it is no wonder the sheep farmers from Fourtown on north to the border have to sell out their flocks as the wolfs are cleaning out sheep and deer. Now this one buck could have been saved by sawing off the horn on the one already dead, or if that wasn't possible, I know any one with any marksmanship at all could have shot one of the antlers off and freed the poor animal, as when the animal was strong enough to toss the other buck around he was still in good shape. If some of these conservation officers would get out in the back woods and check on these things like us hunters do, instead of sitting in a warm car with a 2 way radio trying to catch a poor farmer shooting a deer or a partridge maybe for his survival, which he has fed from his own grain field. I urge every sportsman to write their congressman to get the bounty back on the wolfs and also revise some of these silly game laws.

Yours Truly

Salary Proposal Is Offered Wednesday

SNOW FESTIVAL ROYALTY was introduced to the crowd attending the Bemidji-Prowlers basketball game Friday evening in the persons of Ron Runger and Sandy Ness. The senior students were selected in Lincoln high school balloting on a paid vote basis, with all proceeds to be contributed to the Pennington County United fund.

Meeting as a committee of the whole Wednesday evening, the Thief River Falls board of education received a 1969-70 salary proposal from the negotiating committee of the local school faculty. The schedule presented with an index schedule with request also made for health insurance, life insurance and income protection insurance for teachers within the district.

Appearing before the board were Ted Hellie, Bill Blankenfeld, Harold Wanle, Patrick Klemisch and Ed Sisler of the negotiating council, and Joe Forberg, chairman of the local MEA salary committee. All members of the school board were present, including Dr. George Martin, president, Robert Bredeson, Charles Samuelson, Dr. H. R. Achenbach, Mervin Prestebak, Morris Owen and Maynard Wedul. Lloyd M. Johnson, superintendent, and Francis Hamerlinck, administrative assistant, were also in attendance.

No attempt had been made by the negotiating council to compute the total cost of the school district on the index schedule presented council spokesmen Hellie and Blankenfeld said. Forberg estimated that the salary package presented for board consideration would increase salaries by approximately 30 per cent.

As presented Wednesday evening, the schedule contains eight lanes of educational level and up to 4 steps for years of experience. Salaries are proposed from a base of $7,600 for a teacher holding a BA degree with no experience to $15,200 maximum for a teacher with an MA degree plus 30 hours of additional credit and 14 years of experience. Spokesman for the teachers' council noted that the schedule was presented as a "starting point" for negotiations.

Dr. Martin informed the salary committee that it would take considerable time to determine increased cost to the district under the salary schedule submitted. He said that any proposals considered must be converted into dollars so that the board is aware of costs being discussed. The board will meet in regular session on Monday, January 27, and the next council is scheduled for Wednesday, January 29.

In addition to the salary schedule presented, considerable discussion was devoted to a printed copy of school board official policies. Members of the teachers' council presented a number of suggestions for change in the policies and Dr. Martin and Supt. Johnson explained the reasons for some of the policies.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. ALLEN LONGERBONE of Columbia Avenue

Homemakers who have members of the family coming home at different hours for their meals are constantly trying to vary the menu with dishes that can be kept hot for sometime without losing some of the flavor. Today's recipe for Hunters Stew Dinner, is especially suited for this purpose. It can be kept hot either on a low burner or in a slow oven and if the hot dish seems too dry, tomato juice or a little water may be added.

We are grateful to Mrs. Allen Longerbone of this city for sharing her recipe with us.

HUNTERS STYLE DINNER

- [illegible]
- 1 large onion
- 2 large stocks of celery
- 1 cup canned mushrooms
- 1 cup canned lima beans
- 1 cup canned kidney beans
- 3 cups tomatoes
- 7 oz. package spaghetti or egg noodles
- 1 chopped green pepper, optional salt and pepper, to taste

Method: Crumble hamburger, add chopped onion and celery and fry until meat is brown and onions are clear. Add other ingredients, together with the boiled spaghetti. Season to taste and simmer slowly or bake in a slow oven to blend the flavor.

Mrs. Longerbone stated that in her cooking, she generally uses red pepper in place of back pepper. This recipe is her husbands favorite. Whenever she is asked to contribute towards a meal or they unexpectedly go calling for the day, she makes this hot dish, and takes it with them. She feels that relatives or friends don't mind unexpected guests if you bring a contribution towards the meal.

The Longerbones live on Columbia avenue, just west of [illegible] two children, Joe, 5, and Julie, 6. The family enjoys gardening but their main interest is their church work. They are members of the Jehovah Witness group and plan their vacations to coincide with large church conventions.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larson and Karlene were Sunday evening visitors at the Donald Larson home of rural Holt. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Larson and Ronda were guests at the Orville Harstad home at Viking.

Daddy of them all

What remains to be said about Benjamin Franklin?

Insurance companies, magazines, sociologists, scholars, scientists, diplomats and businessmen all regard him as one of their own.

But Ben Franklin was a printer and newspaperman first, last and always.

Like so many publishers of newspapers today—particularly publishers of weekly newspapers—he was apprenticed as a printer in the trade at an early age. At 24 he became sole owner of the Pennsylvania Gazette, the largest and most successful newspaper in the Colonies. Later he branched out into other fields of publishing, started a chain of newspapers, and pioneered many publishing innovations (such as having newspaper correspondents) which have become common in the industry.

Ben Franklin always thought of himself as a printer and newspaperman. He never "lost touch" with the Pennsylvania Gazette. On his tombstone he directed that the words "Benjamin Franklin, printer . . ." be engraved. One of his many aphorisms about journalism still finds prominent place on the walls of newspaper offices: "That if all printers were determined not to print anything 'til they were sure it would offend nobody, there would be very little printed."

Ben Franklin proved that a newspaper run on sound business principles can both make money and perform a public service. He and his newspapers were basically different from earlier Colonial publishers and their newspapers. He made American journalism respected, a respect which has found formal place in the First Amendment to our Constitution.

Franklin showed intelligent young men what they can do, in newspaper work. Ever since his time, newspapers have provided generations of young men with a rich and satisfying life.

These were Franklin's own words, for his epitaph: "The body of Benjamin Franklin, printer (like the cover of an old book, its contents torn out, and stript of its lettering and gilding) lies here, food for worms! But the work itself shall not be lost, for it will, as he believed, appear once more in a new and more beautiful edition corrected and amended by the author."

Newspaper work is fast-moving and demanding. Those who have the background, brains and interest to keep up with it, find it to be—as H. L. Mencken said—a "three-ring circus." And newspapers today still serve as essential stepping-stones for those who later branch out into other related lines of work.

A Good Meeting

Introductory session Wednesday evening between the Thief River Falls board of education and the local teachers' advisory council was a very good meeting. It provided the conclusion that both groups are coming together in a true spirit of fulfilling the obligation, or apportunity, provided in the law to meet and confer.

Each side respects the position of the other, in that it must think, talk and act in response to the people it represents to the best of its ability. Each side also agrees that differences which may arise at the negotiation table should be carried no further than the negotiating table. This is entirely as it should be.

This writer was among those in attendance at the meeting but not participating in the discussion. This newspaper wishes to publicly compliment the teachers' council and the board of education for displaying an excellent cooperative spirit in conducting an open meeting. We believe a continuance of this attitude will do much to enhance the public image of both sides throughout the course of negotiations and, for that matter, throughout the year after settlement has been reached.

We do believe it is unfortunate that it was necessary—if, indeed, it WAS necessary—to adopt mandatory legislation in order to bring faculty and school board into a conversational relationship on matters relating to the local school district. We will concede that it perhaps was necessary, since that relationship apparently did not exist prior to action by the 1967 legislature.

We also believe it would be unfortunate if the meeting of teachers and school board members is confined to salary matters, although these matters must be resolved and therefore take precedence. To assure quality education—and this must not be forgotten as a goal—it is reasonable that the person imparting the education to students in the classroom should be permitted to present suggestions that would make that goal more attainable.

Negotiations seem to be underway in a proper perspective.

As History Turns

Donald E. Wildmon writes a column called "Whatsoever Things", and which offers some interesting "twists" to various items in the news. The following is one of the sample columns which he submitted to this newspaper:

Strange, sometimes, is the way history turns. And it turns like we humans make it turn most of the time. Too many times we learn bitter lessons from history. There is one on record that it might do well for us to recall.

In 1952 a probation officer in the Bronx of New York tried to find an adoption agency for a 12-year old boy. The man who was hunting the home for the youngster was named John Carro. He searched for an agency to take the boy. But he faced a problem. The boy was Lutheran.

New York law said that Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish agencies could not take the boy. Mr. Carro faced a losing fight in trying to find a place for the young lad. He told the story later.

"When I was a probation officer in the Bronx in 1952, I tried unsucessfully for a year to find an adoption agency for a 12-year-old Lutheran boy whose mother was ineffectual and whose father was dead," Carro said. "His case was reported to me because he had been truant," he continued. "All he wanted to do was to stay home and watch television instead of going to school. Because of the religious matching problem, I couldn't get him into a Jewish Institution, I couldn't get him into a Catholic Institution, and I couldn't get him into a Protestant Institution. Before I could do anything for him, the mother had taken him out of the state."

You know, we humans have a way of making some pretty silly laws when you boil it all down. And most of the laws like this one can be pinned down to someone's narrow prejudice. Our hatred often goes far beyond ourselves in affecting the lives of others around us. Sometimes our hatred drastically affects people we never see or never know.

Our world would be a much better place to live if we could rid it of our prejudice and hatred. Wars would cease, riots would end, and peace could abound. We would like to have all those things happen but we sometimes want to hold our narrow little hatred also. We want to have our cake and eat it too and any first grader knows this can never be.

There was a Man once who lived in an obscure little village that we know as Nazareth who tried to get us to rid ourselves of prejudice and hatred. He tried hard to get us to do that. It has been about 2000 years since He ended up on a cross in his efforts to end hate and prejudice and replace them with love and brotherhood.

If we had put His way into practice we could have found a home for that 12-year-old. And finding that boy a home might have changed history. You see, that boy's name was Lee Harvey Oswald.

Four-Letter Words

Indignation has been stirred throughout the nation by the use of "four-letter words" in college publications. Use of profane and obscene language seems to range from the alleged right to "tell it as it is" to the obvious attempt to use as much of it as possible in defiance of the "establishment".

"The Quill" magazine, published by Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity, contains an article by William Braden of the Chicago Sun-Times and entitled, "The Dirty-Word Fad". "Many college papers make free use of every four-letter obscenity in the language—and are even inventing new ones," Braden observes.

He then lists the position of a number of college editors in regard to use of "dirty" words in their publications. And we appreciate the quotes he attributes to Michael Walters, associate editor of the "DePaulia" at DePaul university. Walters' comments follow:

"We don't use dirty words in our paper." "We don't have to. We're fairly literate people, and we can always find a clean synonym if we think hard enough.

"We won't use a dirty word even if it is relevant, whatever that means. Any idiot can get up and swear, after all. What brain power does that take? I always thought a college was a place where literacy stands for something. So why not be literate?

"Some of these college papers. I wish their editors were a little less worried about substance and more about form. I mean, it would be nice if they knew how to spell and use punctuation.

"The filthy speech thing, I suppose it's part of this realism business. You know. Like realism in films is naked people. But that isn't really realism.

"You know what realism is? Realism is looking in a phone book and not being able to find the right number. Realism is blowing your nose. But nobody in the movies ever blows his nose.

"Dirt and filth aren't realism. They're just dirt and filth.

"Of course some of these words, if you use them rarely, can be quite strong—can really make a point. Like the man who never swears; and suddenly he hits you with one, and it really cuts. If we use these words all the time, eventually they won't shock us any more. And then maybe some of the old words will come back. Words like moron, for example."

Choice Should Be Theirs

The following editorial comment appeared in the Oklee Herald:

Mrs. Madalyn Murray O'Hair, the woman who initiated the movement against prayer in public schools, is riled up again because the Apollo 8 astronauts read from the Book of Genesis while broadcasting from their lunar orbit.

Mrs. O'Hair is opposed to prayer, period. She called Christianity a "minor religion" and said that there are more Moslems, more Hindus and more Buddhists than Christians.

Her arithmetic may—just may—be correct, but beyond that she would be better advised to stay in the kitchen. The lunar orbit mission of Apollo 8 was the greatest single scientific and technological accomplishment in all of history. It was exclusively an American achievement, with very little help from Moslems, Hindus, Buddhists or Mrs. O'Hair. The three great Americans who rode the capsule to the moon and back are Christians in a nation that is predominantly Christian.

They traveled a quarter of a million miles into the Great Unknown. Now, if they chose to read from the Book of Genesis, or from the Saturday Evening Post, the choice is rightly theirs. And their choice seemed appropriate, for their flight was as awesome as the Genesis account of creation.

We wonder what Mrs. O'Hair would have done if she had been along on the lunar mission and a vital system of the space ship had failed and there was no hope of return. Who knows, she might have been forced to pray.

"The most useful part of wisdom is for a man to give a good guess what others think of him. It is a dangerous thing to guess right." —Lord Halifax

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I have just received the January 1, 1969 issue of the Thief River Falls Times in which you had an editorial regarding the taconite lease extension negotiated with the Erie Mining Company. I feel that it is my duty to inform you of the facts relating to this item and to answer the question which you pose; "Why the rush. . .?"

I am enclosing a news release which you may not have received which I feel relates the correct facts regarding the lease extension. As you can readily ascertain, the terms of the lease during the extended period provide a very favorable return to the State of Minnesota; much better than most private leases.

To answer the question of "Why the rush. . .?" it is necessary to look at the history of this action. In 1957 (12 years ago) the legislature saw fit to pass a bill authorizing the extension of existing taconite leases for an additional 25 years. In passing this bill, the legislature authorized the Commissioner of Conservation, with the approval of the Executive Council, to negotiate the terms of the leases during the extended period. During the ensuing 11 years, the Department spent many hours negotiating with Erie Mining Company to obtain the most desirable terms possible and this past fall reached agreement with the company on terms which we feel are very favorable to the State of Minnesota. We thus recommended the approval of the Executive Council.

I think it is worthy to point out that taconite operations require a very substantial capital investment (over $350,000,000 by Erie Mining Company) and thus requires a great deal of planning to insure a continued operation. As a minimum, mining plans must be made 30 years in advance to insure adequate mineral reserves for continued operation. Unless adequate reserves can be assured, the company must seek other sources of mineral reserves; perhaps elsewhere in the United States or foreign countries.

I hope that this explanation has been helpful in providing you with a better background regarding the action on the lease extensions. Should you have further questions relating to this item, please feel free to contact me.

Yours very truly,
Eugene R. Gere, Director
Div. of Waters, Soils & Minerals
Minn. Dep't. of Conservation.

Enclosed is a check for our renewal of the Times. Though we have been away from the area for several years our families and many friends remain there and getting the Times is like a letter from home. The new type set you began was a great improvement.

There are many people here from the Thief River Falls area, in fact our postman is a native of Thief River. I work with a woman from Warroad and one from Oklee, our pastor is from Crookston. I guess we all feel a mutual "oneness" and very proud of our home town area. In fact when Thief River Falls shows up on our Milwaukee TV screen as the cold spot of the nation we all say "Thats where I'm from!"

Though we shall very likely remain residents of South Milwaukee, our "home town" will always be way up there in Minnesota where a little corner of our heart shall always remain.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Ronald F. Smith

Is a conservation officer wildlife's best friend? Sometimes yes, sometimes no. In regard to the photo and paragraph in the Times issue on Dec. 30 it should have stated that mother nature took the life of one huge beautiful magnificent buck, while the other one lost his life to the bullets of a "conservation" officer.

We farmers don't rely on tranquilizers to dehorn our cattle. All that would have been required was a well-aimed shot of a high powered rifle at one prong of the dead bucks antler to free the live one.

But there was the thought in mind. It was to have those heads as trophies had it not been for such an unnecessary act of a man this beautiful magnificent buck could still be free and roaming the woods and meadows of Elm Lake Wildlife management area.

Now those huge heads lie in the hands of a taxidermist waiting to be mounted and hung on a wall in the conservation officers den as a trophy.

Do you think this man should be called a conservationist? I think he should be called a trophy head hunter.

To Honor Farmer Sportsman At Sports Show

Minnesota's top farmer-sportsman is slated for honors at the Northwest boat, sports and travel show to be held at the Minneapolis auditorium and convention hall March 28 through April 6. The search is now on to select the man to be honored.

Twenty-one years ago this program, fathered by the late Ed Shave, was originated and designed to promote and encourage better farmer-sportsmen relationships and to improve wildlife and natural resources in conservation.

Nominations for the award must be turned in to the county extension agent by February 20, according to Harold B. Swanson, chairman of the state farmer-sportsman selection committee and head of the University of Minnesota department of information and agricultural journalism.

The farmer-sportsman committee is composed of representatives from farm and youth groups, conservation officials, agricultural leaders and university faculty.

The top farmer in each county will be selected and from that group the regional and state winner will be chosen.

The winner of the state award and his wife, along with his county agent and his wife, will receive an expense paid trip to the show where he will be honored on Sunday afternoon, April 6.

Woodland Owners Offered Help By Department

Woodland owners in Minnesota have a variety of reasons why they hold forest land. They list recreation, timber production, wildlife, investment and personal satisfaction, according to the Minnesota conservation department.

The department's division of lands and forestry prepares plans that are tailored to meet the objectives of the owners and also assist owners in carrying out these plans. There is no charge for this service.

Although many small woodlands in Minnesota are presently being owned primarily for hunting and other recreation purposes, forestry officials say that by the year 2000, timber from these lands will be needed to meet an expected increase of 80 per cent in the demand for forest products.

When preparing management plans for private woodlot owners, foresters provide for the production of timber along with the owner's other objectives.

Those seeking advice on management of their woodlands should contact their local state forester or write the Conservation Department Division of Lands and Forestry, Centennial Building St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

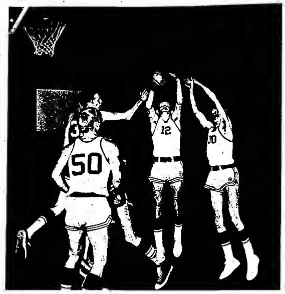
374 Deer Tagged During Hunt on Proposed Park

A total of 1,031 deer hunters were contacted on the Kabetogama peninsula, site of the proposed Voyageurs national park, during the recent nine-day deer season, the conservation department reported today.

Personnel from the department's game and fish division cooperated with the U. S. fish and wildlife service and the national park service in the joint study to determine hunter use of the area.

A total of 374 deer were recorded at the five checking stations. Hunters also reported seeing wolves, moose and one lynx. Seven black bears were also taken by hunters during the season.

Age and sex of the deer taken were recorded, showing that 29 per cent were fawns, 18 per cent yearlings and 53 per cent adults. Bucks comprised 53 per cent of the deer taken.



SHORTEST MAN on the floor in Thursday night's game between the Northland state junior college and the University of North Dakota Freshmen of Grand Forks was Nick Neibauer (12) of the Northmen, who jumped high to pull down the rebound in the above photo. Neibauer scored 21 points for Coach Al Adams' cagers. The Northmen fell to the Sioux Freshmen by a score of 101-74. Others pictured in the photo are Gordon Eltefield (50), and Frank Dewey (30) both Northmen, and 6'5" Rick Bernhardt (behind Eltefield) of the Freshmen.

TRYING TO STOP the Prowlers' Ron Runger is Tim Lilla of Roseau, in action on Saturday night at the city arena. Runger, although he didn't score, was credited with two assists in the game. Runger had assists in the first and third periods.

Bemidji Romps to 18th Straight Win Over LHS

by Bob Wislinski
Times Sports Writer

Bemidji extended its winning string to three straight, longest this year, and current winning streak over Prowler basketball teams to 18 straight, Friday night at the Lincoln high school gym. The final score was Bemidji 72, Thief River Falls 56. The loss dropped the Prowlers below the 500 mark with a 4-5 record. It also extended the Prowlers losing streak to four straight games.

The game was played on just about even terms throughout the first two periods as the Prowlers trailed by three at the end of the first period 18-15, and by five at half-time 31-26.

During the third period the Lumberjacks opened the gap to 11 points as they outscored the Prowlers by a 21-15 margin, increasing their lead from five to 11 points at the end of the stanza.

In the opening period the Prowlers gained the lead at 5-4 with just over two minutes gone in the contest. The game then see-sawed back and forth for the remainder of the period with the Prowlers going out in front by a 15-12 margin with less than two minutes left in the period. Then the Lumberjacks tallied six points, four of them coming from the free throw-line. Wayne Olson drilled the basket from two steps over the center line to give the Lumberjacks their 18-15 lead as the quarter ended. In the first period Sheldon Joppru tallied eight points to lead the Prowlers while Wayne Olson had a like amount for the Lumberjacks.

The second period opened with the Lumberjacks picking up four points before Joppru tallied two charity shots, cutting the lead to 22-17. A free throw by Craig Groslie upped the score to 23-17 before the Prowlers tallied three free throws to come within three points. After that the Lumberjacks increased their lead to seven points, before the Prowlers closed the gap to three points on baskets by Dan Brodin and Don Balmer. Dwight Degerman and Tony Burke upped the lead to 31-24 before Brodin hit on a jumper from 20 feet out just before the half-time buzzer, leaving the 'Jacks with a 31-26 lead at half time.

Bemidji opened the third period scoring with a basket by Greg Beaumont, to make it 33-26 in favor of the visitors. Brodin and Joppru then combined for five points and the Prowlers were within two points of the Lumberjacks, before the Jacks reeled off five straight points. Steve Edlund made a basket to cut the visitors' lead to 38-33, but six more points by the Lumberjacks increased their lead to 44-35. Brodin picked up his fifth personal foul just before the quarter was over, but the 'Jacks had a commanding 52-41 lead at the end of three quarters.

The final period found Bemidji adding to its lead as the Prowler' rally fell short of its mark as the Lumberjacks scored four points in the final four minutes.

Burke and Joppru took scoring honors as they each tallied 22 points for their respective teams. Degerman tallied 21 and Wayne Olson tallied 17 for the winning Lumberjacks, while Brodin and Balmer tallied 11 points each in the losing cause.

Tim Olson started his first game for the Prowlers, replacing the ailing Tony Johnson at a guard position. Johnson was recovering from the flu, as was Joppru, as both were out of school during most of the week.

'B' Squad Game

The Thief River Falls Prowler junior varsity team posted their sixth win of the season against the junior varsity of the Lumberjacks, as they broke from a 12-12 half-time deadlock to a 27-16 lead at the end of three quarters posting a 36-24 win.

The game was marked by poor shooting on the part of both squads, as they ended the first period in an 8-8 deadlock; and then only managed four points each in the second period to remain deadlocked at 12-12 at half-time. The Sioux Freshmen took an early lead, but the Northmen tied them at 33-33 with five minutes remaining in the first half of play.

Second half play saw Ed Fick and 6'8" center Chuck Dodge playing hard and scoring big for the Freshmen. Fick scored nine field goals and one free shot in the second half for a total of 19, and Dodge tipped in five buckets to go along with the four he made in the first half.

Top man for the Northmen and the game was Tom Super, center for the Northmen, with 11 field goals and five from the charity line for a grand total of 27 points. This was Super's fourth game in a row to lead the Northland eagers in scoring.

Seed and Feed Show Cancelled For This Year

Pennington County Crop Improvement association, at a meeting last week, voted to cancel the 1969 Seed and Feed show. The decision to cancel this year's annual event was reached after considerable discussion and appraisal of the seed available for exhibit.

It was felt that the extremely unfavorable harvest conditions during 1968 would severely limit the numer of exhibits and make the show ineffective. The association officers emphasized that only this year's show will be cancelled. The 1970 event will be held as usual on the first Friday in Febuary.

Advisory Liquor Vote Authorized by Council

OFFICIALS ATTENDING the regional meeting of the Jaycees hosted by the Thief River Falls chapter at the Elks club rooms Saturday evening visited prior to the business meeting. Left to right are Duane Downey, Detroit Lakes, national director; Robert Dunbar, Minnesota Jaycee president and guest speaker for the evening; and Dick Braun, Fertile, who conducted the regional meeting.

Advisory election to determine public sentiment on the question of municipal versus private liquor in Thief River Falls was authorized Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the city council. The advisory vote was tentatively set for April 8, with costs to be borne by the local "Citizens for Progress" committee.

Arthur B. Christianson presented the request for an advisory vote on behalf of the citizens group. The election date proposed was made tentative so as not to interfere with possible further public action regarding the new city arena. Election procedure would be the same as for an official city election, with regular polling places open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Council members have indicated that they will abide by the public wishes as expressed in results of the advisory vote.

The council Tuesday evening also reviewed preliminary reports by D. H. Stewart, city engineer, on 1969 improvement projects estimated to cost $788,000. These include sewer and water main extensions, surfacing of city parking lots east and west of LaBree avenue off First street and behind the city arena, and surfacing of streets in the following areas: Second street from Homee to Atlantic avenues, Atlantic avenue from Second to Eighth streets, north of Eighth street and east of Main avenue, north of Eleventh street and west of Main avenue, north of Third street and east street, and streets in Greenwood cemetery.

Bid of Northern Motors, Inc., for a new police car was accepted in the amount of $1,967. Only two bids were submitted, the other by Tunberg Motors in the amount of $1,995.

A study of the city's electric distribution system by Ralph D. Thomas company, electrical engineers of Minneapolis, was authorized at a cost of $800 plus out-of-pocket expenses. The study will determine costs of proposed electrical expansion.

Appointments made by Mayor A. E. Jacobson included the following: Library board—Mrs. J. J. Womack and Mrs. H. O. Chommie, reappointed, and Neil McEwen to succeed R. J. Ulferts who resigned; airport commission—Wendell Olson, Les Sabo and Dr. Duane Davidson, reappointed; police civil service commission—William LaFave, reappointed; and cemetery commission—Robert Lund, reappointed.

Bids were called for an official newspaper and official depositories of city funds, as well as a four-wheel drive front-end loader, with bids to be opened on February 11. A request from Northwestern hospital to place a short-wave radio antenna on the city water tower was approved if the installation is approved by the city engineer.

Melvin Stenberg was hired as an employee of the city sanitation department and a tax abatement was allowed for Arnold Ralston, 721 South Crocker, since his house was assessed on a greater percentage of completion than was actual.

Stock Split for Arctic Is Favored

Stockholders of Arctic Enterprises, Inc., most of whom voted by proxy and did not attend a special meeting Monday in Thief River Falls, favored a four-for-one stock split without a dissenting vote. Authorized stock of the firm was increased from one million to two million shares.

Record highs in sales and net income for the six months ended Sept. 30, 1968, were reported recently by Arctic.

Sales for the six months were $5,107,815, nearly three times greater than sales of $1,711,153 reported for the comparable period of 1967. Net income increased more than three times, to $318,100 as compared to $93,348 in the first six months of 1967. Earnings per share rose to $1.28, up from 37 cents for the same period last year.

Lowell T. Swenson, president, also announced approximate sales of $15,428,000 for the nine months ended Dec. 31, 1968, as compared to $5,591,000 in the comparable 1967 period.

Swenson said employment of the firm has topped the 900 mark for the first time and two plant additions are now underway in anticipation of 1969 requirements. The company is adding 30,000 square feet to its main plant warehouse and 5,000 square feet to its fiberglass facility, both in Thief River Falls. Swenson said work will start soon on a 14,400 square foot warehouse at Arctic's garment plant in Thief River Falls, which produces snowmobile suits, covers and other accessories.

Roy Wiseths Celebrate Their 45th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wiseth of Goodridge observed their 45th wedding anniversary recently at a celebration held at the First Lutheran church at Goodridge.

Present and hosting the event were their six children and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wiseth, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wiseth, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wiseth, all of Goodridge; Mr. and Mrs. Everett (Betty) Olson of Wayzata, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman (Jean) Groven of Minneapolis, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wiseth of Minneapolis.

Also present were all of their 19 grandchildren. With the exception of Scott Groven and Wendy Wiseth, who were too young, all the grandchildren participated in the program that preceded the reception. Grandson Mark Olson served as master of ceremonies and Kari Jo Wiseth, Richard Olson and Terry Wiseth were principal characters in a mock wedding. A pantomime of Mr. Wiseth's reactions at the birth of each child was portrayed by Vicky Wiseth and Barry Olson. Summarizing the work on the farm by giving resumes of events were Terry, Tony and Shelly Wiseth.

Vicky Wiseth also participated by reading the special congratulatory greetings received by the couple from Vice President Hubert Humphrey, Senator Walter Mondale and Congressman Donald Fraser.

Musical selections were two appropriate selections sung by all of the grandchildren; a solo by Duane Rafteseth of Grove City, a nephew of the couple, and several musical selections played on the electric guitar by Oscar Wiseth of Little Falls, a brother of Mr. Wiseth.

Also included on the program was a devotional message by Rev. Donald Fredine and appropriate articles read by Mrs. Ole Prestebak and Ernest Swanson. An original poem composed by grandson Mark Olson and words of appreciation by Mr. Wiseth, concluded the program.

Mrs. Harold South presided at the piano for the program and as the honored couple were escorted down the aisle by their grandson, Brian Wiseth.

For the reception that followed, the honored guests were seated at a head table together with their children and their pastor, Rev. Donald Fredine. Centering the table were two floral arrangements of blue and white mums, gifts from the grandchildren and from the Knute Evenson and Orlando Chervestad families. Similar flowers formed the corsage and boutonniere worn by the honored couple.

cake, decorated in blue and white and topped by a wedding bell ornament backed by a 45th anniversary symbol, centered the serving table. The cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Orlando Chervestad of Oklee, was cut and served by Mrs. Ed Geving of Detroit Lakes and Mrs. Ida Sund, Mrs. Petra Olson of this city, a sister of Mr. Wiseth, and Mrs. Ole Prestabak, poured. Members of the Grace circle served the reception.

Among the guests attending were Hjalmer Rafteseth of Thief River Falls, who together with the late Mrs. Rafteseth, a sister of Mr. Wiseth, served as attendants at the wedding 45 years ago.

Other guests attending were from Portland and Grand Forks, N. D., Moorhead, Newfolden, Minneapolis, Grove City, St. Paul, Little Falls and Thief River Falls.

Marriage Vows Exchanged By Anderson and Klegstad

Marriage vows were exchanged at the First Lutheran church at Middle River on Saturday, December 14, at 8 p.m., by Miss Susan Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson of Middle River, and Dean Klegstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Klegstad of Karlstad.

Rev. Phillip Peterson officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Linda Larson was the organist. She played the traditional nuptial selections as the guests were seated by Marvin Klegstad, brother of the groom, and Jerry Nelson of Hallock, a friend of the groom. Miss Larson also accompanied the soloist, Jerry Prickett of Minneapolis. He sang, "The Wedding Prayer", prior to the processional, and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar following the exchange of vows.

Potted poinsettias graced the altar for the candlelight ceremony. Sprigs of leather leaf, centered with miniature white bells, marked the pews along the white carpeted aisle.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor-length, empire fashioned gown of white velvet with scalloped lace edging at the neckline, around the tapered sleeves and at the hemline of the A-line skirt. Matching lace was repeated on the detachable chapel-length train secured at the empire waistline by a bow. Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion was held by a velvet-touched white and silver floral crown. She carried a Bible topped by single white orchid, surrounded by pink and white miniature roses and greens.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Sharon Moen of Newfolden, a close friend. Other attendants were Judy Anderson, a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Lloyd Lehse, a sister of the groom, and Mrs. Jerry Prickett, a friend of the bride. All wore floor-length, princess styled gowns of green velvet accented with beaded neckline trim. Matching velvet bows held their veiled headpieces. Each carried a lighted candle surrounded by pink carnations and greens.

Shawn Newland of Thief River Falls and Beth Moen of Newfolden, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. Their dresses, styled like those of the attendants, were of white velvet and their pigtail bouquet were of baby roses.

The groom chose James Shafer of Hallock as his best man. Groomsmen were Dale Anderson, brother of the bride; Sidney Nelson, a friend; and Ronald Klegstad, a brother of the groom. They were attired in dark tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Newland of this city, uncle and aunt of the bride. Their daughter, Mrs. Yvonne Jaehn of New Jersey, presided at the guest book. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Klegstad served the punch.

The four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a Christogram centered the serving table. Baked and decorated by Mrs. Earl Anderson of Stephen, the cake was cut and served by Mrs. Ed Martinson, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Frank Anderson, aunt of the bride. Pouring were Mrs. Hilmer Anderson and Mrs. Henry Klegstad, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively.

Waitresses at the bridle table were Mrs. Robert Niemi of Red Lake Falls, Mrs. Keith Gram, Karen Klegstad and Marjorie Thoreson. The groom's cake was passed by Renee Newland of Thief River Falls and Colleen Anderson.

Approximately 75 relatives attended the wedding. They were from Valley City, N.D., Middle River, Karlstad, Newfolden, Hallock, Thief River Falls, Gatzke and Minneapolis.

The newly-weds are now at home in this city where both are employed.

Rev. Joel T. Pederson officiated at the double ring ceremony. The organist was Linda Sutter. She also accompanied Bonnie Haglund as she sang, "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, John Linberg of Buffalo. She was attired in an empire fashioned, floor-length gown of Chantilly lace styled with long tapered back that flowed into a chapel-length train. A pearl and crystal headpiece held her ballerina length veil of silk illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses, accented with trailing ivy.

The matron of honor was a sister of the bride, Mrs. Ronald Hanson of Thief River Falls. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Merlin Olson of Fosston, a sister-in-law of the groom. Miss Beverlee Lindberg of Thief River Falls, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid. All wore identical floor-length gowns of moss green and gold and each carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

For her personal attendant, the bride chose her sister, Mrs. Winton Snobeck of Pittsburgh, Kans.

Merlin Olson of Fosston, a brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Eldoo Olson of Rush City, a brother of the groom, and Ronald Hanson of Thief River Falls. All wore dark business suits as did Daniel Snobeck, a nephew of the bride, who served as usher.

A reception folowed at the McIntosh city hall dining room. Patty Borry of Thief River Falls presided at the guest book and Mrs. Philip Ophus of Fosston served as hostess.

Mrs. Jim Olson of Coon Rapids and Mrs. Ron Olson of Minneapolis cut and served the wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Eugene Prestegaard of Thief River Falls. Mrs. John Lindberg of Buffalo and Mrs. David Olson of Minneapolis poured.

PFC. STEVE WAALE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Waale of Thief River Falls, carries a burned Vietnamese boy to an evacuation helicopter across about 220 yards of deep rice paddy mud to a suitable landing zone. The boy and his mother were born badly burned from a hut fire when Company C, 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry made a sweep of an area 10 miles southeast of Ben Tre. It took four men working in shifts to carry the woman, who could not walk because of a severely burned right knee and leg. PFC Waale volunteered to carry the boy the entire distance. The boy had burns on both forearms and hands and the lower stomach and back region, but clung to a C-ration chocolate bar and cried only once before being placed on the helicopter and taken to Dong Tam hospital for treatment. A 1966 graduate of Lincoln high school, PFC Waale entered service in May of 1968 and arrived in Vietnam on October 22 of that year. He trained at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and Ft. Polk, La., and is now serving as battalion radio transmission operator.

Polk Wheat To Be Available For 1969 Season

Polk, a new high yielding spring wheat with good milling and baking characteristics, will be available to Minnesota farmers in ample quantities for the 1969 crop season, it was announced by the Minnesota crop improvement association.

Tests from 1966 to 1968 by the University of Minnesota department of agronomy proved Polk wheat's bushel weight averaged better than the popular Chris wheat. Milling and baking characteristics of Polk wheat were also rated above Chris.

Polk, Chris and Manitou varieties all produced about 36 bushels per acre in the three years of testing. Polk also compared favorably with Chris and Manitou in rust restistance and standability.

A list of certified growers of Polk wheat and approved seed processing plants is available in the 1969 Minnesota seed directory. They are available from county agents or by writing to the Minnesota Crop Improvement Association, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

The new Polk is a bearded wheat of medium height and maturity with moderately stiff straw. It is resistant to the prevalent races of stem rust as well as the rarer types of rust. It appears to have a broader spectrum of resistance to stem rust than does Chris. Polk is also resistant to leaf rust, black chaff and bunt.

Reminds Aliens To Submit Their Address Report

Joseph A. Cushman, district director of the immigration and naturalization service, St. Paul, advised today that the annual alien address report program is again under way.

Aliens have until the end of January to submit their address reports to the government. Forms for this purpose may be obtained at any post office or any office of the immigration and naturalization service.

All noncitizens, with few exceptions, are required to report. Those excused from this requirement include diplomats and persons accredited to certain international organizations. Aliens who are minors must also report, but the parent or legal guardian should submit the report for an alien child under 14 years of age.

Social security number should be shown on the registration card. Aliens and employers are advised that the possession of a social security card does not entitle aliens to work in the United States. Only aliens admitted for permanent residence or certain classes of nonresident aliens authorized to do so by the immigration and naturalization service may take employment. Violators of this restriction are subject to certain penalties.

Highway Dep't. Gives Tips on Winter Driving

With a snowy winter already well started, the Minnesota highway department has offered some hints for proper driving in the snow.

Equipment is most important. Snow tires are needed in Minnesota, as well as a snow brush and frost scraper. Windshield de-icer is a good idea, as are a long-handled shovel and a bucket of sand.

Before starting out, clear the snow not only from the windshield and windows, but also from hood, top and trunk, from where it is likely to blow and cover your windows again. Also be sure the snow does not block out headlights, tail lights and signals.

Keep your car going straight; that is, don't change lanes, and if the road is rutted, stay with the ruts. Keep your speed steady, not too fast for conditions, but not so slow, either, that you are in danger of losing momentum. Keep plenty of distance behind the car ahead. Try to time your approach to traffic lights so that you can go through without stopping. Keep the power steady and use the brakes sparingly when necessary, with light intermittent touches. Heavy acceleration or application of the brakes causes skids.

When stuck, never spin the car's wheels. It does no good and often merely digs the car in deeper and makes ice under the tires. Get out and size up the situation. Check to see where the snow is holding the car, and shovel it free. Straighten the front wheels and apply the power gently, cutting it the moment the wheels start to slip. Rock the car gently back and forth if necessary. When the car starts to move, keep it going as far as it will move in the same direction, then reverse direction. Repeat this to plow a rut long enough to allow you to build up momentum. Then steer back into the roadway.

T-Sgt. Belland Returns Pueblo Crew from Korea

Technical Sergeant Mark E. Belland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Belland of Thief River Falls, was a member of the two aircrews from Travis Air Force Base in California, that airlifted the 82 survivors of the captured USS Pueblo from Kimpo Air Base in Seoul, Korea, to Miramar Naval air station in San Diego after their release from 11 months capativity by the North Koreans.

Sergeant Belland and his crew made the 6,000-mile trans-Pacific crossing in 15 hours, with a refueling stop at Midway Island.

Belland, who was able to mingle freely with the Pueblo men, said they chose to talk about their families, the World Series and football—things of a light nature rather than military or political news. He described the men as "kind of restless. . .it was hard to keep them in their seats." And when the wheels touched down at the San Diego airport, a great cheer went up and Belland said the men yelled, "We made 'er. Back to the good ol' U.S."

A graduate of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, Sergeant Belland is a member of the 60th military airlift wing at Travis. Wing aircrews fly the giant Starlifter in the global military airlift command network and frequently transport troops and supplies to Vietnam.

In a nationwide poll of more than 135,000 drivers in 1968, only 46 per cent of those responding reported they always use their seat belts for local travel—trips up to 25 miles. Slightly more than half—55 per cent—said they always worn their seat belts on trips of 25 miles or more. As many as 10,000 persons may have saved their lives in 1967 traffic accidents if they had been wearing a safety belt, according to the Minnesota AAA.

American Legion Plans Special Days of Prayer

Ecklund-Holmstrom Post 117 of the American Legion in Thief River Falls will be participating in a nationwide movement asking that the weekend prior to the inauguration of the President-elect be set aside as special days of prayer for the President of the United States of America.

American Legion posts are being called upon to seek the cooperation of private citizens and churches in their communities to observe the Saturday and Sunday preceding the inauguration as special days of prayer. This request is a result of a resolution passed by the national convention of the American Legion in New Orleans, La. on September 6-12.

Ray Kriefall, Minnesota department chaplain, stated the following:

"We of The American Legion meet together for God and Country and do believe that this Nation was established with a firm reliance upon Divine Providence and that America has continued to exist with a deep and abiding Faith and Trust in Almighty God, as a part of the American way of life.

"Won't you please pause a few moments next January 19 or 20 and offer your Prayer to Almighty God for our President."

Warroad Nips LHS Hockey Squad 4 to 3

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Thief River Falls Prowlers traveled to Warroad on Tuesday night to meet the Warriors and Henry Boucha. The result—a closer game than that expected by all, as the Warriors had to withstand a rally in order to edge out a 4-3 victory over the upset minded Prowlers.

The Prowlers kept Boucha in check as he was unable to score from his defensive spot and was in on only one scoring play, getting an assist in the first period.

The loss snapped a four-game winning string for the Prowlers, who will now be in action on Saturday night as they travel to Grand Forks to meet the Central Redskins.

In the game on Tuesday night, the Prowlers jumped off to the lead at 1-0, only to find the Warriors come back and tally three straight goals to lead 3-1 after the first period. The Prowlers in the second period knotted the score at 3-3, but permitted a goal late in the period to give the Warriors the lead at 4-3. Neither team scored in the third period.

Rick Holmes, senior co-captain for the Prowlers, tallied two goals in the loss while the other co-captain, Dana Stromberg, received credit for scoring the third goal.

Holmes' first goal came in the opening period with 1:04 gone in the contest as he put the Prowlers ahead 1-0 on an assist from Dana Haugen. The Warriors came right back less than a minute from the time that Holmes scored his goal to tie the score at 1-1 on a goal by Al Hangsleben from Rod Estling.

About two minutes later in the period, the Warriors were on the score board once again with a goal by Frank Krahn from Boucha at 4:23. With 15 seconds left in the period, the Warroad club added the third goal of the period and looked like they were going to walk away with the contest. Scoring the goal was John Taylor from Mike Marvin.

In the second period, the Prowlers started a rally of their own as they scored two goals in a three-minute period to tie the score at 3-3. Holmes tallied his second goal on an assist from Rex Rugland, making the score 3-2 in favor of the Warriors. Dana Stromberg added the third goal with 3:21 gone in the period as he received an assist from Cal Wicklander.

The Warriors tallied the last goal of the night with 14:12 gone in the period as Lyle Kvamlov tallied on an assist from Leo Marshall. Neither team scored in the third period.

Figure skating will be offered by the parks and recreation department for a period of six weeks starting with registration on Thursday for three different age groups. The skating class will be taught by Mrs. Les Salo and lessons will be given to those persons who are established skaters.

Registration for these lessons are as follows: Grades one through four from 6 to 7 p.m. on Thursday; grades five through nine, 7 to 8 p.m.; and grade 10 through adults, 8 to 9 p.m., in the city arena.

Persons registering for the classes will not need to bring skates with them on Thursday evening. Regular class sessions will be held on Wednesday evenings following the Thursday registration this week.

Surcharge Will Apply To Taxes

Most taxpayers will owe, in addition to their regular federal income tax, an additional seven and one half per cent due to the surcharge tax. The 1968 tax increase amounted to 10 per cent, but was effective as of April 1. Increased withholding from wages began on or about July 14.

Taxpayers in the lower income brackets will be completely exempt from this surcharge tax. For example, single individuals whose gross earnings were less than $1,900 would pay no surcharge tax.

LAKE MILLE LACS REPORT

Fishing on Lake Mille Lacs has been excellent. Both walleyes and northerns have been hitting. The northerns were taken by angling as follows: L. M. Fjosne of Elbow Lake caught one weighing 15½ pounds. Lester Kirk of Dayton caught one weighing 15¼ pounds out of Eddy's. A 15½ pound northern was taken by John Baert of Onamia. John Holl of Anoka took an 11¼ pounder. Minnows were used as bait in each case. Steven Hudson of Elk River took two nice walleyes angling with minnows. One weighed 7¼ pounds, the other 4 pounds. All of these fish were registered at Rogers Tackle Shop at Onamia. Mr. Rogers added: "I UNDERSTAND THAT ONE YOUNG FELLOW JUST HOME FROM VIETNAM pulled in 25 walleyes for his party of six. I think he deserved it, too."

Congratulations to Don Brown and Oather Trodahl of the Waseca publishing company. The Waseca Journal is now a daily newspaper.

PREDICTIONS FOR 1969

Bounty and spearing will be the hottest conservation subjects before the legislators. The new secretary of the interior, Alaska's Walter J. Hickel, will have trouble with conservationists. He is reported to have said: "I don't believe in conservation for conservations sake." One conservationist told us. . . "Hickel wants a chain of hamburger shops in every forest."

Office Christmas parties will become less popular. It is no fun kissing a computer.

BAUDETTE REPORT

Ice fishing is in full swing at Baudette and has been for about three weeks. Most of the fishing is in Four-Mile Bay, at the mouth of the Rainy river, in about six to eight feet of water. It is possible to drive out onto the ice with cars as there isn't much snow.

Big walleyes weighed in at Elmer's Sportsmen's Center:

December 1, 1968, Clarence Niles Baudette - Walleye 10 lb. 11¼ oz. Ice was very thin at this time and fish caught in shallow water on a gold spinner.

December 9, 1968, Conrod Hapka, Argyle, Minn. - Walleye 7 lbs. 8 oz. Caught out of Adrian's fishouse on Swedish Pimple.

December 24, 1968, Eugene Peterson, Esterville, Iowa-Walleye 6 lbs. 10 oz. Caught out of Adrian's fishhouse on Swedish Pimple.

January 3, 1969, Bob Moorman, Baudette, Minn. - Walleye 6 lbs., 8 oz. Caught on a Baby Doctor Spoon. Bob's catch included Walleyes weighing 4 lbs., 3y lbs. and 2 lbs. at Adrian's Fishouse.

The last couple of days most of the fishermen have been coming in with their limits of Walleye.

Something new for the area is spearing for northerns. This is being done at the mouth of Bostic Creek in darkhouses provided by Vic Dulek of Cyrus Camp. Limits of Northerns are being speared consistently with Northerns running in size between 12 lbs. and 15 lbs. Some very large northerns have been spotted but couldn't be lured into spearing range.

Fishing has been very good out on Lake of the Woods with fly-in service to Oak Island and the Three Sister's area. No large ones so far but limits of nice eating size have been brought in.

The best fishing from Long Point on Lake of the Woods north of Williams, has been in deep water. Sargers are running much larger in size with limits being caught with ease.

by Daryl Augustine
Times Reporter

Northland state junior college matmen defeated the University of North Dakota Freshmen wrestlers by a score of 19-11 on Saturday at the UND fieldhouse in Grand Forks. It was the first time this season that Coach Steidl of the Northmen didn't have to give a forfeit for lack of wrestlers.

Gaining the only pin for five team points for the Northmen was Les Olson, who defeated Lary Olson of the Freshmen in the 167-pound division. Olson got the take down in the first period, a reversal in the second and made the pin with the clock stoping at two minutes and 40 seconds.

Ken Kuznia was the only Northman to bow to the Freshmen with a pin. Kuznia, wrestling in the heavyweight class against Joe Karas of the Freshmen, was pined at 3:25.

Gaining the most individual points against the Freshmen was Duane Paulson of the Northland graplers. Paulson gained two take-downs and one predicament in the first period of the 130-pound match for six points, one reversal in the second period for two points and two take-downs, one predicament and one near fall for nine points in the third period for a grand total of 17. Paulson's opponent, Jack Davidson, got three escapes from Paulson for only three points.

Others winning decisions for the Northmen were Dave Rodahl, at 145 pounds, over Terry Jacobsen, and Lynn Marek, at 177 pounds, over Waren Erickson. Bruce Nordhagen, 137 pounds, received a forfeit from the Freshmen.

The following is a sumary of the scoring:

137 POUNDS: Freshmen forfeited to Bruce Nordhagen, Northmen.

145 POUNDS: Dave Rodahl, Northmen, decisioned Terry Jacobsen, Freshmen, 5-1.

University of North Dakota basketball co-captain Vern Praus was a starting offensive end in football. He checks in at 6-5 and 230.

Wayne Franks became the first University of North Dakota All-American wrestler in 1967-68.

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Tillie Bratland, who passed away 4 yrs. ago Jan. 15, 1965.

What would we give if we could say,
Hello mother, in the same old way.
To hear her voice, See her smile,
To sit with her and chat awhile.
So you who have a mother,
Cherish her with care,
For you'll never know the heartache,
Till you see her vacant chair.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, Clarence Skyberg, who passed away Jan. 17, 1967.

It's lonesome here without you
I miss you more each day
My life will never be the same
Since you were called away.
My heart still aches with sadness.
My eyes shed many tears.
God alone knows how much I miss you,
As this ends the second sad year.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our husband and father Harve Magner

Down through the years we've watched him trudging,
Plodding on his weary way,
Never complaining, never begrudging.
The price that life decreed his to pay. Treasured thoughts of one so dear, often bring a silent tear. Thoughts return to scenes now past. Time rolls on but memories last of the one we loved so dearly. Who passed away three months ago. Sadly missed by his wife Bessie, his children, grandchildren and great - grandchildren. 1t5p

And died, beloved by all.

Prowler Teams Face Tough Weekend Slate

by Bob Walinski
Times Sports Writer

Kip Poppenhagen
Player of the Week

All three Thief River Falls winter sports teams will be in action sometime during the weekend, starting with the wrestling squad which will open activities on Thursday evening. Basketball and hockey squads will also be in action on Friday and Saturday nights respectively.

The wrestling squad will be the only team at home this weekend as they host a tough Fertile club. The basketball team will travel to East Grand Forks while the hockey squad will travel to Grand Forks Central.

Wrestling Squad

The wrestling squad on Thursday night will host Fertile in both a 'B' and 'A' squad matches, with the 'B' squads doing battle at 6:30 p.m. and varsity teams meeting at 7:30 p.m.

The Prowlers will be out to snap a two-match losing streak that dates back to before the holidays, when they lost a dual match to Greenbush. Last Friday they were stopped by Park Rapids.

In that match against the Panthers last Friday, the Prowlers were hit by the flu bug and had to settle for only three match victories as Tom Duke and Eddie Furuseth both remained undefeated in dual competition for the season. The other winner for the Prowlers was Scott Vettleson.

The Falcons are led by two three-year veterans in Marlin Jenstud, a junior wrestling at 127 pounds, and Bob Black, a veteran at 138 and who placed third in District 30 last year.

Other lettermen back this season for the Falcons will be Bob Wright, a 112-pound eighth grader; Don Trandem, another 112 pounder; Lynn Sulerud, 120-pound sophomore; Bruce Gilbertson, 127-pound sophomore; Steve Menke, 154-pound senior; Lee Lindberg, 165-pound senior; and Willard Swenby, 175-pound senior. Menke, Lindberg and Swenby all finished thied in district 30 last year.

Besides Tom Duke, Furuseth and Vettelson, the Prowlers are expected to go with Kurt Muzzy, Rick Nordhagen, Allen Taylor, Rod Peterson, Curt Swenson, Tim Duke, Tony Madunich and Tim Hoaas, barring any upsets in wrestle-offs held before each match by coach Ed Krystosek.

The Prowlers suffered a great loss during the holidays when Terry Johnson, Region Eight runner up last year, was sideline with an arm injury which forced an operation and will prevent Terry from wrestling this year. He is only a sophomore.

Prowler Hockey

Ranked 13th in the Minnesota state high school poll on Monday, the Prowlers will take their ranking and travel to Grand Forks on Saturday night to meet the Central Redskins, defending North Dakota state champions the past few years. Central this year has only suffered one loss, that coming at the hands of Bemidji, still a mystery team in Minnesota preps this year.

The Prowlers, at the time this story was being written, were traveling to Warroad to meet the Warriors Tuesday night. The Warriors were ranked the number two team in the state this past week.

The Prowlers' record, not counting Tuesday's game with Warroad, was 6-4-1. The Prowlers have been meeting some of the top teams in the state, losing to Bemidji, Richfield and Eveleth and tieing Mpls. Washburn. They have beaten Roseau, Virginia, Hallock, Baudette and East Grand Forks.

The Prowlers are led by center Rick Holmes, Dana Stromberg, Cal Wicklander, Jerry Owen, Rex Rugland, Bill Norman, Donn Haugen, Dennis Johnson, Bruce Broughton, Ron Runger and Roger Lee. All have been in on the act of scoring goals one way or another in their last few games.

Basketball Squad

Before the holidays, coach Whitey Olson's Prowlers were ranked the number three team in Region eight and 27 in the state, but since that time the Prowlers have dropped four straight games. Friday night the Prowlers face another major test, staying unbeaten in Big Five conference play, as they travel to East Grand Forks to meet the defending District 31 and Region eight title holders.

The game will be the second in conference action for the Prowlers, who are presently second in the conference standings behind Warren, which supports a perfect 2-0 mark. East Grand Forks is behind the Prowlers in the standing with a 2-1 record, losing to Warren and stopping Crookston and Climax.

Coach Olson stated Tuesday night that he was only sure of two starters for Friday night's contest, center Sheldon Joppru and forward Don Balmer. They are the squad's leading scorers.

The other three positions as of Tuesday night were in jeopardy, as Olson is trying underclass men at the other three spots.

Against Bemidji last week, the starting five included, Joppru; Balmer and Steve Edlund at the forwards; Dan Brodin and Tim Olson at the guards. Having a good chance to see a lot of action on Friday night will be Kip Poppenhagen, who last week was named Player of the week by the coaching staff for his 'B' squad play against Bemidji. The junior guard picked up 18 points to lead the Prowlers in scoring and was among the top rebounders for the contest.

East Grand Forks will more then likely go with leading scorer Don Jamieson at a guard position and Tom Budge at the other guard spot. Tim Nedberg will be at center, with Scott Rousseau and Steve Gravseth at the forwards. Top reserves for the Little Green Wave are Kurt Knoff and Scott Gravseth.

The Wave supports a 5-3 record, losing to Warren and Grand Forks Central and then taking a drubbing at the hands of Ada in their last contest 84-64.

Games time is slated for 8 p.m., with the 'B' squads going at it at 6:30 p.m.

PROWLER NOTES: The top wrestling teams in the state are as follows: Cooper, Rochester-John Marshall, St. James, Hopkins, Mankato, Albert Lea, St. Cloud Tech, Fridley, Grand Rapids, Austin, Anoka, Alexander Ramsey, Le Sueur, Bloomington-Lincoln, Staples, Bemidji, Alexandria, Caledonia, St. Anthony and Minnetonka.

Top hockey squads in the state are Greenway, Warroad, Edina, Hibbing, International Falls, Mpls. Southwest, Bemidji, Mpls. Washburn, Richfield, Eveleth, Duluth East, South St. Paul, Thief River Falls, Mpls. Roosevelt and St. Paul Park.

Northland Squads Fall to Spartans

Northland state junior college traveled to Fergus Falls on Tuesday night and came out on the short end of both the wrestling and basketball games played there. The wrestling team lost by a 22-16 score, having to forfeit in three of the matches, while the basketball squad was edged out by an 82-80 score.

Despite the new scoring record that was set in the basketball game by sophomore center Tom Super, the Northland squad was unable to overtake the Spartans, who had built up a 41-36 half time lead.

Super, in setting the new junior college mark of 37 points for the Northland squad, tallied 10 field goals and made 17 free throws. Super, 6-3, transferred from Moorhead state college and is the leading scorer this season for the Northmen.

Joining Super in double figures for the contest was Nick Neibauer, 18, and Frank Dewey, 10 points.

Fergus Falls was led by Brad Duhr who tolled 28 points. Three others also scoring in double figures were Don Burgan, 14; Reid Hans and Mike Gall, 12 points each.

The wrestling squad had to forfeit three matches to the Spartans in the first three weight divisions, but then posted four wins and a draw as they fell by a 22-16 score.

Picking up wins for the Northmen were Dave Rodahl, Don Sollom, Les Olson and Lynn Marek. Bruce Nordhagen fought to a draw with his opponent from Fergus Falls.

Marek picked up the only pin for the Northmen, this coming in the heavyweight division.

Both squads are now back in action on Friday night as they host the Hibbing Junior college squads. Wrestling squads will begin action on Friday night at 6:15 p.m., while the cagers will begin battle at 7:45 p.m.

In a release from coach Al Adams, it stated that the Northmen elected Super as the team's captain for the coming cage season. Adams had this to say about the 6-3 sophomore center from Mentor: "Super is a top performer and is not only the top scorer but has been tough on defense and a good rebounder."

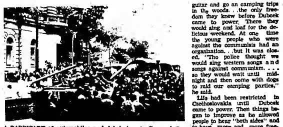
Czech Immigrants Tell About Experiences During Invasion

(Reprinted from the Roseau Times-Region. Negatives for photos printed by the Times-Region were provided by Bakumil Hrubes, one of the men in the story.)

The Russian tank rumbled down the streets to Prague, Czechoslovakia amid the cries of "Ivan go home". It smashed down the trees around the radio station. Another, meeting a barrier of automobiles and debris put up by Czecks, ground them into the streets as flames spread about them. A brave young Czeck ran up to another tank with a mountain axe. He rained blows on barrels of oil on the back of the tank. . .a mattress was thrown, flames rose. Throughout the city the scene was reported time and again as Russians ran roughshod over a small country which had tried to find the light of more freedom.



A BARRICADE of automobiles and debris is set afire and the Czech people surround this Russian tank in an angry mob. The Russians killed a number of Czechs in their invasion to curb the growing freedom of the Czech people.

THIS RUSSIAN TANK was set afire by a brave young Czech who stabbed its oil barrels with a pick, threw a pillow or mattress on the back and set it ablaze.

It was from this scene, and the hopelessness Russian domination portended, that four young Czechoslovakians risked their lives to flee to freedom. Last week they sat earnestly explaining their desire to live in the United States to this writer.

They had taken asylum in Canada from Austria when it appeared the wait to get into this country would be far longer than the three days Canadian officials required. "We were at least then out of Europe," their spokesman Bakumil Hrubes said.

He and Yiri Barton, Reimund Jedlicka and Maurer Stukkaleur had been "tramps" together in Prague. They used to take their guitar and go on camping trips in the woods. . .the only freedom they knew before Dubcek came to power. There they would sing and loaf for the delicious weekend. At one time the young people who were against the communists had an organization. . .but it was closed. "The police thought we would sing western songs and songs against communism. . . so they would wait until midnight and then come with dogs to raid our camping parties," he said.

Life had been restricted in Czechoslovakia until Dubcek came to power. Then things began to improve as he allowed people to hear "both sides" and to have more and more freedom. He began to allow criticism and freedom of the press. "Half of the people thought the new freedom was good and half thought it was a trick," Hrubes said. Some began to think, well maybe communism without the Russians isn't so bad," he indicated.

Whereas before Dubcek a person could "have an empty head if he had a Red book in his pocket," things began to change. Hrubes had gone to accounting school and held a good job. Later he worked as a waiter and bought a car which he used to haul things to make more money. "Before the Russians came I had a good life. Things were getting better," he said.

Then the tanks rolled into Prague! "The first time they came 12 years ago we had guns and fought them. . .now we didn't have guns as they had taken them away from us," Hrubes grimaced. He told of young men fighting tanks with picks and bottles filled with gas. . . and of how the Russians shot up the beautiful square in the city.

"They came to me and said I had to pay 50,000 crowns taxes on my car and more on the old one I used for parts," he shook his head. "A worker can make only about 30,000 crowns in a year there." He told how a worker couldn't even make a painting and sell it after the Russians came. "You couldn't make a profit on transactions as they said there was no 'worker profit' ", Hrubes said.

They feared the secret police. "People talked if they knew one another," he said. But still they took chances. Occasionally someone on a train would shout a joke about Russians or communists and then jumped from the bus and run, he laughed.

Industry Captured

The grim facts of Russian domination are everywhere now. Hrubes said the Czeks were forced to make everything for Russia. "The lamps said 'Russia', the clocks said, 'Rusia'. . .everything was for Russia," he indicated. He told how a Russian soldier, seeing a cuckoo clock which said "made in Czechoslovakia" pulled out his revolver and shot it to pieces.

"Everything is now politics and Russian propaganda," he declared. Yet the black market lives. American dollars there bring 35 crowns on the black market while the regular rate of exchange is seven to one, he revealed. Wages are low. A houskeeper or caretaker would get about 600 crowns a month and yet a good pair of shoes would cost 530, he said.

The men feel that restriction of the church may now reappear in their country, the men feel. In 1948 or 1950 there were churches open. . .but many of the priests and ministers were put in jail. Yet the churches were open in recent years. People do go to church. . .but not so many of them are young people or those in high positions. "If you have a position you have to be a Red and if you are found in a church you would be out," Hrubes said. The men indicated that young people hesitated to go to church because if they go to the same church more than one week they will be accused of forming sabatage groups! "The old folks tell them of religion at home," it was revealed.

Religion is not popular with the authorities. Yet the people worship. "If they cannot find a priest or minister. . .they will find someone to preach," Hrubes said. Hrubes said he is a protestant, the others Catholic.

One of the men, Stukkaleur, was in the military. Once he told a Russian officer that the tanks were so cold a man could not fight in them. As the discussion continued the Cuban missile crisis came up. He told the Russian the U.S. forced them to remove the missiles and that "Castro sold you Cuba." He was put in jail for eight months.

BEARING a Russian flag, this tank was challenged by a Czech who painted the hated Nazi swastica beneath the hammer and sickle. Russians couldn't understand why the Czechs didn't love them.

When asked if he had ever been a communist his eyes glinted and he made a motion signifying he was "fed up to here" with communists! None of the men had ever been communists, they said.

Now people can no longer listen to Radio Free Europe or even get western records or publications. "When the Russians came the announcer in Prague told the people he could hear them behind the door. Then he put on the national anthem and there was silence," Hrubes said. "Now all freedoms are dead. Our government resigned and now it will be picked up by the Russians and will be something worse," the men agreed.

The change forced them to make up their minds to flee.

Narrow Squeeze

Hrubes almost didn't make it. He wanted to visit friends in Austria, he told authorities. To get a passport he had to leave his identification papers at the police station to await a check. Through pleading and confusion, he convinced the passport office to give him a visa to Austria while the police had his ID papers. "I was lucky I got it," he said. He went to Austria, leaving his money and all belongings behind. "Then I wrote and told them they could take the money and build a cement room and fill it with my ID cards and toilet paper!" he said grimly.

Two of the other young men got out by taking a bus to Austria on a weekend outing. Only the bus driver and two others returned from the 35 who went!

Jedlicka tried four times before he made it. Once he was caught by Czech guards trying to cross the border. They turned him back saying the Russians were behind and would shoot him. Twice he tried to catch a railroad train, only to have it stopped at the border. Finally he caught a train which he saw was not stopping and managed to get out and into West Germany.

Once safe in Austria, the men got permission to enter Canada and were flown to Winnipeg. They found no jobs there and so went to South Junction where they now have a small house and work in the woods cutting pulpwood. "It is very hard as we are not used to the cold," Hrubes said for the group. "In our country the coldest is about five degrees centegrade."

Hrubes looks forward to getting into this country as do the others. He is an accountant, can do auto mechanic work and is a driver. Two of the others are bricklayers and one made decorations for building fronts.

"We have taken papers to the U.S. Counsel and asked if we can go to live and work in the United States. We want to know freedom. We have never known it until now and we want to do what we like," he translated for the group.

"We cannot go back. . .for it would be five years in prison or we would be shot," he concluded.

But now at least, they are free.

fascinating fishes

"Seel seel" Amy cries, using one of her new-found words. Her voice trembles with wonder, and suddenly the fish Bob brought her become more than ordinary. They're magical creatures, sloshing through the water with a flick of their tails, golden gleams of fascination.

How thrilling is a baby's world—changing, growing. Every day brings a new experience, some added lore to shape the growing personality.

Bob and I know how important these days are in Amy's development. Her acquaintance with the world now will affect her life greatly. That's why we take her to church every Sunday. We want her to learn of God's love from earliest remembrance.

God is the light of the world. His Church offers you and your family the opportunity to make His presence a joyous reality in your lives.

"It helps to remind oneself very often that over everything that exists there are laws which never fail to operate, which come rushing, rather, to manifest and prove themselves upon every stone and upon every feather we let fall. So all erring consists simply in the failure to recognize the natural laws to which we are subject in the given instance, and every solution begins with our alertness and concentration, which gently draw us into the chain of events and restore to our will its balancing counterweights."

—Rainer Maria Rilke

A Word in Defense

Two public opinion letters in the last two issues of the Times have been critical of the shooting of a large buck deer whose antlers were locked with another large buck, already dead. Both letters suggest that shooting the antler off the dead animal would have freed the live one and saved its life.

This suggestion is speculation on percentages. Chances are great that the live buck would not have survived if it had been set free. While it was strong enough to raise the other buck into the air in its anxiety to escape, it was in a severely weakened condition from its ordeal. Flesh of neither animal was fit for human consumption after they were dressed, as the meat had a rancid odor.

The action of the conservation officer in killing the buck in a humane manner was merciful. While we can understand the natural reaction of a hunter who would prefer to have another trophy available during the hunting season, we do not feel the criticism of the conservation officer is justified.

We know the officer in question and have faith in his discretion and judgment. He is concerned with the welfare of wildlife and conscientious in his job—unpopular as the latter might be with some people. We can not allow the criticism to pass without a word in his defense.

A Can of Worms

Recently reappointed as head of the F.B.I. by President-elect Richard Nixon, J. Edgar Hoover writes as follows in the January issue of the FBI Law Enforcement bulletin:

Is the American Eagle in danger of becoming "bald"?

In an old fable, a bird meets a fisherman with a can of works and asks him for one.

"Sure," says the fisherman. "All I ask in return is one of your feathers".

A feather for a worm seems reasonable to the bird, so the exchange is made. The next day the bird is hungry again. He weighs the inconvenience of searching for food against the expediency of trading with the fisherman and decides in favor of expediency. After a few days, the bird has traded off so many feathers that he cannot fly. He continues to make his daily trip to the fisherman on foot until all of his feathers are gone. At this point, the fisherman picks up the fat, naked bird and cooks him for dinner.

As we enter the New Year, leaving behind a year marked with crime and violence, we might ask ourselves if the American eagle has a full plumage or is he missing feathers because of our expediency in bartering with criminals.

A persuasive argument can be made that the law-abiding citizen's freedoms diminish in direct proportion to the increase of criminal activity in our country. His risk of becoming the victim of a serious crime increased 15 percent in 1967, and a similar rise is indicated for 1968. In many areas, fear forces the citizen to remain off the streets at night, and anxiety makes him suspicious of strangers. Some merchants are intimidated by thugs who walk away with merchandise. More and more businesses are adopting policies not to accommodate the public but to protect their property and thwart criminal assaults on their employees. The list of abuses keeps growing, and society's scope of rights and freedoms keeps shrinking.

Certainly, under the rule of law those who abide by the law should have protection equal to that of those who break the law. Many Americans feel that they do not have equal protection.

As we look to the future, we must bring the matter of crime and the criminal back into balance with the safety and welfare of the public. Concern and pity for the lawbreaker cannot be permitted to deprive the peaceful citizen of his rights and freedoms. Palliative policies and appeasement are producing soaring crime rates and filling our streets with criminals who should be in jail.

In 1969, let us resolve to have fair but vigorous law enforcement, prompt punishment of criminals. In dealing with crime, expediency is a shortcut to disaster. Let us not trade our freedoms for a can of worms."

The Easy Questions

Sandra Clark Haggerty, writing in the Oakland, Calif., Tribune, tells of the effort in her Negro family to give "a positive Black indoctrination" to the children.

"Teaching a child to 'like' being Black in a white society is no small task and has and probably will continue to give me, as well as other black parents, some very tenuous moments," she writes. "A recent conversation with my own child in a case in point."

Mrs. Haggerty then writes of the following dialogue:

Undershirt, panties, nightgown. . . .I gathered the nightly after-bath paraphernalia for my three-year-old daughter. She sat on the edge of the bed looking down at her body. Quite thoughtfully she began, "I just don't know why. . ."

"Why what, Honey. . ."

Still looking down at her body, "I just don't know why I'm this color."

"What color?" I tried to let her lead the conversation.

"Brown," she said.

"Well, Honey, you're brown because little girls and boys are the same color that their parents are."

"But you're not brown, Mommie." (I'm what is called a fair skinned, bright Negro.)

"Well, Honey, Daddy is Brown. Sometimes little girls look like their mommies and sometimes they look like their daddies."

Thinking that was a pretty good explanation so far, I watched for signs of acceptance.

"I don't want to look like Daddy. . .I want to look like you."

"But you already look like you. Brown. And that's the way we love you. That's what makes you very special. Your Daddy and I love our little brown girl.

"O.K., Mommie," she said. I tucked her into bed. She was through talking about the issue (for the moment) but I could see she wasn't through thinking about it.

As I turned off the light, I couldn't help musing, "When do the easy questions come? You know, like "Where do babies come from?" and "how can God know everything?"

No "Easy Touch"

Following are comments by the editor, which we believe to be a proper appraisal of a current situation:

Gov. Harold LeVander probably isn't losing much sleep as the results of a Minneapolis Star and Tribune poll regarding his popularity at the moment—but he also must realize that there is some fence mending to do during the next couple of years if he is to win a second term.

The Tribune's Minnesota Poll shows the governors popularity to be at the lowest ebb since he was elected. Polls also showed that Hubert Humphrey was supposed to be an easy touch in the recent presidential election. The results of course show that he lost by less than half a million votes.

LeVander, however, definitely has some fence mending to do in the months ahead. He did not endear himself to many the 1967 legislative session. His attitude toward the conservative majorities in both houses of the state legislature left some wounds that are yet to be healed. His statement following passage of the state tax reform act over his veto to the effect that the lawmakers would indeed face a "referendum" at the polls in the 1968 elections will not be quickly forgotten. His well meant but frequently misunderstood attitudes toward the problems of the rural areas also need clarifying.

But LeVander will very likely be the Republican nominee in 1970. Whether or not the party that put him in power will rally behind him in his race for re-election may be another matter. This is the problem that he must face and solve during the months ahead.

LeVander may have been something less than a sensation during his first two years in office, but his record is far from bad. He may have offended some of the self-proclaimed party brass, but he has also avoided practically all major mistakes. On a comparative basis, his state has been virtually free of uncontrolled rioting and looting in an era when that seems to be the "thing." The state's financial condition is as good or better than it has been in years. Progress and economic growth in the urban areas has been excellent. He'll be an "easy touch"—like Humphrey was in 1970.

Fitzsimons Bill Would Provide Moose Season

Representative Richard Fitzsimons of Argyle, who handles over a billion dollars of spending in his appropriations committee, recently introduced a moose hunting bill saying, "I expect more trouble with this bill than with the big appropriations bills. There are a lot of experts on hunting."

Rep Fitzsimons said he had received numerous requests from his district to introduce a moose hunting bill. Area residents say moose are getting too plentiful in farm areas and are knocking down fences and running over fields.

The moose hunting bill would establish a season in one of the next two years with hunting areas, length of season and the number of licenses to be set by the commissioner of conservation. The bill is only for two years. Future hunting seasons would require additional legislation.

First 1969-70 Red Lake Falls teacher salary proposal presented to the school board was rejected, according to [illegible] Tischart, chairman of the Red Lake Falls school board. The board plans to meet with the teachers tonight to review the proposal and present a counter offer.

Presented by the teachers recently, the average increase proposed amounted to $1,317 per person over the current 1968-69 average base salary of $7,217, according to the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

This means that teachers are seeking to have next year's average monthly salary raised from about $775 per month (figured on a nine-month work Based on 183 working days, this would be an increase of almost $11 per day, the newspaper reported.

Tischart termed the proposal unrealistic in view of the present cost of living, the considerable increase gained last year and being received during the current year and salaries paid in industry and business for comparable levels of training and work years.

According to Tischart, a teacher with a masters degree and 12 years experience can presently make up to $9,750 for nine month's work on the existing schedule. This is only the base figure and does not include compensation for additiona services. The teachers proposal would increase this figure to $12,096.

The Nelsons live six miles west of Goodridge where they are engaged in grain farming. Mrs. Nelson assists her husband with the farm work by driving the tractor, something she thoroughly enjoys. Last winter, she and her husband two quilts for families who had lost their possessions by fire. Mrs. Nelson also mends clothing for Health and Welfare center, a project of the Seventh Day Adventist church, where they attend services. Both enjoy reading and make it a practice to read the Bible every day.

Taxpayer Group Submits Facts To Legislature

Minnesota legislators, who began their 66th biennial session recently, have been presented with an impressive array of facts and figures about state services, finances and taxation.

The statistics, gathered from official sources, are contained in the seventh edition of "Fiscal Facts for Minnesotans," published every two years by the Minnesota Taxpayers association. Veteran lawmakers dub the volume their "statistical bible."

"Some of the facts and figures make pleasant reading," said Harold T. Miller, research director of the taxpayer group. "For example, public high school graduates in the most recently analyzed year numbered 90.2 per cent of the ninth-graders of four school years earlier, indicating that we have the lowest high school drop-out rate in the nation.

'Other facts and figures are downright unpeasant. For example, our state income tax—principal source of school aid money—is highest in the nation at the $10,000 income level and second highest at the $5,000 level, and our combined state and local tax load is the fifth highest among all states in relation to personal income."

The 146-page compilation of factual reference material has been assembled as a service to members of the MTA and to state legislators, public officials and news media, Miller said.

Subject matter, Miller said, ranges from population (Minnesota's percentage increase from 1960 to 1967 was less than half of that of the nation as a whole) to the cost of living ($1 bought only 86 cents worth of consumer goods in 1967 as compared to the 1957-59 average).

"We sincerely hope that 'Fiscal Facts' will continue to prove helpful to legislators and others in formulating objective opinions and making sound decisions," Miller said.

Firemen Answer Call Saturday To Bjorkman's

Thief River Falls fire department answered a call on Saturday night at 7:45 p.m. to the Bjorkman clothing store on LaBree avenue in Thief River Falls.

According to Thief River Falls fire chief Roy Langevin, the fire apparently started as the result of someone cleaning the furnace and putting the ashes furnace and putting th ashes in a paper box, thus causing some some debris to catch fire.

Nothing was damaged by fire, but the store and its contents received a great deal of smoke damage. Cliff Bjorkman was in the store at the time of the fire and turned in the alarm to the fire department.

Jon Metsalem, Harold Anderson and Millard Peterson attended the funeral services held in Minneapolis on Saturday for Stanley W. Nelson former director of the Thief River Falls area vocational school who died in Maylasia.

Sheep Breeders Seek Crossbreed To Raise More Lambs Per Ewe

Changes in the sheep industry have promoted researchers at the University of Minnesota to try to develop a crossbred that will give birth to a number of lambs per year, compared to the one lamb per ewe that standard breeds in the United States generally average.

Animal scientist W. J. Boylan explains that many sheepmen now have the potential to raise more than one lamb per ewe per year. Confinement housing systems and a more plentiful feed supply make it possible—and profitable—to raise a number of lambs from one ewe.

Some ewes of standard breeds produce more than one lamb per ewe, but the average is still only about one lamb per ewe, Boylan explains.

The university's animal science department, in cooperation with the United States department of agriculture, recently introduced the Finnish Landrace breed to the United States for the first time. Boylan says Finnish Landrace ewes have given birth to as many as six and seven lambs, and some flocks average from three to five lambs per ewe.

But the Finnish Landrace are somewhat smaller than standard breeds and apparently have less desirable carcasses. Boylan and his co-workers are planning to cross them with standard breeds and try to develop a cross that will have a substantially higher lambing average with desirable carcass characteristics.

Boylan explains that characteristics such as carcass quality and wool quality are more highly heritable than birth rate. Most difficult part of the breeding program will be to develop a cross with a higher lambing average.

The researchers also plan to study other management and rearing problems of the breed. For example, if a cross is developed that does have a multiple lambing average, the ewe must be able to supply enough milk for the lambs, unless an alternative feeding program is developed.

The Finnish Landrace may offer some other "fringe" benefits, aside from the higher lambing average. They have a short tail, which means that docking may not be necessary. And although their over-all carcass characteristics have lower quality, they have less subcutaneous fat than standard breeds, which may be an advantage.

The Finnish Landrace are related to other sheep of northern Europe commonly called "Northern Shortails."

Boylan says within three or four years the researchers hope to make recommendations to the sheep industry regarding the feasibility of crossbreeding programs with the breed. The first crossbred lambs will be born in 1969, so some information will be available this year. Finnish rams are being crossed with Minnesota 100 and Suffolk ewes. The animal scientists also plan to establish a purebred Finnish Landrace flock.

Cost of a $10,000 servicemen's group life insurance policy is only $2 to the serviceman because the extra hazard cost is paid by the U.S. government.

Name Chairmen For Drive of Cancer Society

Rudy Boschwitz, Minneapolis, will serve as state chairman of the Minnesota Cancer Society drive, and Mrs. Harold LeVander, wife the the Minnesota governor, will be honorary chairman. Mrs. LeVander was honorary chairman in 1968.

Boschwitz will attend a series of nine workshops for county crusade leaders to be held throughout the state in February and March and will help organize the educational and fund-raising campaign. One of the workshops is scheduled for February 20 in Crookston. A research scientist supported by the society will speak at each workshop.

The two chairmen will lead a force of approximately 55,000 volunteers who will distribute more than a million pieces of literature and endeavor to raise money during April. Goal of the state drive is $850,000. Funds are used to finance the society's research, public and professional education and service to patients programs.

Deadline Here For Recipients Of VA Pensions

The new year could begin with a financial jolt for many veterans and widows in Minnesota on Veterans administration's pension rolls who have failed to return their annual income questionaire to VA.

Nonservice-connected totaly and permanently disabled veterans and wartime veterans' widows who met income limitations are eligible for pensions.

The law requires these beneficiaries to report their income each year in order that the VA can determine the amount of pension to which they are intitled. Such pension is related directly to income. The questionnaire requesting data on 1968 income received and 1969 income estimated was sent to over two million pension recipients about the first of November. Deadline for returning the questionaire to VA was set at January 15. Approximately 645,000 pensioners have not returned the questionaire.

John R. Murphy, manager of the VA center in St Paul, said today that until the VA receives 1969 income estimates from these beneficiaries, it cannot determine or pay any pension benefits to them. And in 1969, discontinuance of pension payments could be more costly for many of these beneficiaries than in the past.

Starting January 1, VA pensions were completely restructured, he said. Income limits were raised $20 for all pensioners. Further, the previous three income levels used in determining the amount of benefits a recipient may be paid were increased to between 13 and 28 income levels in $100 increments.

For approximately 1.2 million beneficiaries on the VA pension rolls, this restructuring will mean higher monthly payments in 1969.

Failure to return the income questionnaire could mean the loss of $110 a month in pension payments in 1969—compared with the present rate of $104, for the veteran with no dependents and little or no income. The loss could be $130 a month instead of the present $119 for the veteran with three dependents and little or no income, Murphy said.

The manager urged those who have not returned the questionnaire to complete it and mail it in the self-addresed envelope without delay. He also reminded these veterans and widows that any information and assistance they may need in completing the questionaire may be obtained from their nearest VA office or county service officer.

Patients To Pay Increased Share Under Medicare

A person 65 and older hospitalized January 1 or later will be responsible for an additional $4 of his hospital bill.

This means that next year medicare will pay all except the first $44 of ordinary hospital expenses in a benefit period. The patient will have to pay the first $44. Before 1969, medicare paid all except the first $40.

Rapidly rising costs of hospital care have made the increase necessary, said Clifford Kitelson, district manager for social security.

The original medicare law provided for a review of hospital costs each year starting in 1968. Increases in the deductible will be in multiples of $1 when hospital costs go up enough as measured against 1966 hospital costs.

Comparable increases go into effect in the co-insurance feature of hospital care. If a patient is in a hospital over 60 days, he will have to pay $11 a day instead of $10 from the 61st through the 90th day.

If he is hospitalized more than 90 days, he may draw on his 60-day lifetime reserve. During this period he will be asked to pay $22 a day instead of $20 a day under the present provision.

Medicare beneficiaries who entered a hospital before the end of 1968 will pay the $40 deductible. For these patients, the daily co-insurance figure for hospitalization over 60 days will continue at the old rates. This will be true even if hospitalization continues into 1969, Kitelson pointed out.

A benefit period begins when a person enters a hospital. It ends after he has been out of a hospital, extended care facility or nursing home for at least 60 days. When a person is hospitalized more than once in a benefit period, he pays the $44 only for the first hospitalization in his benefit period.

Veterans may receive Veterans administration care for service-connected dental conditions without supporting military records for six months after release.

More Lean Pork Produced for Consumer Market

Leanness of the pork carcasses and cuts that consumers buy today is much improved, compared to 1945 standards, according to Charles Christians, extension livestock specialist at the University of Minnesota and a show director.

As an example in 1945 less than 10 per cent of the sows were farrowing in the fall, according to Christians. Now this number has increased to 15 per cent.

Christians says educational institutes and clinics have helped show producers how to achieve a greater return by the use of record keeping and proper selection.

In 1945, the average loin-eye area of hogs entered in the state spring barrow show was 4.5 square inches. Hogs at the 1968 show averaged over five square inches of loin-eye area. In 1968, a record 9.13 square inch loin-eye was evaluated.

The first carcass show was held in 1960. Since then the average length of hogs entered in the carcass contest has increased from 29.6 inches to over 30 inches. The loin-eye area has increased from four to over five square inches, and the per cent ham and loin of a carcass weight has increased from 37 to almost 41 per cent.

Average backfat thickness of hogs entered in the show has gone from 1.5 to 1.1 inches in the past eight years.

Outpatient visits to Veterans administration hospitals, clinics and physicians paid by VA increased by 300,000 over the previous year to 6,561,000.

In this play four agitators, Scott Adolphson, Brian Larson, Fred Brodin and Bruce Anderson, come to a Chinese city to aid the revolution. The young comrade, Scott Adolphson, however, wants to help the masses, and lets pity enter into his concern. The agitators are forced to kill him because of this, and he agrees for the cause.

The parts of the leader, overseer, trader and policeman were taken by Fred Brodin. Bruce Anderson and Brian Larsen took the parts of the two coolies and the two textile workers. Jeri Holte, Paulette Philipp, Renee Engen, Karen Treumer and Steve Hall composed the chorus which acted as jury in justifying the agitators' decision to kill the comrade. Tim Hoel student director.

Highway Dep't. Aids Expectant Mother in Storm

How phone messages relayed around downed lines, a midnight drive in blinding snow, a midnight to morning vigil, and finally a drive through snowclogged highways got a Beltrami farm wife to the hospital in time for the birth of her daughter was recounted today by Minnesota Highway Patrol officer Max Engel of Crookston. Highway patrol radio in Thief River Falls played a part in the story.

The incident began when, at the height of the first bad storm of the season December 12 and 13, Mrs. Aren Leiser began experiencing labor pains at the Leiser farm home about eight miles south and west of Beltrami, and the family made plans to take her to the hospital at Crookston.

The telephone lines to Crookston were out of service in the storm, so they called relatives in Moorhead to report the predicament and ask for help. The Moorhead relatives were able to reach the highway patrol in Crookston and report that the Leisers had started out for Crookston in two cars.

This message was received at 11:30 p.m. Officer Engel was assigned to the job. Because of the deep snow and near-zero visibility, it was decided to ask help from a snow-plow crew. At 12:30 a.m., a procession set out for Beltrami—Dunne Austin driving the snow plow with Albert Hoglund, Jr., as wingman; LeRoy C. Hamre accompanying Engle and acting as "navigator," directing him to the farm.

Meanwhile, another call was relayed from Beltrami. One of the Leiser cars had become stalled, and it was decided to welcome news because the patrol officers knew that the unescorted cars would never make it to Crookston on their own.

Indeed, even the snow plow had trouble. At one point along the way, in the blinding storm, it had run off the road and had to travel about a quarter mile in the ditch before it could get back on the highway.

At Thief River Falls, the radio dispatcher kept track of their progress, farm by farm and mile by mile. South of Beltrami, the expedition left trunk highway 9 for a blacktop county road, and arrived at the Leiser farm at 3 a.m., after more than two and one-half hours.

Their arrival eased the anxiety of the household and comforted Mrs. Leiser. It was decided to wait for sunlight before braving the highways again. At dawn they started out, with the plow in the lead until they reached Beltrami. Beyond that the patrol car was able to continue at a better speed, and the patient was soon in the care of the Crookston hospital staff.

Most Assistance On Freeways Due To Empty Tanks

Half of the services performed by Minnesota highway patrol officers to distressed cars on the freeways are to drivers who have run out of gasoline, Patrol Chief John J. Harbinson pointed out today.

"The freeways, with their high speeds and high traffic densities, require that vehicles be in first-rate operating condition," he said. "An empty fuel tank does not meet the requirement, and the driver who takes his vehicle on the freeway without checking this point creates a danger for himself and for other traffic.

"It is apparent that most of the disabilities caused by empty fuel tanks are the result of driver carelessness or forgetfulness.

"Drivers can save themselves time and embarrassment by checking their gas gauges before going on the freeway, and filling tanks when they are low."

It is also a good idea, the chief advises, to keep the gasoline tank at least half full during cold weather driving. The fuller the tank the less space available for the forming of condensation, a common cause of gas line freezing.

Other major causes of disability, he said, include battery failure, carburetor failure, ignition failure and tire trouble. "These failures, while often impossible to anticipate, are frequently a result of inadequate maintenance," he said. "Generally speaking, the car that is serviced frequently and well maintained as to battery, points and plugs, tires and carburetor is much less likely to develop serious trouble. Drivers who use the freeways owe it to themselves and others to observe high standards of maintenance."

It's Jaycee Week

This week is being observed in Thief River Falls, as throughout the nation, as Jaycee Week. It is designed by the U.S. Jaycees to call attention to the leadership training given to young men through community improvement, and to the community service provided by the young men's organization.

We would like to join in a salute to the Thief River Falls chapter for their many service projects. We can think of their shopping tour for underprivileged youngsters, the downtown Nativity scene, work on a community attitude survey, their successful push for much needed street signs, the entertainment attraction of the Aquacade and snowmobile rally, scholarship donations, recognition of deserving citizens, youth activities, playground cleanups and get-out-the-vote reminders. There are many other programs which do not immediately come to mind.

While these direct services are apparent as they are being conducted, there is another service which the Jaycees organization performs which is not so apparent but possibly more important. That is the training in leadership of young men, creating an interest in their community and preparing them for further service after they pass the maximum Jaycee age of 35 years. Jaycees is a training ground, an opportunity for young men to "test their wings", to learn to work with others and to see their ideas put into action.

Membership in the Jaycees is open to any young man between the ages of 21 and 35 who has an interest in improving himself and his community. There is much satisfaction to be received from participating.

Mondale on Voting

Sen. Walter Mondale, together with a considerable number of other people, is dissatisfied with the electoral college system of electing a President. On the surface of things, it seems that a popular vote should be the most equitable method used, for it makes every vote of every voter count the way that voter intended it to count.

Commenting on the electoral system, Sen. Mondale states: "It is a 'winner-take-all' system, providing that all a state's electoral votes go to the winner whether the margin is one vote or one million.

"Our electoral college system . . . takes the minority votes and in effect casts them for the majority candidate against the wishes of the minority. This discourages minority votes in one-party states, since the minority voters know that all the state's electoral votes will go for the majority. It gives states with low voter turnouts the same electoral power as states with high voter turnouts.

"This winner-take-all system permits the election of a President with a minority of the popular vote. Given the right set of circumstances, 25 per cent of the popular vote could mean a majority in the electoral college.

"The present system forces candidates to campaign in only a few large states for, by winning these states by even a one-vote majority, the candidate receives 100 per cent of the state's electoral votes," Sen. Mondale said.

The senator's concern seems to be stimulated by one electoral college elector in North Carolina who cast his vote for George Wallace, although Richard Nixon received the most votes of the three candidates and should have had all 13 of the state's votes. The elector's vote was challenged in Congress, but without success—likely because it made no difference in the final outcome.

But the situation did show a flaw in the electoral system: Although custom dictates an elector shall cast his vote for the candidate who wins a plurality in his state, there is nothing to guarantee that he actually does so.

"Given a slightly different set of circumstances—a shift of a few thousand votes in a key state and a subsequent deadlock in the electoral college, with no candidate having a majority—and the result would have been the most serious constitutional crisis in the 20th century," the senator says.

He notes that it would have been possible, had the election been deadlocked and made the responsibility of the House of Representatives, each state would have one vote, regardless of population. The 26 smallest states, representing 31 million people, could conceivably elect the President over the votes of 24 states representing 170 million people. Again, this is unlikely but it is possible.

Since the popular vote determines, at least by custom and precedent, the electoral vote, why shouldn't the popular vote be sufficient in itself? We would like to hear more about the question from those who favor continuance of the electoral system.

Toward Common Sense

What we consider to be an enlightened viewpoint is expressed by the Industrial News Review, published in Oregon. The opinion of the Review editors is expressed as follows:

Evidence is growing that common sense is beginning to enter the picture of firearms control. Rather than saddling the law-abiding citizen with onerous restrictions, a number of states are enacting measures imposing mandatory penalties for the misuse of firearms in crime, a step that has long been advocated by responsible groups and public officials.

Pennsylvania and Alaska enacted mandatory penalty laws in 968. The Maryland Legislature will soon have before it a bill to impose a five-year sentence on every person convicted of a crime with a dangerous or deadly weapon. A similar proposal is expected to be before the 1969 Nevada Legislature. Another straw in the wind is the resolution adopted at the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, urging increased sentences for crimes with firearms and opposing federal firearms registration.

These are constructive steps. And they are an encouraging contrast to the kind of extremism which holds that the cure for practically any problem lies in granting the federal government increased police powers over the affairs of nonlawbreakers. The American people have never taken kindly to this brand of oppression. So far as most citizens are concerned, it went out of style with the American Revolution.

Shoplifting Problem

Thief River Falls, like virtually all other communities in the nation, has a shoplifting problem. The buying public can not shrug off that problem, for it must surely be added to the merchants' cost of doing business. The shoplifer is no less a thief than a person who breaks into a building and steals money or goods.

A United Press International news report says, "The growth of shoplifting has become a national scandal. The Federal Bureau of Investigation and the National Retail Merchants association believe shoplifting increased by about 93 per cent from 1960 through 1966 and still is skyrocketing."

Figures such as these have both a moral and a practical side. On the moral side, they leave but one conclusion—we are becoming a nation of thieves. On the practical side, the soaring incidence of pilferage and shoplifting increases the cost of doing business, which must be passed on ultimately to consumers.

The spread of shoplifting is a sad commentary on our intelligence. Retail distributors, like any other business, must make a profit to live. The mountains of luxuries and necessities that are put at our fingertips by the nation's retailers did not descend from heaven. They were put there by hard work, good management and the investment of savings in small stores and large, from the local general merchandising outlet to the chain organizations that have become known to every household and represent mass distribution at its best.

The kind of mass thievery we call shoplifting will not only drive up prices, but will lead to controls and surveillance distasteful to both honest consumers and merchants. More stringent laws are being written, stores are employing more detectives and more sophisticated electronic and mechanical detecting devices to protect the goods on their shelves. The cure for shoplifting, however, as with most of our current ills, lies with a rebirth of individual responsibility and a respect for the rights and property of others.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by Marty McGowan

The House Chambers were filled to capacity with more than 200 guests last week as Governor Harold LeVander presented his State of the State message to a joint convention of the Minnesota Legislature.

These traditional joint conventions are most colorful ceremonies. The adjutant general's office of the Minnesota National Guard was in complete charge of the event. Military police were stationed at all entrances to the House chambers, and admission to the chambers was very closely-guarded with only special printed invitations honored at the door.

The center section of the gallery in the House, by tradition, was always reserved for the immediate family and friends of the governor. Mrs. LeVander and the governor's children were seated in this area together with other close personal friends. Many legislator's wives occupied seats in the gallery and on the floor of the House.

By this time you have, undoubtedly, read in detail the governor's message to the Minnesota Senate and House of Representatives. I felt that Governor LeVander's remarks offered an inspiring approach to the problems of government in Minnesota today.

I was particularly pleased to see the governor place great emphasis on the need for combating crime in Minnesota. He presented some very disturbing statistics which indicate that crime of all types is on a very marked increase in our state. The governor indicated that a special message detailing a comprehensive program on crime prevention and law enforcement will be presented at later date to the legislature.

Governor LeVander also stressed the need for maintaining high quality education for the young people of Minnesota. He pointed out that he would like to see an expansion of the state program of scholarships for students who deserve and are seeking higher education. I might add that I was co-author of the bill establishing scholarships passed by the last session of the legislature. He also stressed the need for further study and funds for additional junior colleges in Minnesota.

Among many points covered in this most comprehensive report to the people of this state, he offered a four-point program for improving occupational safety for the workers of Minnesota. Also covered were some very positive suggestions in the area of rural economic development. We know that many communities in out-state Minnesota are facing a most serious decline in economy, and this problem will rate top priority as it comes to the attention of the legislature this year.

All of us in the House will be listening with great interest when Governor LeVander presents his budget message at a later date. I feel, sincerely, that we should meet the most essential needs of our state in the area of education and welfare without going "wild" in raising existing taxes or imposing new taxes on the people of our state.

We know that additional funds will be needed, but I feel that we should search out areas of taxation where the people of middle and lower income groupings will not be hurt.

I want you to know that I can be reached at the Capitol at any time should you wish to discuss problems you feel should come to the attention of the legislature. Please call or write me at any time and, also, if possible, stop by and visit with me when you are in the Twin Cities.

Letters to the Editor

Sirs:

Am enclosing a check for another years subscription. I have long been away from Gryglu but still recall the many years I spent there. Your paper is my only means of remaining in touch and I thank you for your precise reporting.

I am now almost 91 years of age but still enjoy hearing of old acquaintances. Most of my husband's (and mine) old friends are dead or moved but your paper remains my link to the old "home town"

Thank you,

City Directory Distributed to TRF Subscribers

The city directory local for Thief River Falls has just been distributed to subscribers by R. L. Polk and company.

The new edition is a substantial, handy volume, listing 3,640 personal and business names in Thief River Falls, including rural routes, with 18 continued as the minimum listing age. The aforementioned count considers the combined names of man and wife as only one name, the publishers explained.

The directory shows occupation or business connection, marital status and name of wife, whether head of house or roomer, names and titles of proprietors and officers of corporations, and other items of information.

Special regular features of the new directory include the designations of tenant-owned and rented homes; telephone number listings by streets and houses; telephone numbers in numerical order; and the zip code numbers shown on the street and avenue guide.

The variety of business locally is revealed by the many groups catalogued in the yellow pages of the new directory, ranging alphabetically downward from "Accountants - Certified Public" to "Wood Products - Manufacturers."

As with previous editions, there will be a distribution of the new directory to replace the last directory in free-reference directory libraries in other cities, the publishers announced. This distribution is a part of the service maintained by the members of the Association of North American Directory publishers in connection with the publication of their directories, they said, and will help to keep outsiders acquainted with this community and its people and products. A branch of this out-of-town directory service is located at the offices of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, city auditorium, where a number of directories for other communities may be used.

TRASH PROBLEM SOLVED

An automatic LP-gas home incinerator is the answer to the trash and garbage collection problem in rural and other outlying areas, the National LP-Gas Association points out. These compact units are smokeless and odorless and can dispose of all burnable items.

Women Voters Seek Changes In Legislature

League of Women Voters of Minnesota believes there is an urgent need to strengthen the Minnesota legislature. Changes are needed in both structure and procedure if the legislature is to be an effective policy-making body.

Though the legislature has not communicated its problems to the general public, it is aware of its deficiencies and is working to correct them. This process should be accelerated, the league chairman says.

While no single change will dramatically alter the legislature, the league places priority in three areas: annual sessions, more staff, and better dissemination of information.

These conclusions are the result of an 18-month study by the League of Women Voters of Minnesota. Members in 70 local leagues participated in the study. The league will be working actively at the 1969 legislature for the following specific changes:

Session: The legislature should meet annually and should have the power to determine the time of meeting, the length of session and to recess if desirable.

Size: A small legislature is desirable. The league strongly opposes any increase in the size of the present legislature.

Salary: Compensation for legislators should be realistic and should reflect the demands upon them, particularly the increase in time spent between sessions.

Information: The legislature should improve its procedures for providing information to the legislators and to the general public. Such improvements in procedure might include:

- Providing advance notice of hearings on bills.
- Making copies of bills or summaries of bills easily available to legislators.
- Attaching fiscal notes and summaries to bills.
- Keeping permanent committee records.
- Providing for a legislative press-secretary.

Staff: The legislature needs additional clerical staff and full-time qualified research assistance. An intern program might be used to supplement staff and would be beneficial to students of government.

Committees: There should be fewer committees and the committee structure in both houses should be parallel. The minority caucus should have proportional representation on committees and should appoint the minority members to the committees. There should be a limit to the number of committees on which any one legislator serves.

ROAST IN MODERATE OVEN

Keep oven temperatures in the moderate 300 to 325 degree range when roasting meat. Moderate oven temperatures will retain meat flavor and juices, and reduce shrinkage.

Speedometer error is common among automobile malfunctions, reminds the Minnesota AAA. If you believe you are driving regularly at, or within, posted speed limits—but consistently pass most other vehicles—your speedometer is probably slow and should be checked.

Northland Teams Lose To Hibbing JC Friday

By Dary Augustine
Times Reporter

Both Northland state junior college teams suffered defeats on Friday night in competition with the Hibbing state junior college Cardinals. Northmen wrestlers were defeated by a score of 21-16, and the cagers by a score of 90-84.

Coach John Steull of the Northmen wrestlers lost his second match of the season because of two forfeits. The matmen were forced to spot the Cardinals 10 points in the 123-pound and 130-pound classes.

Duane Paulson, area-vocational student who wrestles exhibition for the Northmen at 130 pounds, won his match by a pin at one minute and 12 seconds. Paulson's match, however, must be forfeited because he is not taking courses at the junior college, which are required to be eligible.

Don Sollom, 160-pounds, and Lynn Marek, 177-pounds, were the only men for the Northmen to gain points with a pin. Sollom pinned his man in three minutes, 18 seconds, and Marek with the clock stopping at 1:43. Sollom scored one take-down, one near-fall and a reversal before making the pin and Marek scored on a take-down before the final pin.

Gaining decisions for the Northmen were Bruce Nordhagen, 137-pounds, over Tom Thompson; and Dave Rodahl 152-pounds, over Mark Kuntz. Nordhagen won by a score of seven to five, and Rodahl made a clean sweep of 10 to nothing.

Only Northmen to fall to the Cardinals were Bruce Reed, Les Olson and Ken Kuznia. Reed lost by a pin and Olson and Kuznia by decisions.

Score was 16-18 in favor of the Cardinals going into the heavy-weight match between Ken Kuznia of the Northmen and Larry Mujewski. Score was tied at one to one at the end of the match between the heavy weights, but Mujewski was given the decision for having more riding time than Kuznia.

Northland wrestlers now have one victory and three losses. Next action for the matmen will be in Northland's homecoming game on Saturday with Brainerd Junior college. Game time is 1 p.m., in the Lincoln high school gymnasium.

Cagers lose 8th

Northland cagers held the upper hand in the beginning of Friday night's action, but lost their grip on the Cardinals when they didn't make a point in the last four minutes of first half play. The Northmen jumped to an early lead, but turned cold on the boards to leave the floor at half-time with a score of 37-28 with the Cardinals leading.

Nick Neibauer, freshman from Mentor, led the Northland quints in scoring. Neibauer dumped eight shots from the field and five from the charity line for a total of 21 points, but fouled out with four minutes left in the game.

Tom Super, sophomore from Mentor who has led the Northmen scoring in the last five games, settled for second place with 18 points. Super would perhaps have kept his scoring leadership, but fouled out of the game with six minutes left to play.

High point individual for Hibbing Cardinals and the game was center Frank Russ. Russ scored nine field goals and five free shots for a total of 23 points.

Others scoring in double figures were Tom Butorne 22 points; Bill Zeiher, 11 points; Kenny Lee, 10 points; and Tom Tintor, 16 points, all from the Cardinals; and Dwight Jaros, 10 points and Frank Dewey, 15 points, from the Northmen.

Next action for the Northmen will be in their homecoming game on Saturday afternoon in the Lincoln high school gymnasium. The game will follow the wrestling match which is scheduled for 1 p.m.

Coach Al Adams' cagers now have two wins and eight losses.

The following is a summary of wrestling and basketball action on Friday night:

Seasons Are Set

Opening dates for the 1969 hunting seasons were announced today by the Minnesota conservation department. The opening dates are announced early to inform sportsmen who must schedule vacations and hunting trips at the beginning of the year.

State game and fish director Richard Wettersten said that the dates will stand unless the 1969 legislature enacts hunting season regulations which would prohibit an opening on the dates indicated.

He pointed out, however, that if surveys by the division show that closing a season or changing the opening dates is necessary to protect a game species from undue depletion, the season will be changed or closed.

Length of the season and bag limits will not be announced until late summer or early fall when more complete information is available on the status of wildlife populations.

Winter survival, spring nesting success and other factors will determine the abundance and distribution of game species available for the fall hunting seasons, he explained.

Opening dates for 1969 are as follows: September 27, squirrels and rabbits; October 4, deer—bow and arrow (October season); September 27, ruffed grouse and sharptailed grouse;

Also October 25, pheasants and Hungarian partridge; November 8, deer-firearms; and November 29, deer—bow and arrow (December season).

Joppru Tallies 34 In Overtime Win

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Whistles blew and blew at East Grand Forks on Friday night as Thief River Falls Prowlers and East Grand Forks Little Green Wave met on the hardwood courts to play basketball. The outcome was the Prowlers snapping a four-game losing string as they edged the Little Green Wave 73-72 in overtime.

Whistles were blowing from the time the ball was tossed at center court at the beginning of the contest until the end of the game as the officials called a total of 57 fouls. This was only part of the story, as the whistle blew a number of times that each team turned the ball over during the contest. The referees must have blown the little steel object over 100 times.

The game found a total of six players fouling out of the contest, three from each side, while the Prowlers had a total of 31 fouls among eight players. East Grand Forks was called for 26 fouls among eight players.

While the whistles were blowing the two teams tried their best to run away with the game but just couldn't get out of reach of the other squad. Both teams shot well from the floor with the Prowlers having the edge by a 28-24 field goal margin, but the Little Green Wave held the edge 24-17 at the free throw line.

Fouling out for the Prowlers were two starters and one reserve, as coach Whitey Olson started two new boys in the line-up against East Grand Forks Friday. Starting for the Prowlers were Don Balmer and Mike Hamerlinck at the forward positions, Sheldon Joppru at center, and Rip Poppenhagen and Don Brodin at the guards. Balmer and Brodin fouled out of the contest, while Balmer's replacement, Steve Edlund, also drew five fouls.

Joppru, played his usual style of game, tallied 34 points while picking off 20 rebounds for the Prowlers, as he took scoring honors for the contest.

The game, which was close all the way, found the Little Green Wave taking the lead at the end of the first two periods by 17-16 and 34-32 scores. In the first period Joppru tallied 10 points. In the second period he scored eight more to bring his total to 18 at the end of the first half.

In the third period the Prowlers gained the lead but lost Balmer with Edlund replacing him, then Edlund fouled out mid-way through the period, with Dave Kildahl replacing him. In the period the Prowlers gained the lead and built it up to 54-50, the biggest lead enjoyed by either team up to that point.

In the final period the Little Green Wave rallied to a five-point lead at 63-58, but Don Brodin tallied four points to bring the Prowlers within one point at 63-62. Two free throws by Don Jamieson upped the lead to 65-62, before Joppru tallied a basket to make it 65-64. A basket by Scott Rousseau gave the Green Wave the lead by three once again, but a foul on a lay-up made by Tony Johnson put the Prowlers within one with 1:41 left in the game. Johnson sank the free throw, knotting the game at 67-67.

The Green Wave then went into a stalling move, only to have Joppru steal the ball with the Prowlers coming down the court and taking the shot only to find East Grand Forks coming up with the rebound with eight seconds left in the game.

Coach Olson then played the percentages as Johnson fouled Scott Gravseth who was shooting 37 per cent from the free throw line. The gamble paid off as Gravseth missed the free throw with Joppru getting the rebound and sending the game into overtime.

In the overtime period, East Grand Forks scored first on a basket by Jamieson. Dave Kildahl was then fouled and missed the free throw but Joppru tipped the ball in to knot the score once again 69-69. With 1:57 left, Kildahl intercepted a Green Wave pass and broke for a lay-up, giving the Prowler the lead at 71-69, only to see Scott Gravseth knotting the score once again with 1:42 left in the game at 71-71.

Jamieson picked up his fifth foul as he fouled Joppru, with Shelly missing the free throw. With 1:02 left in the game, Brodin fouled Tom Budge who made the first free throw, giving the Little Green Wave the lead at 72-71. He missed the second shot, with the Prowlers gaining control of the ball. The ball was then passed from Darrold Rodahl to Joppru who took the shot, missed, and tried three more rebound shots that failed. But Tony Johnson came up with the ball and laid it up with 22 seconds left, and the Prowlers had the lead by one, 73-72.

East Grand Forks came up the court and hurried the pass, with Joppru gaining control of the pass and holding the ball with five seconds left, giving the Prowlers their fifth win of the season and second in Big Five conference action.

The game was a real team effort as each boy played a good game, according to coach Olson.

Next action for the Prowlers will be against Ada on Friday night as they host the Vikings, and then travel to Climax on Saturday night in a Big Five conference game.

'B' SQUAD ACTION.

Just like the varsity game, the 'B' squad of the Prowlers squeaked out a one point win, 55-54. It marked the seventh win for the junior Prowlers against one defeat.

It was a story of free throws, as the same two officials had just as much fun blowing their whistles in the preliminary game as they did in the second game between the two varsity teams. In the junior varsity game the whistle was blown a total of 48 times for fouls 31 on East Side and 17 on the Prowlers.

Free throws won the game for the Prowlers in the 'B' squad game as they were out-scored from the field by a 22-13 margin but had the edge at the line with 29 to 16.

Three Prowlers were in double figures with Darrold Rodshl and Mark Thyren tallying 13 points each while Pat Hamilton added 11 points.

The Prowlers trailed at the end of the first period 12-10 but led at the other two stops at 30-24 and 44-43.

University of North Dakota basketball teams participated in two NCAA college division national finals tournaments at Evansville, Ind., in 1965 and 1966, placing third and fourth in the eight team fields.

Icemen Fall To G.F. Central 4-2

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Thief River Falls hockey squad traveled to Grand Forks on Saturday to meet the defending North Dakota state champions, Grand Forks Central. The Redskins racked up their 10th win of the season as they defeated the Prowlers by a 4-2 score. The loss left the Prowlers with an even 6-6-1 record, and they will now meet Red Lake Falls on Tuesday night at the city arena.

The Prowlers played without the services of their scoring ace, Rick Holmes, who remained back home nursing the flu. Holmes, the Prowlers' leading scorer had been out of school since Wednesday with the bug that had plagued the Prowler basketball and wrestling squads in the past few weeks.

The Prowlers tried to make the contest a close one as they trailed by a 2-1 score at the end of the first period, only to see the defending North Dakota state champions increase that lead to 4-1 by the end of the second period. The Redskins failed to score during the third period as the Prowlers added the final goal of the game in the last period.

Central jumped to a 1-0 lead with 1:08 gone in the contest as the 'Skins Dennis Johnson tallied on an assist by Gary Stjern. Seven minutes later the Redskins upped the score of 2-0 on a goal by Mike Bertsch, assisted by Don Peterson and Jim Gambucci. Time of the goal was 8:56.

The Prowlers' goal came at 14:45 by Dennis Johnson unassisted. The goal came off a deflection off a Central defensive man.

Peterson scored the next two goals for the Redskins in the second period as the host club took command of the game. His first goal of the period came at 6:27 on an assist from Bertsch; the second came at 11:05 on assists from Bertsch and Gambucci. The two goals made the score 4-1 in favor of the Redskins at the end of two periods.

The third period found the Prowlers scoring the lone goal. Donn Haugen scored after he caught the Skins goalie going the wrong way after the puck. As he moved to guard against a passoff Haugen slapped the puck into the net with the score coming on an assist from Bill Norman at 2:09 in the period.

The Prowlers are now back in action on Tuesday night as they play host to the Red Lake Falls club in a Region Eight battle at the city arena.

Fertile Defeats Matmen 27-16

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Scoring two pins, five decisions and one draw, the Fertile Falcons defeated the Thief River Falls Prowlers wrestling squad 27-16 Thursday evening at the Lincoln high school gym.

The loss was the third straight dual meet defeat suffered by the Prowlers, who saw their record for the season fall to 3-4. Fertile, meanwhile, ran their record to 5-1.

Although Fertile won the team score, the matches were very close as three were won by one point and another match was a draw. The Prowlers in the match needed was in the last two matches if they were going to win the dual meet, but the wrestlers from Fertile gained a 5-0 decision and then a 1-0 decision in the heavyweight division to win the match.

The Prowlers tallied 18-10 going into the 145-pound class. Tom Duke, one of two wrestlers undefeated in dual competition, scored an 8-1 decision over Mark Lindberg, cutting the score to 18-13. Tim Duke wrestling in the 154-pound division, won a 2-0 decision over Lee Lindberg, thus giving the Falcons a two-point lead, 18-16.

Fertile put the match out of reach by winning the last three matches, all by decisions. In the 165-pound weight class Richard Hruby, Thief River Falls, lost a match in the final seconds as Steve Menke scored a reversal after Hruby had a 1-0 lead on an escape. Hruby thus bowed to Menke 2-1, giving the Falcons a 21-16 lead.

Eddie Furuseth, the other Prowler undefeated in dual competition this year, pinned Bob Wright in five minutes, as both Tom Duke and Furuseth ran their winning strings to seven straight in dual action. Tom Duke remained the only undefeated wrestler on the Prowler squad as he has won all his matches this year, including tournament championships at the North Dakota Sioux Invitational and the Grand Rapids Invitational.

The Prowler 'B' squad team was also defeated by the younger Falcons as they tallied a 36-12 win over the younger Prowlers. Winning matches for the Prowlers in 'B' squad action were Allen Taylor and Jerry Muzzy, as they both picked up two points for draws. Randy Johnson scored a pin while Jerry Meyers gained a decision for all 12 of the Prowlers points in the match.

Tuesday the Prowler 'B' squad fell to Oklee by a 33-16 score. Winners in that match against Oklee were Mark Kaushagen, on a decision; Skip Bridger, on a decision; Tim Duke on a decision; and Jerry Meyers on a pin.

Next action for the two Prowler wrestling squads will be Wednesday evening as they travel to Bemidji to meet the Lumberjacks, who are ranked 6th in the state high school wrestling ratings.

Results of Thursday's matches against Fertile are as follows:

95 Pounds—Jerry Sannes, F, pinned Joel Kezar, TRF. Time: 2:47.

County Tax Delinquency Second Lowest on Record

Tax delinquency in Pennington county for 1968 was second to the all-time low, according to A. E. Jorgenson, county treasurer. Delinquency in 1968 was 2.09 per cent, compared with 2.42 per cent a year ago and the all-time low of 1.8 per cent in 1958. Highest delinquency was the first year in which such records were kept—15 per cent in 1938.

Total levy for 1968 was $1,482,523 with $1,449,083 collected and only $30,944 delinquent. Cancellations and abatements totaled $2,495, Jorgenson said.

The 1967 delinquency of 2.42 per cent was on a total levy of $1,653,618 of which $1,613,840 was collected and $40,125 was delinquent. The lower total levy for 1968 is explained by the personal property tax reduction under the sales tax law. The 35 per cent credit under the law in 1968 amounted to $146,500.

Jorgenson's records show that only Mayfield township has no delinquent taxes at the end of the year. Total levy in that township was $13,775.40, all of which was paid.

River Falls township has only .59 per cent delinquent with $36,362 paid on a total levy of $36,579. Rocksbury township was in third position at .87 per cent delinquent, paying $73,859 of a total levy of $74,509. These were the only townships with less than one per cent of tax delinquent.

Thief River Falls itself had a delinquency of only 1.04 per cent, with $863,650 paid on a total levy of $874,260. In 1967 the city had 1.35 per cent delinquency, paying $902,008 of a total levy of $916,433.

Black River township had the highest 1968 delinquency with 10.99 per cent, paying $14,644 of a total levy of $16,648. St. Hilaire village was a close second with 10.74 per cent delinquency, paying $10,714 of a total levy of $12,033.

The village of Goodridge reduced its delinquency from 7.65 per cent in 1967 to 5.25 per cent in 1968. Collections for 1968 were $5,481 on a total levy of $5,801.

Numedal township was the only other with delinquency in excess of 10 per cent, having 10.18 per cent delinquent. Taxes paid totaled $18,739 while the total levy was $20,865.

Search Futile In T.R.F. for Beatle Record

Investigation following a front page story Friday in the Minneapolis Star regarding a controversial phonograph record cover has failed to turn up a local dealer. The story in the Star indicated that the record was being sold in Thief River Falls and Mitchell, S.D., although the distributor was having trouble placing it in Twin Cities stores.

The by-lined story by Deborah Howell of the Star staff stated that: "The album, just-arrived in Minnesota, is in a brown wrapper decorated with a photograph of the faces of Beatle, John Lennon and his girl friend, Yoko Ono. Take off the wrapper and you uncover more—a lot more. Like all of them. Well, not exactly. Lennon is wearing a necklace."

The writer quoted a spokesman for a record distributing company (neither the spokesman nor the record company wished to be named) as stating, "It's going to be tough to buy it in the metropolitan area. All the big stores and the chains turned it down. You can buy it in Mitchell, S.D., and in Thief River Falls. Some of the least likely places bought it. It's kinda weird."

The recording itself is the sound track of Miss Ono's latest underground movie, "Two Virgins", all electronic music coupled with some chants, the Star article states.

The article touched off a local search by concerned citizens none of whom were able to find the record for sale here. One of the concerns handling phonograph records called its distributor in Minneapolis, who in turn contacted all other record distributors in Minneapolis. All but one of the distributors did not handle the record, and the one which did had made no shipments of the record to Thief River Falls.

Brazilian Studies Ag Program Here

Carlos Tavares

To study the methods used in providing technical information to farmers in this area, Carlos Tavares of Recife, Brazil, spent Monday and Tuesday visiting in Thief River Falls. Tavares received his master's degree in agricultural education recently from the University of Minnesota.

In an interview with the Times Tuesday, Tavares cited the need for agricultural education in his country. He said that an agrarian reform program of the present government holds hope for "an improved agricultural situation, and noted that the tax structure is designed to discourage the purchase of land for speculation. Non-producing land is taxed at a higher rate than land in production, he said.

He noted that it is difficult to talk about Brazil as a single country, because there is great variety from one place to another. Coastal areas are highly developed and densely populated, while the interior has much less development, lacks good roads and has little or no processing facilities for products of agriculture.

Tavares also said that there are no middle class farmers in Brazil—the type of farmer referred to us the "family farmer"

P.T.A. Council To Reduce Its Scholarship

Thief River Falls P.T.A. council voted to decrease the scholarship which it sponsors to a $200 scholarship at the meeting on Wednesday in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. Reason for decreasing the amount was due to the dissolution of the Mark Twain P.T.A.

A report on the snow removal and repair of sidewalks project was given by John Sampson, chairman of the council. The council voted to continue to follow progress of sidewalk safety through T.C.D., and will submit a report along with its recommendations to the priority committee.

Other business included discussion on the Domian report, which was given by Dr. Davis during American Education week. A motion was adopted that the council submit a report to the state P.T.A.

C of C Speaker Boosts Free Enterprise System

COMMUNITY BUILDER award was presented by the Chamber of Commerce of Thief River Falls at its annual banquet Monday evening to William LaFave, left, in appreciation of outstanding service. Donald L. Olson, master of ceremonies for the annual banquet, made the presentation in the absence of Mayor A. E. Jacobson, who became ill and was hospitalized prior to the awards program.

Special Awards Presented To Local Recipients

Using audience participation to demonstrate his point, Albert V. Hartl championed the American free enterprise system in addressing the 55th annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Monday evening. The president of Otter Tail Power company spoke to the 225 people present at the annual event held in the American Legion club rooms.

Several special awards were also made at the gathering. William LaFave was presented with a community builder award for his efforts in community improvement and promotion. Donald L. Olson, master of ceremonies, made the presentation in the absence of Mayor A. E. Jacobson who became ill at the meeting.

Otis Wold of Piggly-Wiggly supermarket and L. L. Tygeson of Bridgeman Creameries were presented with honorary life memberships in the Chamber of Commerce by Justus Larson, 1968 president. The invocation was given by Rev. Hans Lillejord of Trinity Lutheran church and dinner music was furnished by Wayne Wegge.

Kenneth Onken, 1969 president of the organization, awarded a past president's plaque to Justus Larson and introduced the current board of directors. They include Glenn Peterson, Orville Hanson, Dick Bjorkman, Marvin Lundin, Otto Stenberg, Dr. A. M. Berg, Robert Kinsman, Rudy Mehlhaff, Roy Lee, Justus Larson, Victor Charles and Robert Carlson. Carlson represents the city council on the C of C board.

Peterson serves as first vice president with Bjorkman as second vice president and Hanson as treasurer. Merle Smith is executive secretary with Miss Mary Krarmer as office secretary.

Boosts Free Enterprise

Hartl used 16 volunteers from the audience in demonstrating the accomplishments of the free enterprise system Monday evening. He showed that the United States has one-sixteenth of the world's land area and only one-sixteenth of the world's population. But this country also has two-fifths of all the automobiles, two thirds of all the television sets, half of all the electricity and half of all the coffee in the world today.

"We must learn that no government in the United States has any money," Hartl told the Chamber of Commerce gathering, "except the money that is first taken from the people." He added that men and women in government gain no infinite wisdom through election, and they

Arctic Racer Wins World Championship

AN OUTSTANDING SEASON of racing on the Arctic Cat racing team was highlighted Sunday for Roger Janssen when he won the world championship snowmobile derby at Eagle River, Wis. By his own appraisal, he won about $11,000 in cash and prizes for topping the 11 entries who qualified for the event. Arctic Cat racing team drivers swept the first five places in the 16-lap event. For details on how Janssen almost didn't start—and was fortunate to finish—read the story in this issue of the Times.

by Marvin Landin
Times Editor

"It was a pretty good day." That was the summary statement of Roger Janssen, three-year veteran of Arctic Enterprises racing team, in commenting on his first place win at the world championship snowmobil derby held Sunday at Eagle River Wis.

By Roger's own estimate, the first place Sunday netted him about $11,000 in cash and prizes, including a new Porsche sports car and a trip for himself and his wife to Germany next summer. But all is not roses and honey in the snowmobile racing game, and Janssen came very close to not starting nor finish-race. More on that later.

The world championship, one of three major races in the United States each year, was a triumph for the local snowmobile manufacturing firm. When qualifying rounds were held Friday for the 10 positions on Sunday, the Arctic racing team placed six of its members in the finals. The other four were Ski-Doo machines.

When the race was over Sunday, Arctic racers had wrapped up the first five places. Following Janssen across the finish line, in order, were Charles Lofton, Wayne Burkel, Roger Hible and Dewey Paulson. Ken Belto, the sixth Arctic driver to qualify, was forced out of the race in the third lap with a broken ski. Lofton finished the race with only one ski.

Driving the same 744 cc machine which he has used throughout the current racing season, Janssen survived three near disasters to win the world title. As the 10 entries took the parade lap, his engine sputtered and failed. At the re-start Janssen, high in the first turn, was struck from behind, tossed from his machine and run over by at least one other entry. "I think I was run over by two sleds," Janssen told this writer Tuesday. "I felt the first one, and I guess I was out for awhile. I can remember being dizzy, like looking up in the air and having the ground go around under you. The back of my sled was smashed against the track, chunks of aluminum were gone and the braces were broken."

However, he and his pit crew straightened the frame enough to clear the machine's running track and, dizzy or not, Janssen made his third start with only one thing on his mind—to win!

He led the pack through the normal tangle of the first turn

Asks Farmers To Report Changes In Farm Size

Farmers participating in programs administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service should report to the county ASCS office any sale, purchase, lease or rental of farmland, according to Winlon Knutson, chairman of the Pennington ASCS committee.

"I strongly urge those who have added to or reduced the size of their farms to get the information to the county office before signup time for the commodity programs," Knutson said.

He pointed out that when the size of a farm is changed, the ASCS records must be changed, including recalculation of farm allotments and bases. "We call it farm reconstitution," he said, "and if the reconstitutions have been made and approved by the county committee before signup time, it saves time and effort for everybody."

Programs administered in Pennington county include feed grain, wheat, ACP, farm storage facility loans and price support loans.

Koskela and Arntson Vows Spoken Here December 21

In a Christmas setting at Redeemer Lutheran church in this city, Miss Elaine Marlys Koskela and Edward Lowell Arntson, both of Plummer, exchanged marriage vows at 3 p.m., Saturday, December 21.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Koskela of Plummer and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Arntson, who resided at Horace, N. D.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony were the Rev. M. J. Sheldahl and the Rev. Paul Gilbertson. Miss Betty Hagge, a friend of the couple, presided at the organ. Preceding the ceremony, she played a program of traditional Christmas music and for the processional played "The Coronation March". She also accompanied the Plummer high school trio, composed of Ronalie Valthauer, Diane Deinge and Charlene DuChamp, as the sang, "Song Of Ruth" and "God Gave Me You".

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a princess-styled, floor-length gown of white velvet fashioned with long tapered sleeves and a slightly scooped neckline edged in white fur. Creating back interest was a fur edged velvet train that flowed in chapel-length from her shoulders. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a white velvet headpiece and she carried a dozen red roses accented with Christmas balls and Christmas greens. Her silver earrings were a gift from the groom.

Miss Wanda J. Koskela of Plummer attended her sister as maid of honor. Chosen as bridesmaids were the daughters of the groom, Misses Stephanie and Lynn Arntson, both of Plummer. All wore identical floor-length gowns of red velvet. Designed in princess style, like the bridal gown, their gowns were also trimmed with white fur. Matching red velvet crowns held their brief white veils and each carried an arrangement of peppermint carnations complemented by red velvet Christmas balls and Christmas greens. Silver earrings and shoes, gifts from the bride, completed their attire.

Wearing similar attire was Debra Koskela of Plummer, a niece of the bride, who was the flower girl. Her pearl pendant was a gift from the bride. Matthew Arntson, a nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer. He wore black trousers and a red velvet vest.

Serving the bride as her personal attendant was her cousin, Mrs. Kathleen Brasgalla of Fargo, N.D.

Arlan Koskela of Plummer, a brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen were Ward Arntson of Plummer, a son of the groom, and Kenneth Johnson of Kindred, N.D., a friend. Ushers were Eric Arntson, a brother of the groom, and Daral Brasgalla, a cousin of the bride. All wore black tuxedos with peppermint carnations with the exception of the groom, whose boutonniere was a red rose taken from his bride's bouquet.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Koskela chose a red two-piece ensemble accented with black accessories and a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Serving as host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alm of Christine, N.D. Mrs. Arlan Koskela, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the guest book while Julie Smith and Jolene Johnson, friends of the couple, served the punch.

Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake baked and decorated by friends of the bride, Mrs. Edwin Lund and Mrs. George Severts. The three, round, upper tiers were separated by pillars and were trimmed with red roses as were the square base and the two sweetheart cakes that were on either side of the cake. Topping the cake was a miniature bride and groom ornament accented with a floral background. Mrs. Carl Koskela, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. James Smith, a sister-in-law of the groom, cut and served the cake while Mrs. Alton Skallet, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Edward Samuelson of Fargo, N.D., a cousin of the groom, poured.

Jere and Heide Alm, nephew and niece of the groom, and Dean Koskela, a nephew of the bride, distributed the groom's cake. Serving as waitresses were Bonnie Ruud, Diane Ruud, Rhonda Nilson, former students of the bride, Janet Lian and Mrs. Ted Koropatnicki. Ann Morrissey and Barb Johnson opened and arranged the gifts. Haren Arntson distributed the wedding programs and the gift bearers were Bryce Abrahamson, Donvon Ruud and Mark Arntson. The reception was served by members of the Rachel circle.

Approximately 200 relatives and friends attended the ceremony and reception. They were from Christine, Fargo, Kindred and Horace, N.D., Grygla, Gatzke, Crookston, Warren, Plummer and Newfolden.

For the wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., and surrounding areas, the bride was attired in a gold colored dress and coat with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Plummer high school and the Thief River Falls Training department. She is presently engaged as remedial teacher for the Grygla-Gatzke schools. The groom is a graduate of the Oak Grave high school, Concordia college and North Dakota State university. He is now serving as superintendant of the Plummer school.

Bette McLean-G. Sundberg Vows Exchanged at Grygla

Marriage vows were exchanged on Saturday, December 28, at 3 p.m., at the Grace Lutheran church at Grygla by Miss Bette McLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Sundberg, and Glenn E. Sundberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sundberg, all of the Grygla area.

Rev. Gary Olsen officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with candelabra and potted poinsettias. A decorated Christmas tree provided the chancel setting.

Mrs. Walter Jelle was the organist. She played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Miss Barbara Magnusen, a friend of the couple as she sang, "Song of Ruth" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her step-father. She was attired in a floor-length gown of bridal satin and lace designed and fashioned by her sister, Sandra McLean. The empire bodice, styled with Cantilly lace over satin, was fashioned with a slightly scooped neckline and full length bell sleeves of see-through lace. A satin band marked the empire waistline. Secured in back at the bodice was a chapel length train of double satin. Her elbow-length waterfall veil was held by a calla lily petal headpiece surrounded by organza florets and leaves. She carried a shower bouquet of red Yuletide roses, white baby mums and camellia foliage. Her pearl pendant was a gift from the groom.

Miss Sandra McLean of this city attended her sister as maid of honor and Miss Joy McLean of Grygla, also a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Both wore moss green floor-length gowns styled with a wide belt at the empire waistline fastened by a jeweled pin. Their brief moss green veils were held by matching moss green Chanel bows and each carried three long-stemmed chartruse carnations with moss green ribbon streamers and camellia foliage. Over-the-elbow white gloves and moss green heels completed their attire. The gowns were fashioned by Sandra McLean, sister of the bride.

Steven Sundberg of Grygla, a cousin of the groom, was best man. Groomsman was Bradley Byklum of Grygla, a friend of the couple and the ushers were Gerald McLean of Osseo, a brother of the bride, and Richard Lian of East Grand Forks, a brother-in-law of the groom. All wore dark business suits. The groom's boutonniere was a red rose from the bridal bouquet and the other men of the wedding party wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride wore a white knit two piece suit with a brown and turquoise pattern, complemented by black accessories and a corsage of chartruse mums and carnations. A similar corsage was worn by the mother of the groom who was attired in a camel brown dress and black accessories.

Attending as honor guest was Mrs. Currie Levang, of Thief River Falls, grandmother of the bride. She was presented with a corsage of red carnations and white baby mums.

Approximately 150 relatives and friends attended the reception that was hosted in the church parlors by the parents of the bride.

Centering the serving table was a square, four-tiered wedding cake topped by a wedding bell ornament backed by a filigreed heart. Between each tire, supported by swan pillars, were white wedding bells touched with green. Mrs. Wallace Anderson and Mrs. Gerald McLean, sister and sister-in-law of the bride, respectively, cut and served the cake. Pouring were Mrs. Ida Sund, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Roland Sundberg, aunt of the groom.

Mrs. Richard Lian, sister of the groom, registered the guests. Presiding at the punch bowl were Miss Elaine Anderson and Miss Beverly Johnson, friends of the bride. Waitresses were Kathy Hillman, cousin of the bride; Hollis Sundberg, cousin of the groom; and Elizabeth Johnson, a friend of the bride. Mrs. Bruce Sandahl, Mrs. Wes Skibicki and Monica Hees, all friends of the bride, opened and arranged the gifts. Serving as gift bearers were Julie McLean, sister of the bride and Susan Anderson, cousin of the groom.

Relatives and friends attending were from East Grand Forks, Goodridge, Erskine, Thief River Falls, Minneapolis, Osseo, Bemidji, Red Lake Falls, Holt and Warren.

For the wedding trip along the North Shore drive, the bride was attired in a navy blue dress styled with long sleeves and an A-line skirt.

The bride and groom are graduates of Goodridge high school. The bride is also a graduate of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school and is employed by the Thief River Falls Clinic. The groom is serving with the United States Army in Okinawa. Photo, Lund Photography, Roseau.

in the United States. In Brazil there are only the farmers with several acres or the large farmers with thousands of acres and many men working on their farm. He is hopeful that the agrarian reform will permit greater education of the farmer and a more productive agriculture.

While equipment is necessary to better farming, he said, education must come with it. The people has an increasing interest in agricultural education, but agriculture is not taught in the middle school—equivalent to our high school. Agricultural extension has done a good job, he said, but there are too few workers in the extension program to meet the need.

"Some people say that a little government in business isn't going to hurt anything," the Otter Tail executive said. "At the risk of being considered indelicate, let me say that a little government in business is about the same as being a little bit pregnant. It has a way of growing."

Hartl cited the tremendous growth of West Germany and Japan under the free enterprise system. Economies of both nations were utterly destroyed in the second world war, he said, yet both have made remarkable recoveries by permitting the profit incentive to build the counties anew.

Signup Dates For County Farm Programs Listed

Signup dates for farmers in Pennington county who wish to take part in the 1969 feed grain and wheat programs have been announced by Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

All commodity program signups will be held during the same period—February 3 through March 21. Signup applications indicate the farmer's program intentions, including the extent of his participation in the programs.

Under the feed grain program for 1969, farmers may earn diversion and price-support payments as well as qualify for price-support loans on their corn, barley and grain sorghum crops; feed grain diversion payments will be available to all program participants in 1969.

The wheat program provides diversion payments for reducing acreage below the farm allotment, and price-support loans on all the wheat produced on the farm. It also provides marketing certificates to bring returns up to full parity on the part of the wheat crop allocated for domestic use.

While the signup period for 1969 commodity program will extend through several weeks, the chairman urged farmers who wish to take part in the programs to file their applications as soon as they decide on 1969 production plans. "Time has a habit of getting away from us sometimes before we know it, so it's a good idea not to delay in filing program intentions," he said.

Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall county ASCS committee, issued the same reminder to farmers in Marshall county.

CLEBANOFF STRINGS and orchestra will appear in Thief River Falls Monday at 8:15 p.m. as the third in the current series of the Thief River Falls Concert association. Admission to the program at the Lincoln senior high school auditorium will be by season membership only. The first half of each concert is a classic string concert; the second half, adding piano, accordian, harp and percussion, becomes a "pops" concert. The orchestra has provided concerts, radio and television appearances, film background scores and recorded 18 albums. Herman Clebanoff was, at 20, the youngest member of the Chicago symphony orchestra and was later concertmaster of both the Illinois symphony orchestra and the NBC orchestra. He made his conducting debut with the New Orleans symphony orchestra. The current company is composing of 20 instrumentalists.

for an early lead that was never to be challenged. Last year's world champion, Steve Ave of Duluth, stayed in contention on his Ski-Doo until he flipped coming through the fourth turn on the 10th lap.

"I was real glad to see him sitting on the side of the track," Janssen said, "He's a very good driver and he had a fast sled. When I looked back and saw the others quite a ways behind, I throttled back a little so I wouldn't spin out, too." He estimated his machine hit 65 miles per hour on the straightaway and about 50 miles per hour in the turns.

When the defending champion's machine flipped in the 10th lap, the throttle stuck and the Ski-Doo spun toward the crowd and on-coming race traffic. With Ave in hot pursuit, the machine took an unexpected turn toward the infield, hit a snowbank and finally came to rest upside down at the end of the track.

With Ave out, the final six laps were all Arctic.

At the end of the race, Janssen discovered his third near disaster. With the back of his machine smashed from the first corner pile-up, the rear-mounted gas tank was held in place only by its fuel connections. A hole had been punctured in the tank and gas was being spilled throughout the race. At the finish line he had only about a cupful of gas left in the tank!

For his efforts, Janssen received the prizes mentioned early in this story, three trophies, a set of power tools, cash awards from other sponsors and a number of black-and-blue spots from the first-turn crash.

Janssen's engine was a modified JLO (pronounced Elo) model, and his sports car was presented from the engine company.

Winning has become a habit with the wiry little 28-year-old grain farmer from Crookston who joined the Arctic racing team three years ago. Since the first part of December, he has won first place in every race he entered with the 744 cc machine [illegible] in Butte, Mont., and West Yellowstone. At West Yellowstone he was second to Charlie Lofton.

Janssen also holds the world record jump in the 400 cc class with a leap of 63 feet, eight inches, established at West Yellowstone.

Next week he will be participating in the St. Paul 500 race, a grueling cross-country event from Winnipeg to St. Paul as part of the winter carnival. His 744 cc machine has been retired after Sunday's world championship.

"I'm going to be driving the same 1968 model 372 cc Arctic Cat that I entered the race with last year," he said. "I got mixed up a year ago and ran a couple of miles on a state aid road and was disqualified. I have raced the machine in other races and we have used it for the family at home. I'd like to prove you don't need a new machine to win a race and that a 1968 model Arctic Cat is still good enough to win its class in a big race."

Janssen said he would like to race at the States-Dominion snowmobile rally here on February 8 and 9, but may possibly be at the New York state championships instead. "But our Minnesota racing team will be here, and they are just as good drivers as we are," he said. Janssen is one of eight members on the Arctic national racing team.

In the cross-country race at Eagle River, Janssen had moved from 63rd place at the start up to third position when he missed a curve at a bridge and ducked his machine in a creek. The sled went through the ice and Janssen found himself up to his waist in water. Bob Pahlen, another Arctic racer, was second in the cross-country run. He covered the 68-mile course in one hour, 43 minutes and 17 seconds, one minute and one second behind the winner.

SCD Officers From Area at 32nd Convention

Area supervisors and wives from Minnesota's 89 soil and water conservation districts held their 32nd annual convention recently at the Lowry hotel in St. Paul.

Attending the convention from Grygla were Grant Satre and Oliver Howland, soil conservation district supervisors; Ernest Rue, winning conservation farmer and guest of the Marshall-Beltrami soil conservation district; and Bob Kloubec, district conservationist.

Receiving awards from the Minneapolis Tribune for outstanding annual report was Red Lake County soil and water conservation district, along with counties from the other six areas.

State conservationist Harry Major of St. Paul stressed the complexity of problems confronting districts—effectively developing, conserving and using natural resources to serve all segments of the population.

"Today," Major said, "The concept of soil and water conservation districts has been broadened to include not only individuals on farms, but all landowners, communities, urban-suburban landowners, multiple county areas and multi-state areas. As one of many agencies and groups that districts can call on for assistance, the soil conservation service has broadened its concept of assistance to districts."

Major also pointed out that old problems take on new meanings when erosion also contributes to water pollution—when flooding also damages urban properties—and when water supplies affect community health and prosperity.

"The work of districts has long benefitted more than just the farmer and rancher. It is our responsibility to make these facts known," the state conservationist asserted.

LHS Cagers Host Ada; Travel to Climax Sat.

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Thief River Falls Prowler basketball squad will begin three weekends in which they will be playing on both Friday and Saturday night this Friday as they play host to the Ada Vikings, one of the top powers in District 30 this year. After meeting the Ada club Friday night at the Lincoln high school gym, the Prowlers will travel to Climax to meet the Vikings on Saturday night. Both games are expected to be real tests for the Prowlers.

The Ada game is a non-conference battle, but the game against Climax will be worth two points for the Prowlers in the Big Five conference. Ada Vikings are enjoying a successful season and have posted three wins over three other Big Five conference teams. They include wins over Crookston, East Grand Forks and last weekend over Warren. The Vikings have won all three by pretty good scores, as they stopped Crookston 67-56; East Grand Forks, 84-64 and Warren by a 66-51 score.

Prior to the win against East Grand Forks the Vikings, the night before, had trouble in stopping Twin Valley 39-36. According to Viking coach Chuck Johnson, the Vikes played their best game against the Little Green Wave as all five starters hit in double figures for the game.

Expected to start against the Prowlers will be Rich Merkens, a 6-2 center and the team's leading scorer. At the forward positions will be Randy Balzum, 5-11; and Steve Storslee, 6-2. Guards will be Chuck Gunnerson, 5-9, and Rick Prussia, 5-11. All five are seniors and doing a good job for the Vikings. Against East Grand Forks Merkens tallied 24 points, Prussia had 18, Storslee added 11, Balzum tallied 13 and Gunnerson added 10 points.

Coach Whitey Olson of the Prowlers scouted the Vikings in that game and stated that they are big and good shooters and the Prowlers will have to play one of their better games if they expect to beat the Vikings.

On Saturday the Prowlers will travel to Climax to meet the Vikings in a Big Five conference game. The Prowlers have a score to settle with the Vikings, as they dropped the Prowlers in the semi-finals of District 31 last year by a 61-49 score. In the only other meeting of the two clubs during the regular season last year, the Prowlers scored an impressive 63-46 win over the Vikings.

The Vikings are led by the scoring of 5-8 guard Andy Muhonen, who is the third leading scorer in Big Five action, as he has tallied 143 points for a 17.8 average. Other starters are Arvin Palm, 6-3 center; DuWayne Lee, 5-10 forward; Jim Mauritson, 5-10 guard; and Dave Palm, 6-5 forward who can also start at the center position.

Muhonen is the only scoring threat that the Vikings have, but against East Grand Forks Sacred Heart last week, Arvin Palm tallied 18 points, Mauritson added 10, Lee scored 14 and Muhonen added 18 in a loss to the East side school.

Coach Olson of the Prowlers indicated on Tuesday that he will more than likely go with the same five that started against East Grand Forks last Friday, which will mean Kip Poppenhagen and Mike Hamerlinck will be starting in place of Tony Johnson and Steve Edlund.

Poppenhagen will be joined by Dan Brodin at the guard positions, while Don Balmer will be at the other forward spot across from Hamerlinck. Starting at center will be Sheldon Joppru.

Joppru against East Grand Forks on Friday tallied 34 points and grabbed 20 rebounds, thus earning him the "Player of the Week" title from the Prowler coaching staff.

Along with being the squad's leading scorer, Joppru is also the leading rebounder with 148, while averaging 21.3 points per contest. Balmer is second in scoring with a 10.4 average, while Brodin is third with an even 10 points per game.

Both games are slated to get underway at 8 p.m., with the 'B' squads meeting at 6:30 p.m.

Schimanski, Joppru Top Area Scorers

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Scoring races are pretty well under way in the various basketball conferences, with the Game of the Week scoring leader well out of the reach of the second leading scorer. In the Big Five conference, the race is still wide open with three points separating the first two spots.

In the race in the "Game of the Week," some of the box scores are still missing as only McIntosh is up to date with their box scores. Others are lacking as many as four box scores, while others are just missing one.

The leading scorer in the area is Mark Schimanski, McIntosh, who in 11 games is clipping the nets at a 31.1 average. Schimanski, a 6-2 senior forward for the Scots, has scored 134 field goals and 75 free throws for a total of 343 points.

Schimanski set a new McIntosh high school scoring record against Fosston on Friday night as he tallied 48 points, breaking the old record which he set earlier this year at 37. In setting the school record he tallied 20 field goals and eight free throws, as the Scots avenged an earlier loss to the Greyhounds, 80-79.

While Schimanski is the leading scorer for the Scots, it is not surprising that the Scots are on top in the North Tri-County league standings with an 8-1 record. They are 10-1 overall and one of the top teams in District 30.

Leading scorer in the Big Five conference is the Thief River Falls Prowlers' Sheldon Joppru, who in 10 games is averaging 21.3 points per contest. Against East Grand Forks on Friday night, the 6-2 center Prowlers tallied 34 points, six short of the school record.

Joppru has scored 78 field goals and 57 free throws for a total of 213 points. Beside being the leading scorer, he is also the leading rebounder for the Prowlers with 148, pulling down 20 on Friday night.

The top five scorers in "Game of the Week" scoring are Robbie Super, Mentor, second with 203; Curt Jenson, Erskine third with a 20.2; Doug Martell Plummer, fourth with 19.1; and Brian Wiseth, Goodridge, fifth with a 17.8 average.

After Joppru in the Big Five conference is Don Jamieson, East Grand Forks, with an 18.5 average. Dave Juve, Crookston is tied for third with Andy Muhonen, Climax, with 17.8 averages. Joel Engen, Warren, is next with a 16.1 average, while Tim Nedberg, East Grand Forks is fifth with a 12.7 average.

The top scorers are as follows:

GAME OF THE WEEK

by Bob Wielinski

Goodridge ran its season's record to 8-2 Tuesday night by defeating the Warroad Warriors 61-47 on the Huskies' home court.

The Huskies are enjoying one of their better seasons this year, and have only lost to Alvarado and Oslo in Polar conference action. Last Friday they were beaten by Oslo 93-76.

On Tuesday night, the Huskies broke to a 16-8 lead at the end of the first period and were never headed after that, as three Huskies tallied in double figures for the contest. They were led by Roger Blaine, who tallied 23 points, taking scoring honors for the contest. Ray Molsbeorger added 16 and Bryan Wiseth added 12 for the winners.

The Warriors were led by Arnold Thompson with 11, while Pat O'Donnell and John Brown tallied 10 points each for the losers.

After jumping to a 16-8 lead at the end of the first period, the Huskies found the Warriors coming back and closing the gap to 28-21 at half time. Blaine paced the Huskies in the first two periods by collecting 10 points.

The Huskies held the Warriors to nine points in the third period as they built up a 46-30 lead at the end of three periods. Blaine collected 11 points in the period to lead the charge for the Huskies.

The final period found the Warriors trying to close the gap but baskets by Molsbeorger kept the game out of reach for the Huskies. The center for the Huskies tallied eight points in the period as the Huskies posted their eighth win of the season against two defeats.

Goodridge is now back in action on Friday night to host Alvarado in a Polar conference game, and will be out to avenge an earlier loss to the Indians.

Northland Meets Brainerd Squads For Homecoming

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Northland state junior college squad will entertain Brainerd state junior college on Saturday afternoon in their annual homecoming festivities.

Wrestling will begin the day's activities as the Northmen will wrestle the Brainerd squad starting at 1 p.m. The two cage teams will do battle right after the wrestling matches at 2:30 p.m.

Northland is also in action (tonight) Wednesday as they travel to Devils Lake to meet Lake Region basketball team. In an earlier meeting Lake Region edged the Northmen by a 66-63 lead.

Saturday will be the first time that Brainerd and the Northmen will face each other this year. Both the Brainerd basketball and wrestling squads are improved over last year. The Northmen scored a 118-72 win over Brainerd in Northland's homecoming cage game last year.

The Brainerd club has four veterans back from the squad that started against the Northmen last year. Returning will be John Sabyon, Dick Fallenschek, Tom Cummings and Dan Bollen. All four are graduates of District 24 teams in 1966. Sabyan is from Crosby-Ironton while the other three played their prep ball under Brainerd Warrior coach Fred Kellet.

Northland will more than likely go with Nick Neihauer and Roger Cardinal at the guards, Tom Super at center, and Dwight Jaros and Frank Dewey at the forward spots. Super is the squad's leading scorer with a 21.5 average, while Neibauer is second with a 20.1 average. Dewey is the third Northman averaging in double figures with an 11.2 average.

Brainerd has a 3-4 record in basketball and holds a 3-1 record in wrestling. The cagers have defeated Itasca and fell to Hibbing, in recent outings, while the wrestling squad posted wins over both.

Clem W. Letich has the longest basketball coaching tenure at the University of North Dakota—18 seasons—in which his teams won 226 of 329 games and five North Central conference titles.

REFEREE ED KRYSTOSEK watched closely as Lynn Marek of the Northland junior college Northmen went for the pin over John Hern of Hibbing state junior college Cardinals. Marek pinned Hern in one minute and 43 seconds. Coach John Steidl's squad lost to the Cardinals by a score of 21-16 in Friday night's action at the Lincoln high school gymnasium.

Leirfallom Outlines Conservation Plans

Minnesota Conservation Commissioner Jarle Leirfallom has outlined a wide range of "new and important" natural resource legislation that will be proposed by the conservation department during the present legislation session.

"Several of these bills are part of the 'Quality of Life' program advanced so eloquently by Governor LeVander in his address to the legislature on Wednesday," the commissioner said.

Included in this category are bills to preserve shore lines, encourage pollution abatement, reclaim lakes, expand state parks and provide for significant advances in conservation education.

Leirfallom also expressed high hopes for department-supported legislation, to improve and rehabilitate mining lands in a cooperative effort with the mining industry.

"Studies and discussions between the mining companies and the conservation department during the past 18 months have convinced me that this state can solve its mining lands improvement problems without the necessity for federal legislation," the commissioner added.

He said the chances of passing a flood plain control bill should be excellent this session with the memory of the $92 million 1965 flood still fresh in people's minds, "and the outlook for more severe flooding this spring becoming greater with every snowfall."

One of the most significant and far-reaching bills in the game and fish field is one granting authority to the commissioner of conservation to set seasons and limits.

"Passage of this legislation would not only put game and fish management on a more professional, fact-evaluation basis but could save many hours of legislative time."

The commissioner said he also expects lively debate over department bills to increase license fees and to set up a directed predator control program. Leirfallom said, "that the legislature does not become so bogged down in controversial game and fish issues that it lacks time for other important natural resource matters."

Conservation department legislative proposals include the following: Moose hunting bill, license fee increases, commissioner set game and fish seasons and limits, predator control plan, outdoor safety bills, rails and easemens program, omnibus Park bills, mining land improvemen program and shoreline regulation;

Also flood plain management, negotiable mineral registrations, natural and scientific areas, conservation regional headquarters, snowmobile legislation, conservation education, road-side zoo supervision, fishing bills package, game bills package, water usage fees incentives, St. Croix' bill, accelerated park land acquisition and state dam program.

The department is also preparing 40-50 bills on corrective and housekeeping legislation.

More than 4,250,000 World War I and World War II veterans will receive $236 million in dividends on their GI insurance policies during 1969.

Conference on Snowmobiles Is Held Last Week

A conference concerning the problems of the rapidly growing snowmobile industry in Minnesota was held last week at the state Capitol in St. Paul. The conference, called by Governor LeVander, was attended by the commissoners of the departments of conservation, highways, and economic development. Also attending the meeting were Senatar Donald Sinclair, Representative Richard Fitzsimons and Representative Andrew Skaar.

Initial steps were taken at the session to develop a uniform set of standards for the snowmobile industry.

Following are several of the specific areas discussed at the conference:

1. The problem of night time highway crossing by snowmobiles.
2. Reciprocity with neighboring states on the licensing and regulation of snowmobiles.
3. The problems of dealer and manufacturer licensing.
4. Cooperative efforts to establish maximum noise levels for snowmobil motors.
5. The problem of providing reflective safety materials on snowmobiles.
6. The establishment of more snowmobile trails and adequate trail markings.
7. More and better facilities for winter recreation—picnic and camping areas and the like.

The lawmakers pointed out that it was felt that the 1969 session of the legislature will produce workable regulations and standards acceptable to both manufacturers and snowmobile owners.

Lakeshore Owner Seminar Slated In Minneapolis

A lakeshore owner's seminar has been scheduled for February 8 at the Leamington hotel in Minneapolis. Ambrose Kottschade, Coon Rapids, executive director of the Minnesota Lakeshore league said that the purpose of the seminar is to provide opportunity for a maximum number of representatives from various lakes as well as members of the league to meet with state personel whose specific duties are to work on the various problems of Minnesota's lakeshore owners.

Discussion topics at the Seminar include taxes, polution, aquatic nuisances, fish stocking, water levels, law enforcement and tourism. Among the speakers will be Paul Martz, chief conservation officer; Jarle Leirfallom, commissioner of conservation; Don Mattson, division of tourism; John Krueger and Ralph Pavek from the State Tax Department. Other divisions will be represented as wel.

The seminar is sponsored by the Minnesota Lakeshore league to give lakeshore owners a chance to meet with State personal and legislators. This is one of the rare times that lakeshore owners will have to discuss their problems with the representatives of the various departments at one meeting.

Those lakeshore owners wishing to attend the seminar should mail a check for registration to Lakeshore Owners Seminar P. O. Box 4341, Minneapolis, Minn. 55418. Advance registration fees are: members $6. non-members 7. Kottschade stated that registrations will be limited, and he advised all wishing to attend to register in advance. The registration fee includes a noon lunch. The program gets under way at 9 a.m. and concludes with group discusion reports in the afternon.

TRYING TO ESCAPE for the point that would give him the match and the team a victory is Kenneth Kuznia of Northland state junior college. Kuznia was decisioned by Larry Mujewski of the Hibbing state junior college Cardinals. The match was tied at one to one when the final buzzer rang; but the decision was given to Mujewski, who had more riding time than Kuznia. The Northmen had to spot the Cardinals 10 points for lack of wrestlers. The Cardinals scored a 21-16 victory over the Northmen for their second win of the season.

If all of an automobile's lights fail at once, it is possible that a fuse has burned out. This can happen anywhere, says the Minnesota AAA. The AAA recommends that car owners memorize where the light fuse or fuses are located on their cars, and how to replace one that has burned out. Carry a few inexpensive spare fuses in the glove compartment.

CHECK THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS THAT YOU MAY HAVE ASKED YOURSELF:

( ) What is the purpose of my life?

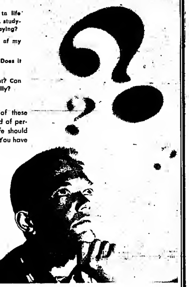
( ) Does God really exist? Can I know Him personally?



If you checked any of these questions, you're the kind of person who "knows" that life should be more than just living. You have an inquiring mind — one that wants to know what life is all about.

You've asked yourself some pretty important questions. Now follow through. Come to church regularly, and get the answers from God.

In just 12 words, the above headline sums up the story of heating a home, electrically. This farm home near Cavalier is just one of hundreds of homes in this area that enjoy the many advantages of total electric heating. In fact, more then three million homes in America are heating electrically.

Electric heat is modern. It gives individual room control. It is clean. It is safe. It is quiet. It saves space. It is carefree. It is economical. It is practical.

You could write a whole book on the advanteges of heating a home with electricity. But you couldn't say it any better than that 12 word headline above.

If 1969 is your year to build a new home — or improve your present home — one of your first steps should be to get the story on electric heating. Your electric contractor or your rural electric cooperative have the answers.

"We should often investigate what people usually forget or overlook, or consider so well-known that it isn't worth investigating.
—G. C. Lichtenberg

We Have Hope . . .

While question have been raised about Walter Hickel's position in regard to consider so well-known that it isn't worth inservation, we have hope that he will do a satisfactory job as U.S. secretary of the interior. He apparently convinced the senate interior committee that his views of water pollution and conservation were in line, for the committee approved his appointment by a 14-3 vote after three days of hearings.

Conservation is, of course, an extremely wide field, covering the vast land, water, vegetative and animal resources of the nation. Taken at its proper definition—which is "wise use"—conservation need not suffer under Hickel's direction. Too many people too often express the belief that conservation is not to use a particular resource.

Conservation is harvesting mature timber and planting young trees. Conservation is growing crops but rebuilding soil. Conservation is harvesting game birds and animals rather than wasting them. Conservation is using water but returning it free from pollution. Conservation is proper farming practices that stop erosion from wind and water, eliminate siltation of rivers and streams and assure continued productivity. Conservation is these things and many more.

Hickel is not a newcomer to state and national affairs. He must certainly be aware of the importance of his position, and the responsibility which he has to the people of this nation. To betray such a trust would be unpardonable. We have hope that he will be an able administrator, relying on the advice of the professional people in his department to bring about workable, practical and satisfactory programs of national benefit.

A Deserved Reward

When the Chamber of Commerce banquet program Monday evening listed a community builder award, there needn't have been much doubt about who the recipient would be. Bill LaFave has devoted so much time and energy to building Thief River Falls that his selection was accepted without question.

Perhaps the crowning event in the many efforts Bill has undertaken was the parade of progress celebration last fall. Seldom has any activity had the community-wide involvement that the parade of progress had, and that involvement was a direct result of the LaFave talent for rallying support.

Throughout the years, Bill has been thoroughly convinced that Thief River Falls is THE place to live. "When the governor was here for the parade of progress last fall," Bill said in accepting the award Monday night, "I took him around town to do a little bragging. I told him that Thief River Falls has everthing that the Twin Cities have got except pollution." And he meant it.

LaFave has never been known as a person to stand alongside a problem and wait for someone else to solve it. It's not in his nature to let things remain undone. From community observances to highways to parks to recreation to promotions to airports to local problems, Bill has taken up the task and devoted time, energy and capital to accomplish what was needed.

Every community which has shown progress over the years has had men like Bill LaFave...men who are determined that progress shall be made and who become a part of that continuing stuggle. Bill would be the first to admit that he has not been involved in the struggle along, but those who have worked with him recognize the impetus that his enthusiasm provides.

The community thanks you, Bill, for you have helped to make Thief River Falls the kind of city in which we can all take pride. You are indeed worthy of the title of community builder.

Equalized Wealth?

The following comments appeared in "Christian Economics"

Those who would equalize wealth should read the first 13 verses of the 25th chapter of Matthew—the story of the ten virgins. Five were wise and took extra oil for their lamps; five were foolish and provided no reserve supply of oil. When the bridegroom finally arrived, five foolish young women were without oil to keep their lamps burning. The five wise virgins refused to divide their reserve with the unthrifty, irresponsible young women who had provided nothing for themselves. The bridegroom arrived and the five wise virgins went in to the feast with him, while the five foolish virgins were excluded.

Never once is there an implication in this story that our Lord thought the thrifty virgins should divide their oil with the foolish virgins. Thus, our Lord taught that the thrifty should not be penalized to provide for irresponsible people.

Generous, Christian charity for those who have done their best and are still in need should always be provided. But this is quite different from the present ideology which seems to be taking possession of the minds of our people that all wealth must be shared among the unworthy, the unfortunate, the shiftless, and the lazy without discrimination.

If those who work are required to share with those who do not work, many more will join the ranks of the loafers until the workers are overwhelmed. This will lead to low living standards and general misery. That, in turn, will bring authoritarian government to avoid starvation and chaos by forcing everyone to work.

Jesus taught generous charity for worthy, helpless people in need. But he never advocated dividing up the wealth or sharing with those who refused to put forth maximum effort to care for themselves. Charity, be it remembered, is voluntary and entirely to be distinguished from the welfare state which is the forcible dispossession of some for the benefit of others.

To Smash the Mirror

Roger Tatarian, vice president and editor of United Press International, commented on minorities of various types in an address to the Sigma Delta Chi national convention in Atlanta, Ga., and a portion of his talk was published in the Quill magazine. Tatarian's comments follow:

We do not have to look very far back to see other examples of how despotic some minorities can be toward majorities.

Frequently during the past political campaign we read how a few hecklers were able to prevent thousands of other persons from hearing the person they had gone out to hear.

We have seen small but militant minorities paralyze the normal processes at large universities.

And we have seen, not for the first time, a minority in the U.S. Senate resort to the filibuster and thus frustrate the majority in a legislative body that is supposed to symbolize the democratic process.

These exercises in tyranny by small minorities are conducted chiefly under the banner of free speech or the right to dissent. But it seems to me that these rights are becoming confused, with obstruction and coercion, and that minorities are using obstruction and coercion to claim for themselves power that is denied even to majorities under our system of government.

No majority, however large, can prevent Citizen X from hiring a hall and saying what he pleases on a subject of his choice to an audience of his designation. And yet Citizen X feels he can go to a meeting arranged by others and to prevent the others from listening to a person of their choice. This is a corruption of the First Amendment and should be treated as such.

A majority of students at Columbia University could not have decreed in September that a minority of their students not be allowed to register. But that minority, under the banner of dissent, did not hesitate to use coercion to halt the registration processes for all. That too is a corruption of a right.

This is something you would more naturally expect from the partisans of extreme right and extreme left, who have much more in common than they realize. First, of course, is their utter intolerance. Both, in different ways, are arrogant monopolists. The far right believes it has a monopoly on patriotism and old fashioned virtue. The far left feels it alone possesses intellect and compassion. So zealous are they that they alse have a convenient ability to accept evil if it suits their purpose—except that when it suits their purpose or their cause, it is no longer evil.

In an era of growing intolerance and rigidity of views, it is hardly surprising that reactions are violent and angry when the media convey tidings that question, challenge or contradict cherished viewpoints, attitudes and prejudices. The fact that the media simply report these events and do not cause them is a distinction that fewer and fewer people seem able to make. And so people want to smash the mirror because they do not like what they see in it.

Interesting Opinions . . .

—Friedrich Nietzsche

Legis Lative Letter

from ANDREW SKAAR
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

By Rep. Andrew Skaar

First meeting of the House highways committee was held Thursday January 16, in hearing room 15. This is a new hearing room that has been built in the basement rotunda of the Capitol. The facilities are so much better than they have been in previous sessions.

Commissioner of highways N. Ted Waldor gave a preliminary report to the committee on the legislation that the highway department would be asking for in the 1969 session. There were several proposals in the area of highway safety, some minor legislation in the area of right of way acquisition and salary adjustments for some highway department personnel.

Waldor then called attention to some of the newspaper articles which are calling for a constitutional amendment to "unlock" our highway user funds. He definitely stated that any attempt to finance rail rapid transit should stand on its own merits and NOT be financed by the motorist.

He went on t state that, throughout the state of Minnesota, the complaints he hears are: Why is not the highway or Intersate in our area completed? And the only answer he can give them is that there are only so many dollars available and they must be apportioned to those areas that have demonstrated the most critical need.

After the meeting of this commitee, I looked up a few pertinent facts as to the highway needs in the state, and I discovered the following: Our Minnesota trunk highway system consists of 11,900 miles. Of these 11,900 miles, 1,800 are in municipalities; 10,100 miles are in rural areas. There are 160 miles of the trunk highway system that still have a gravel surface; 6,200 f these mies cannot carry a legal 9-ton load; 5,500 miles have had no major improvements in the past 25 years.

The first bill t be considered by the House highway committee is an important one to ur district because it gives an added boost to Minnesota's growing snowmobile industry. This bill which I co-authored in the House, removes present legal distractions and restrictions on the annual 500-mile Winnipeg to St. Paul snowmobile race, a highlight of the St. Paul winter carnival.

Under its provisions the race may now proceed the full 500 miles along state trunk routes without the restrictions of the present state snowmobile restrictions and regulations, subject only to the consent and regulation of officials and agencies having jurisdiction over the land covered in the race course. With this bill the 1969 snowmobile classic should be the finest, safest and most exciting one yet held, and will focus even more national and international attention on snowmobiling in Minnesota.

Gentlemen:

Am dropping you a line asking you a special favor and one which I feel that you can help me. In 1936-37 I was resident of St. Paul and while there was a room mate of one Harold Ray Hanson from Thief River Falls. He was working there at the time and he was also a "Ham radio" operator. I returned to my home state of Nebraska early in 1937 and he was married on Aug. 13, 1937, in St. Paul. This much I know and heard from him for a short time.

I would like to locate him at this time. I do not know his folks' names but believe that he had a sister living in the Twin Citie at the above mentioned time. We took a weekend trip up to your very beautiful city in the summer of 1936 and we visited with his family there.

I have been in the printing business for 30 years now and many of those years with newspapers in Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado. I am a linotype operator by trade. Have been thinking of Mr. Hanson, ran across his picture in my photo album and thought I would try to locate him. Could you put in a brief news note on this? I was a farm boy from Nebraska then, my first trip away from home, and was working for Minnesota Mining in St. Paul.

If you are able to help in this matter, I shall be truly appreciative. If not, then thank you just the same for your interest. I realize tha Harold could be deceased as I do not evn know if he was in the war or not. However, if he or his sister should be around your city I think that they will remember me and drop me a lin.

Yours sincerely,

McLeod Heads Dairy Day for 20th Year

Review of the 19th annual Northwest Dairy day, election of officers and directors and preparation of plans for the 20th annual event in 1969 took place Thursday at the annual meeting of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association. The sponsoring organization met Thursday afternoon at the Dine-A-Mite cafe in Thief River Falls.

Stuart McLeod was reelected president of the organization, serving his 20th year as head of the dairy day group. K. E. Gigstad was reelected vice president and Merle Smith was reelected secretary. Jerome Wendorff was named treasurer to succeed J. J. Womack, who resigned from the board. All are from Thief River Falls.

Wendorff was elected to the board of directors for a three-year term. Other directors reelected were Arlan Rice, Fertile; Jack Israelson, Bemidji; McLeod, Donovan Bruggeman and Gene Beito, Thief River Falls. William LaFave was elected for a two-year term to succeed Wallace Jordet, who has been transferred from Thief River Falls.

Reappointed as associate directors were Cliff Markuson, manager of the Minnesota ADA; William Darsey, area extension coordinator; Tom Johnson, regional ADA representative; and Marian Augustine, representing the Red River Valley dairymen's association.

The 20th annual Northwest Dairy day will be held June 10, with the same general format which has worked successfully over the years. Some changes in awards and modifications of procedure to provide for a more orderly and informative show were approved.

For the second year, an outstanding young dairy farmer who is a former participant in Northwest Dairy day will be honored at the program. Each county in the Northwest Dairy day area will select one contestant, with the entry to be submitted to the Northwest Dairy Improvement association by March 20. Sheldon Erickson of Badger won the award last year.

Harley Shurson of McIntosh will again be the livestock show supervisor. Award presentation was again approved for the overall grand champion animal of the show in addition to breed champions and grade and pure-

Blizzard Again Moves Into Area

Weather is the topic of concern again today as another blizzard is scheduled to move into the Thief River Falls area today and continue until late tonight or early Tuesday.

One blizzard, from which area residents were just shoveling out on Friday, closed most schools in the area on Friday and postponed many scheduled events at the schools and around the area.

Friday's storm postponed the Thief River Falls basketball and hockey contests with Ada and Crookston. The hockey contest was rescheduled for tonight (Monday) and that will be played weather permitting.

Along with closing all the schools in Thief River Falls last Friday, the storm closed schools in Middle River, Viking, Holt, Newfolden, Red Lake Falls, Goodridge and other communities in the area.

The storm moved out on Saturday but another moved into the area during the early hours of Monday morning. This storm, like the one on Friday, closed all Thief River Falls schools, with the exception of Northland state junior college. Area schools were also closed once again.

Minnesota highway patrol stated early this morning that crews were out plowing and blading and that all main roads were open in the area. Visibility in the area was good, except in the Crookston and Grand Forks area where it was very low, and in the Hallock area where visibility was about three blocks.

Mail into Thief River Falls was received, according to postmaster R. J. Dryden, as the first class mail came in on the plane about 3:30 a.m. The only part of the mail that is missing is the parcel post and magazines along with the Minneapolis Tribunes which come on the truck from Minneapolis. The truck got as far as Calloway and had to turn back to Detroit Lakes because of the storm.

North Central airlines stated that planes were leaving Thief River Falls on schedule for Minneapolis and, depending on the weather, its was hoped that

Breakfast Held For United Fund

Kickoff breakfast for the Pennington county United fund campaign was held this morning at the Rex cafe in Thief River Falls. Envelopes were distributed and are to be returned in one week, according to Dr. Arnold Berg, chairman.

A total of about $1,000 in contributions has already been turned in from early solicitation, Dr. Berg said.

Jaycees Split Ballot on Lower Age for Voting

Following a vigorous discussion Tuesday evening, 32 Jaycees attending the regular meeting cast a tie vote on the question: "Should 19-year-old young adults be allowed to vote?" Minnesota Jaycees will endorse a resolution on the question at a meeting in Moorhead February 22.

Talks were given by Neil McEwen and Donald Grabanski in the "Speak-up Jaycee" program.

Project reports indicated an "excellent" response to Jaycee radio days and indicated that the Jaycee basketball team would take part in the Region 2 Jaycee tournament at Ada during the weekend.

Robert Neihoff, employee of the Lampert Lumber company, joined the chapter as a new member.

Herman Clebanoff

Concert Slated Here Tonight

Clebanoff strings and orchestra, an instrumental ensemble, is scheduled to appear in Thief River Falls on Monday (tonight) at 8:15 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium under the auspices of the Thief River Falls concert association.

Clebanoff strings and orchestra is a company of 20 instrumentalists: 15 strings, accordion, piano, harp and percussion. It is under the direction of Herman Clebanoff, who was a member of the Chicago symphony orchestra, concertmaster of the Illinois symphony orchestra and the NBC orchestra before forming his own group.

The program Clebanoff offers is another innovation in the concert field—virtually two programs in one. The first half of each concert is a classic string concert. The second half, adding piano, accordion, harp and percussion, is an exciting "pops" concert. Admission is by season membership only.

School Board To Meet Tomorrow

Special meeting of the Thief River Falls school board scheduled to meet Monday (tonight) has been postponed, due to the Thief River Falls concert series appearing at the Lincoln high school tonight. The meeting has been rescheduled for Tuesday (tomorrow) evening.

Letter To Times Helps Reunite Former Friends

A letter to the Times has started a series of events which is to lead to contact between two former friends who have been separated by time and distance.

It was about 30 years ago when Milton J. Carlson, now of Tucson, Ariz., and Harold Ray Hanson, formerly of Thief River Falls, were roommates while working in St. Paul. Milton moved back to his home in Nebraska, Harold was married, and they corresponded for a time but then lost track of each other.

Carlson wrote a letter to the Times asking help in locating Hanson. The letter was published in the public opinion column Wednesday, and on Thursday the Times received a call from Mrs. Stanley Ekdahl, Hanson's sister. She has lived in Thief River Falls for four years and will contact her brother, giving him the information in the letter.

Mrs. Ekdahl said she remembers Carlson when he was her brother's close friend in the mid-1930's. Her brother and his wife have operated the Atwater Beach resort at Diamond lake near Willmar in the summer for many years, and make their home in Arkansas during the winter months.

Supreme Court Rules Against Victim of Fall

Minnesota supreme court has ruled against Mrs. Leta Johnson who sued the city of Thief River Falls for $3,750 for injuries sustained when she fell on a crosswalk.

The court ruled that Mrs. Johnson could not legally collect from the city of Thief River Falls for her injuries because the street on which she fell was a state highway, and the city had not contracted to keep it in repair.

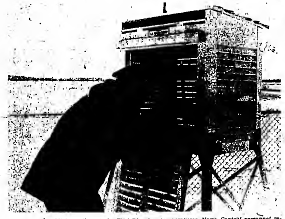
In an opinion written by Justice C. Donald Peterson, the court noted that the jury based its award on a finding that the city was negligent in failing to repair a hole that caused Mrs. Johnson's fall. There was no evidence, Peterson said, that the city created the hole.

Peterson said the state constitution gives exclusive responsibility for the highway system to the state, which cannot be sued. In some cases, the state highway department contracts with cities to maintain the highways within city limits, but it had no such contract with Thief River Falls.

Peterson said that the result of its ruling is harsh, but added, "We think it not unlikely that the legislature would approve a claim."

He said that while the state cannot be sued in connection with its highway system, it makes municipalities liable for their streets and sidewalks.

The high court denied the usual award of legal costs to Thief River Falls, which appealed the case.



OFFICIAL WEATHER station at the Thief River Falls municipal airport is recording plenty of information this winter. Lowell Vrsa, station manager for North Central airlines, is shown checking the temperature at the weather station. In addition to recording high and low temperatures, North Central personnel record daily precipitation. Records maintained at the airport indicate that 25 inches of snow have been received in January and today's blizzard is bringing more heavy snowfall into the area.

Schedule Hearings on Improvement Projects

MASTER OF CEREMONIES for the program at the Mrs. Jaycees charity ball Saturday evening in Thief River Falls was Dick Bjorkman. He is pictured during the program with Penny Engstrom, Miss Thief River Falls, who took part in several portions of the event.

Public hearings on improvement projects estimated to cost $703,100 were scheduled for Thief River Falls when the city council met in special session last week. Public hearings on the improvement proposals will be held on Thursday and Friday, February 13 and 14, in the Thief River Falls city auditorium.

Included in the projects will be street improvements, water main extensions and sanitary sewer construction.

Street improvements will consist of constructing storm sewer as required concrete curb and gutter, gravel base, hot mixed bituminous wearing surface, concrete sidewalks, concrete driveways and other miscellaneous items, according to William Fahey, city clerk.

Water main improvements will consist of installing water main, valves, hydrants, house service connections and other miscellaneous items.

Sanitary sewer improvements will consist of installing water sewer, manholes, house service connection, and other miscellaneous items.

A portion of the improvements will be paid by the city of Thief River Falls and a portion by property owners benefitted by the improvements, Fahey said. Hearings are scheduled to explain the proposals and answer questions which property owners may ask.

At the hearing on February 13, the following will be discussed:

Street improvements — Red Lake boulevard from Third to Eighth street; Dewey avenue from Fifth to Eighth street; Reserve avenue from Seventh street to 150 feet north of Eighth street, Seventh street from Davis to Reserve avenue; Fifth and Sixth streets from Davis avenue to Red Lake boulevard; Second street from Horace to Atlantic avenue; Atlantic avenue from Second to Eighth street; Knoele avenue from Nora street to Allee drive; and Allee drive itself.

Water main extensions — Extensions at service in the First Southeast addition, Pine avenue and Birch Lane drive area and along Pennington avenue and Greenwood street.

Sanitary sewer—Sewer to serve the First Southeast addition, Pine avenue and Birch Lane drive area and Pennington avenue and Greenwood street area.

Hearing on Friday, February 14, will be held on the following:

Street improvements — Arnold, Duluth and Knight avenues from Eleventh to Thirteenth street; LaBree avenue from Eighth to Thirteenth; Horace avenue from Eighth to Eleventh; Thirteenth from Main to LaBree; Twelfth from Arnold to LaBree; Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh from Main to Atlantic; Seventh and Eighth from State to Arnold; and State from Sixth to Eighth.

Area to be assessed for the improvements is included in a legal publication in the legal notices in this issue of the Times.

Northern State Names Directors

At the annual meeting held last week, stockholders of Northern state bank in Thief River Falls voted a stock dividend of $50,000 to stockholders of record, increasing capital stock of the bank from $200,000 to $250,000, and elected two new directors to the board.

Surplus of the bank at the end of the year was also increased to $250,000. G. A. Beito, president, reported that the bank had the largest growth in its history during 1968, increasing assets by 17.5 per cent to a new high of over $11,400,000.

Miss Peggy Lee Wilcox and Vernon H. Gunderson exchanged marriage vows on Saturday, January 4, at 8 p.m., at the Evangelical Free church at Newfolden.

Parents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Wilcox and Mr. and Mrs. George Gunderson, reside at Newfolden.

Rev. Earl Eveland officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Judy Moen, a friend of the bride, served as organist. She also presided at the organ as Van Swanson, a friend of the couple, sang, "The Wedding Prayer", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Arrangements of blue and white mums graced the chancel for the candlelight ceremony attended by approximately 100 relatives and friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a street-length gown of lace over satin. Styled in empire fashion with a bow at the high rise waistline, the gown featured a scooped neckline and full-length see-through sleeves of matching lace. A wreath of pearlized flowers held her elbow length veil of silk illusion and she carried an arm bouquet of five long stemmed red roses.

Miss Mary Jenn Johnson of Newfolden, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Patty Wilcox, a sister of the bride. Both wore identical street-length gowns of pale blue crepe designed with satin ribbon at the empire waistline. Complementing their attire, each wore a pale blue veiled headpiece and carried three long-stemmed red roses.

Serving as best man was David Wilcox, of Moorhead, a brother of the bride. Howard Johnson, a friend of the couple, was groomsman and the ushers were David Inmun of Holt and James Larson of Minneapolis. All wore black tuxedos with black bow ties. The groom's boutonniere was a red rose and the other men of the wedding party wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride was attired in a blue dress accented with black accessories. The mother of the groom wore a green dress with brown accessories. Both wore identical corsages of red roses surrounded by white carnations.

Special guests at the wedding were Mrs. Bella Gunderson of Newfolden, grandmother of the groom, and Mrs. Lucille TenBas of Mahnomen and Mrs. James Sheets of Buffalo, grandmothers of the bride.

The parents of the bride hosted a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. Centering the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated in blue and white and topped by two white wedding doves. The cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Oscar Amundson, was cut and served by Mrs. Frank Heinze, and Mrs. Anna Gunderson, aunts of the groom. Mrs. Lowell Moen, an aunt of the bride, poured.

Jamie Wilcox, a sister of the bride, presided at the guest book as Sandra Dohl, a cousin of the groom, ladled the punch. Waitresses were Barbara Roppe, Deanna Jarshow and Kristi Inman. Donna Lee, Gheryl Swenson and Ione Kasprick arranged the gifts.

Guests attending were from Goodridge, Maple Plain, Moorhead, Middle River, Thief River Falls, Mahnomen, Buffalo and Gary.

The newly-weds are making their home in this city. The bride is a 1968 graduate of the Newfolden high school and is employed at Northwestern hospital. The groom, a 1966 graduate of the same high school, is enrolled at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school. Photo, Neal Fox Studio.

Review History Of Local BPW Scholarships

Corresponding with the January program theme, "The Young Career Woman", the Thief River Falls Business and Professional Women's club reviewed its scholarship program at the regular dinner-meeting held Tuesday at the Rex cafe.

Guest speaker for the evening was Miss Debra Strand, recipient of the 1968 BPW scholarship. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Strand of this city, she is enrolled in the practical nursing department at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school. In giving a resume of the course of study, she told of the practical training received in affiliation at Northwestern hospital, and of her hopes in becoming a licensed practical nurse. She concluded by expressing her appreciation for the scholarship.

A report of the scholarship program since its inception in 1964 was given by Mrs. Joan Harris. She stated that all the recipients had completed their schooling at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, with four graduating in the nursing department and one in the business course. It was also noted that all had or are still working in their profession. The first recipient, Joann Kraemer, an LPN, is married and living in St. Cloud, and was employed in a hospital there until the birth of a child. Miss Lois Culver, the 1965 winner, worked as an LPN, attended Bible college and is now employed in a hospital in Wisconsin. The 1967 winner, Miss Joyce Peterson, is employed as an LPN at the Deaconess hospital in Grand Forks, N.D. Marlene Peterson, the only graduate of the business department, was employed until her marriage in 1968. She was the recipient of the 1966 scholarship.

Included on the program was the presentation of membership and past president's pins to Dolores Johnson, Anna Zinter, Clarice Collins and JoAnne Wedul. Making the presentation was Stella Krankkala, second vice president, who also presented another Gold Card to Dolores Johnson for signing up five new members.

The program concluded with a report by Norman Hanson, chairman of the legislative committee. She urged all members to cooperate with the BPW legislative task force committee in getting legislation passed for the betterment of the working women.

Books for Teenagers

John R. Tunis' "His enemy, His Friend," is a story of a man's agony of heart, forced on him by circumstances not of his making. Ordered by his wartime superiors to kill six hostages among the French villagers who know him as friend, he is thus drawn into an orbit of hate. Until suddenly a boy remembers that in war, not the individual but the nation loses control. And the hatred of years washes away before that realization.

"Stagestruck Secretary" by Lucy Barry is a story set in the turmoil of the theater. What goes on before the bright lights hold the production in its nearly-perfect form, is a real eye-opener, substituting the reality that is, for false glamour of the theatrical life.

Among some of the more interesting books we have read in the past weeks is "Survival of the Fittest," by Pamela Johnson, famous English writer. It is the story of a family with a matriarch whose iron will bends lives to suit her whims, and in the process twists some of them into shapes she would have been horrified to contemplate. The family's years, and those of some of their closest friends, stretch through the pages of the book of fascinating lengths. Its scope covers several generations, some of them unsavory, others at least part of the time "normal", but always interesting. This is a book that one can really get involved in, one in which the hero's rise and fall is by turns satisfying and painful.

"Drink to Yesterday," by Manning Coles, has been with us for some time, but we think more of you should be enjoying it. A bit of deviation from the usual espionage yarn, this fast-paced narrative clips along with clean, crisp dialogue, moving with swiftness and purpose toward a literally smashing conclusion. The time is the first World War, the characters surprisingly human, but the enemy, because it is wartime, must remain the enemy, and who knows when a trace of softness might be followed by treachery? A sparse, taut drama of suspense.

Nature-lovers, we now have a gorgeous publication of the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D.C.: "Wild Flowers of America.". 400 of them are in full-page color. Characteristics of each flower, where they are to be found, and an index to the contents are all a part of this guide. If you don't know the flower's name, find it pictured, then read about it. The paintings are of the quality that you have learned to expect from the Institution's publications, where nothing is spared. Nothing shortens winter like a summer-flower dream. Start yours now.

"Milk Glass Addenda" is small in size but a giant for information. It contains—hundreds of beautiful photos of gorgeous milk glass pieces not listed in the regular book of milk glass.

"Bristish Museum London" is another of the lavish books on museums of the world. We have one on the Louvre, and some others that also have arrived lately. So you can't take a trip to the art repositories of the world? Take out one of these books and almost feel that you are there in person. The color photos are so real, you can almost feel the texture of the canvases.

If there is a bird photographer with more plodding patience in pursuing his craft than Ronald Austing, he'd have to be that non-existant marvel, the 100 percent perfectionist. Austing (who's a remarkable double of Tony Curtis in some of the shots in this book) is shown in many pictures with his feathered subjects, his six young children and charming wife. (The lady has to be long-suffering: one of the pictures shows the bird with whom the family shared their kitchen during breakfast. His action shots include humming birds feeding, bluebirds and owls in flight, a kingfisher zooming in on a meal, a male cardinal in gorgeous plumage. The story of his superb patience in setting up even one shot, fill his book, "I Went to the Woods" with interest that will draw you to it like iron filings to a magnet. A must for lovers of the wild and its unpredictable (well sometimes!) inhabitants.

Books for Children

"A Village in Normandy" by Laurence is a simple story told in both English and French. Life as it depicts it hasn't changed much, the pace is slow and the living is the simple kind which many of us sometimes envy.

"Nabob" and the Geranium" and "Supposings" are two of the books for the better readers in the age group using the Easy books. Nabob is a horse, and not a zebra, but he is more like a zebra than a cow. It's something delightful for Mommys to read to their children, who'll be just a chuckle ahead of them all the way. The pictures are imaginative, and absolutely charming.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. ALLEN JANECKY of Baudette

Lasagne. . .doesn't that make you think of a romantic candle-lit Italian restaurant with red checkered tablecloths and a violinist playing haunting tunes on his fragile old violin?

With a little effort, lasagne can be prepared in the comfort of your own home and served in the same atmosphere. (To make Italian candleholders utilizing those partially burned candles, take any odd size bottle, cover with dripped wax from various colored candles and secure a candle in the opening.)

Complimented by your favorite crisp, green salad and a dessert, this Italian dinner will be a delightful change from the dinners normally served, whether it be the traditional three course meal TV dinner or soup and sandwiches.

LASAGNE

1½ lbs. ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced or 2 teaspoons garlic powder
2 teaspoons oregano
2 cans tomato soup
2 large cans tomato sauce
½ lb., plain lasagne noodles cooked in salted water
2 pints cottage cheese
½ lb. Mozzarella cheese, grated
Parmesan cheese, grated

Method: In large skillet or Dutch oven, combine beef, onion, garlic and oregano. Fry until meat is brown and onions are clear. Add soup and tomato sauce and simmer for 30 minutes. In an oblong cake pan, 9x 13 inches, arrange alternate layers of cooked lasagne noodles, cottage cheese, meat sauce and grated Mozzarella cheese. Sprinkle generously with grated Parmesan cheese and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Anyone that likes the flavor of pizza will enjoy lasagne and this recipe is not too spicy.

Occasionally someone asks if I ever try the recipes that appear in Kitchen Karnival. Since becoming editor of this column, I have tried most of the recipes, however, not always before they were published. This one, which appeared recently in the Baudette Region, was tried and thoroughly enjoyed. The contributor of the recipe, Mrs. Allen (Lucille) Janecky, is known by many people in this area, and at one time lived in Thief River Falls. She is a sister of Mrs. Tony Dom and Mrs. L. Owen and the wife of Dr. Allen Janecky who was associated with the Brainrud clinic here before moving to Baudette. They have two children, Joan and Paul.

ASCS Activities

by Wallace Spaby, Manager

The Pennington county Agricultural Conservation program development group met on Monday, January 13, and adopted ACP practices to be included in the ACP docket for 1969.

Most practices that were in the docket in 1968 are included again in 1969. Guidelines have been submitted to the state committee along with a request for the approval of the pasture improvement practice.

The F-1 (h) straight alfalfa seeding practice was included in the docket. Cost-sharing on the F-1 (h) practice is $4 per acre for seedbed preparation, seed and seeding. Four cents per pound is allowed for the application of available plant food per acre as approved by the county committee and recommended by soil test.

The A-2 (a) practice is a mixture of seeding legumes and grasses or a seeding of at least eight pounds of grasses such as timothy alone. One important change in both the A-2 (a) and F-1 (h) practices is that a soil test must have been taken since Jan. 1, 1967, to determine the need for commercial fertilizer.

The cost-share rate on the A-2 (a) practice has been lowered from $4 an acre to $3 per acre for this year. Cost-share rate on fertilizer remains the same at four cents per pound for the application of not more than 150 pounds of available plant food per acre as approved by the county committee.

The F-1 (h) practice must remain in vegetative cover for at least three years after the year of seeding. The A-2 (a) practice must remain in vegetative cover at least four years after the year of seeding.

Next week we will have information in regard to your barley, corn and wheat diversion and payment rates in the 1969 program.

The feed grain and wheat program sign up starts on Monday, February 3, and continues for seven weeks. Notices of yields, allotments, base acreages and rates will be mailed on Friday, January 31, in Pennington county. This is a 477-1 form.

On the lower left of this form will be your corn, barley and wheat allotment if you have all three. Yields and payment rates will also be listed in their proper column. The P.S. or price support figure is your planted acre payment. Your diversion rate is listed immediately below this. Over to the right of these figures your conserving base will be listed. This figure would be subject to increase if any non-cropland is brought into cropland status.

Any producer who feels that there is shown on their form an incorrect or inequitable yield or base or conserving base for which a notice has not been previously issued for the crop year indicated, or which has been changed since the previous notice was issued may request the county committee to reconsider the matter.

To be considered, the request must be in writing and mailed or delivered to the county committee within 15 days from the mailing date of the notice. Each request should include a brief statement setting forth the basis on which the request is made including the amount of adjustment the producer considers correct or equitable.

If you have any questions or want to know how much you can earn by participating in the program please feel free to stop in any time. The program may fit into your plans better than you expect.

Seminar Discusses Corporate Farming

Federal tax policy changes and other legislative limitations on industrial corporations moving into agriculture were urged recently, at the close of a national seminar held in Des Moines, Ia.

An overflow crowd of more than 60 farmers and leaders of agriculture, small business, religion, education and labor from 30 states jamed the Savery hotel for the one-day sesion at the invitation of the national Farmers union.

Among the 60 were some 60 Minnesotans including Edwin Christianson, vice president of national farmers union, who served on a special committee to draft recomendations for consideration by the seminar participants, and B F. (Pat) DuBois, Sauk Centre banker and past president of the Independent Bankers of America, who was one of the seminar speakers.

A broad range of national and regional organizations had participants at the seminar. Farm and commodity groups who had officials taking part included the national Grange, the National Farmers organization, the Mid-continent Farmers association, the national Wheat Growers association, the national Corn Growers association and a national Peanut Growers group.

General organizations included the national Rural Electric Cooperative association, the AFL-CIO, the National Catholic Rural Life conference, and the country life departments of several major Protestant denominations.

In opening the seminar, Tony T. Dechant, national president of Farmers union, said that the corporate invasion of agriculture "is not just a farmers' problem but a national problem."

U.S. Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin was the opening speaker and reported on the investigation of corporation farming which he is heading for the monopoly subcommittee of the senate select committee on small business and disclosed that a recent survey has shown that 57 per cent of the non-family corporation farms discovered in a 22-state area had entered into farming since 1960.

"The trend toward corporation farming is of vast social and economic significance to the entire nation," he warned. "We may face a catastrophic situation if the ownership of rural land in America is turned over to large conglomerate corporations and other non-farm interests."

U. S. Senator Lee Metcalf of Montana, speaking at the seminar luncheon, said he will reintroduce legislation shortly to restrict tax-loss farming by wealthy individuals and corporations.

Senator Metcalf explained that provisions which had been placed in the internal revenue code to simplify accounting for farmers "are now being abused by wealthy taxpayers who are in the business of farming mainly because of these tax advantages that serve to put their non-farm income into a lower bracket."

He reported that analysis of internal revenue records for 1964-6 showed that virtually all of the wealthy persons who filed schedule "F" returns showed a loss for tax purposes on their farming operations.

DuBois warned that business and professional people and community institutions will suffer from the depopulation of the countryside as family farms are displaced by absentee corporate owners.

He also pointed out that there would be a tremendous waste of public investment in schools, hospitals, churches and other facilities as the small towns and cities decline.

Monsignor Edward W. O'Rourke of Des Moines, executive director of the national Catholic Rural Life conference, told the audience that "No other single institution has done so much to create initiative, self-reliance and pride in work as has family farming." He said there was new emphasis, both in the ghettoes and in underdeveloped countries, to help people become proprietors in order that they might exercise initiative and make decisions. "It would be ironic if the family type farm should begin to disappear from the American scene at the same time the nation is making substantial efforts in these other areas," he said.

Robert D. Partridge of Washington, D.C. general manager of the national Rural Electric Cooperative association, told the audience that the invasion of American agriculture by corporations and the invasion of rural electric cooperative service areas by large power companies "are parts of the same problem." The problem "essentially," said Partridge, "is big business using every play at its command to expand its vast impersonal and indifferent operations into what they now see as a fertile area for profitable endeavor. Their aim is not to serve people, but to exploit them and exploit the resources of the and eloit the resources of the land."

But Partridge said the sentiment of the people is with the farmers, and he predicted a victory if they will work together to meet the common enemy.

The seminar participants approved efforts to obtain the following legislation:

1. The Metcalf "tax loss farming bill".
2. HR 676, introduced early this week by Congressman Neal Smith of Iowa that would limit slaughter of cattle by packers that operate their own feedlots.
3. Legislation introduced last year by Senator Nelson to provide long-term, low interest loans to young farmers. tht operate their own feedlots.
4. Legislation to give farmers bargaining power as "a counter-vailing force to the economic power of corporations."
5. Strict enforcement of the 160-acre limitation in the federal reclamation law, and the sale of excess irrigated land held by large landowners to family farmers at reasonable prices.
6. Enactment by state legislatures of anti-corporation farm acts that would prohibit or sharply curtail the activity of corporations in farming.

Registration forms and information on entry rules are available from Minnesota Town-Country Art Show, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minn. 55101, or by calling 373-1325.

Art works receiving merit awards will be shown at the American-Swedish Institute in Minneapolis April 6 to 27.

The creative writing short-short story competition and music contests have been discontinued for this year, Barton said.

5 to 6 Weeks Required for Refund on Taxes

How long does it take to get a tax refund check? For early filers, the answer is that it takes five to six weeks to issue a refund, according to George Lethert, district director of the Internal revenue service in St. Paul.

This assumes that the return is properly made out and the return is signed, all Forms W-2 are attached, and the social security number shown on the label is correct, Lethert stated.

Direct filing in the IRS service center in Kansas City also speeds the refund checks, eliminating extra handling in the St. Paul office. Most taxpayers will find a preaddressed envelope in the forms package. Mail stickers are available also from IRS offices.

Address for direct mailing is: Internal Revenue Service Center, Midwest Region, Kansas City, Missouri 64170.

In Chicago, Boman will join 4-H members from 24 other states who have won trips to the 1969 conference. The group will witness the opening of the daily market, meet traders and officials of the board of trade, tour a large grain processing plant and have buying and selling explained to them by experts.

The annual 4-H grain marketing conference is sponsored by the Chicago board of trade, which pays all expenses for the delegates, and the cooperative extension service, which selects the delegates.

By the fall of 1967 Boman had completed five years of seed certification on his timothy projects and gained recognition as a registered seed grower. This made him eligible for new seed released by the University of Minnesota. He also has completed certification on fields of Lodi oats, Chris wheat and Summit flax.

Boman raises a new unnamed variety of timothy from Holland. The enterprising youth also planted certified birds-foot trefoil seed in a seven-acre plat with oats for a nurse crop. Last summer out-of-state visitors came to see his test plots. He did research and wrote a school term paper on the birdsfoot trefoil legume, which was printed in the university bulletin.

In his six-year field crops science project he had crops on a total of 349 acres. In 1968, he had 30 acres of registered Lorain timothy. 20 acres of a new variety of flax just released by the university and 20 acres of Chris wheat.

His sample of Lorath timothy won a champion forage seed plaque at the 1968 state fair. His Chris wheat and timothy seed samples placed in the 4-H championship class. Boman served as vice president of his 4-H club in 1968.

SNOWMOBILE OUTING was the reward for getting new customers for these Minneapolis Tribune carrier boys last week. Left to right are Tom Gall, Glenn Anderson, Ross Olson, an unidentified driver, Randy Dahlmann, Jim Opdahl, Curtis Fitzgerald and Tribune representative Robert Carlson. The newspaper owns 15 Arctic Cat snowmobiles and hauls them around its circulation area to stage the snowmobile outings. Carriers drive the machines for about four hours, being served hotdogs and hot chocolate between rides. Other Thief River Falls carriers and six from Crookston joined the local outing. More than 1,000 youngsters have participated in the upper midwest in the past few years.

"It often amuses me to hear men impute all their misfortunes to fate, luck, or destiny, whilst their successes or good fortune they ascribe to their own sagacity, cleverness, or penetration."

"New Morality?"

Local citizens became indignant last week when an article in the Minneapolis Star stated that a controversial phonograph record album was being sold here. In question was not so much the record itself, but the album cover which pictures Beatle John Lennon and his girl friend, Yoko Ono, in the nude. According to the Star story, the record cover has a front view on the front and a rear view on the back.

A front page story on January 17 said the album ". . .is barely being sold in the Twin Cities area." Writer Deborah Howell quoted a spokesman from a distributing firm (neither of which wished to be named) as saying that the record could be purchased in Mitchell, S.D., and Thief River Falls. "Maybe they're just braver in the country," he was quoted as saying.

On January 20 another Star article on the record appeared.

"Are the big city stores of the Twin Cities adjusting more slowly to the 'new morality' than those of the small towns (like Thief River Falls, Minn., and Mitchell, S.D.)?" the article asked. "It looks like it to the record distributor who is having trouble placing a record album from 'Two Virgins', an underground movie, in Twin Cities stores, but no trouble putting it in some small towns."

We are sure that Thief River Falls has no desire to become a leader in the "new morality"—which is actually an absence of morality altogether. In fact, research here indicated that no business place in this community has received any of the controversial records. All were in agreement that they did not want any.

A local dealer contacted his distributor in Minneapolis, who in turn contacted all other distributors in the Twin Cities. Only one handled that record, and that firm had made no shipments of the record in question to any Thief River Falls account.

All of which adds up to an untruth, a mistake or a deliberate misrepresentation.

We feel that our community has been made the victim of a bad press. Publicity of this type does nothing to help the image of Thief River Falls, and it is all the worse when the information published is false information. Local people who have been working hard to build a community in the face of many obstacles have a right to resent being pointed to as lacking in moral commitments.

It should be mentioned also that the Minneapolis Star saw fit to run a photo of the back of the album cover—in fact, ran photos in two editions—so that the people of the Twin Cities need not be deprived of that much-needed insight into what was in question. It is safe to say that the "new morality" of that publication has at least extended itself to bare backsides; and what few frontiers are there left to conquer?

Those of us in the ". . .small towns choose to live here for a number of reasons. Not the least of these is avoidance of the trashy atmosphere which often befalls the big towns. Thief River Falls may not be the pinnacle of moral virtue, but it's infinitely higher on the ladder than Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Braver in the country? You bet. Brave enough to resist some of the smut being passed out in the name of culture, or art, or liberalism, or free thinking or even "new morality".

Fearsome Protection

The following comment appeared in the Industrial News Review:

It is frequently true that some authorities in government appear to urge that guidelines and controls be established for the costly experience of recent years has amply proven, they are most sorely needed. An example of this official penchant for restriction of others is found in proposals for restrictions on the free-market protection measures. One of the most insidious has been the advocacy of controls on promotion and advertising. So far as curbing the price increases brought on by inflationary governmental fiscal policies, this would be about as effective as trying to cure a broken leg with a diet of bread and water.

Many people apparently fail to realize what is really at stake in any move to set a limit on legitimate business promotion. The head of a major supermarket expresses his views in no uncertain terms on one form of promotion—Trading stamps. He says, "We feel that there are enough customers who would leave us if we discontinued stamps that we might lose 10 to 15 per cent of our business. Our profit margin is so low that a difference of 10 per cent could make the difference between profit and loss."

The success of mass distribution as we know it today depends upon high-volume movement of goods at minimum prices. In reality, promotion is as much a partner of mass distribution as is mass production. Moreover, promotion and advertising have a deeper than economic significance that is also often overlooked. They are the bedrock of the free press. Such things as trading stamps encourage advertising, and without the financial support of advertising, the thousands of independent newspapers in the United States would face ruin. And, as we have just seen in Czechoslovakia, the death of an independent press is speedily followed by the death of liberty.

Living Conservation

According to a timber industry official, 62.8 per cent of the commercial forest land in the 12 western states is government owned, and single-use withdrawals of land for wilderness in the West now amount to over 9 million acres, with another 4.5 million acres scheduled for review and possible withdrawal by 1974. Not only in the West, but in all sections of the United States, productive land—productive either for wood products or for food out-put—is disappearing beneath the metropolitan sprawl or behind the borders of single use recreation areas. For a long time now, the available land for food and fiber production has been shrinking while our population has been soaring. This deadly converging of courses between land and population must inevitably have a meeting point.

Admittedly, food output and high-rise apartments on the same land are an incompatible proposition. Such is not the case with timberlands and wilderness areas. Major timber companies have been urging multiple use, wherever feasible, of the nation's forest lands—and they are practicing what they preach. Millions of acres of private timberlands are open to public use for recreation. Leaders in the timber industry have also become a great deal like the modern farmer. They are making every acre of land produce more trees, just as the farmer has stepped up food production per acre.

Major timber companies have developed what is called high-yield forestry. This involves forest soil cultivation, helicopter fertilization, replanting of logged-off areas with selective tree stock and thinning of new stands of timber at just the right time. Scientific land and forest management, under the multiple-use concept, might well be called living conservation.

Fine Poetry

Stafford King served the state well for 38 years as state auditor, but he is also a fine poet. The following poem, written by King while grand master of the Masonic lodge of Minnesota, tells much about the character of the author in addition to being fine poetry:

GOOD FATHER—GOOD LAD

Let the plow handle go, Brother
Lay down your pen,
Take time from your business,
For the building of men.
Let your share in that labor
Be leavened with fun
For the Man you are building
Is known as your Son.
But you will be his partner—and friend—
if you can
You're his Dad—or his Father—or maybe Old Man—
Just remember to help him,
Be patient—have joy,
For the work you are doing is for your own boy.
He'll be the fellow you want him to be
If you take the time out to listen—and see
How he walks, how he talks, how fast he can run.
Remember, my Brother, he's the best thing you've done.
Don't lose him; nor waste him for lack of your care
Everyday, everywhere.
Share his games and his books, and tell him the truth
As you know it to be from the days of your youth.
He will grow up, my Brothers, in stature and pride
And he'll walk the right pathway with you by his side.
Sure, he'll grow up too soon.
But my Brother be glad,
For you grow up together—
Good father—good lad.
So give him your heart, Brother,
Answer his quest
When he comes to you often,
For it's you he loves best.
Take time from the plowing, from desk and from pen
To build your Son stalwart amongst stalwart men.
—Stafford King

by Marty McGowan

You would hardly know the old place—your state capitol that is. The imposing structure, which was built for about $4½ million between 1896 and 1905, underwent an interior remodeling for the current legislative session which cost about $1.7 million.

As a result of this remodeling the capitol building is now more of a legislative hall. This came about through moving three of the state constitutional officers and some others out of the capitol and taking over their space for legislative offices and committee rooms.

The state auditor, treasurer and department of administration moved to the new administration building. The secretary of state, lone DFL office holder in the capitol, was a reluctant move to the old state office building and his quarters became enlarged offices for the governor.

The chief executive, of course, performs a legislative function in final approval or rejection of bills. He consults the attorney general, who is still across the hall, about legislative acts before signing them. The supreme court, which is occasionally called upon to rule on the constitutionality of legislative acts, is still in the capitol building, but would also like to move out if the legislature would grant them funds for a new building.

Members of the house who formerly had only a shared locker for their coats and their desk in the house chamber, now each have a private desk, filing cabinet, private locker, telephone, their own pool of stenographers and pages, conference rooms and carpet on the floor. While this might seem like an ostentatious display of personal comfort, it must be remembered this gives them a place where constituents can reach them by telephone and have private personal visits if desired.

The same applies to committee rooms. Not too many sessions ago the committee rooms were cramped quarters high in the capitol building, where committee members sat on hard folding chairs—if they could find an empty one—around a long table with poor lighting and ventilation. The public that came to make or hear testimony on legislation was able to crowd around the table in a single row, if they got to the meeting early enough. Otherwise they sat out of sight of the committee in an adjoining room or in the corridor.

Now there are large, well-lighted and ventilated committee rooms, with comfortable padded chairs for the public as well as the committee members. Whether all this will result in better legislation is still open to question but it ought to help.

Some changes have also occurred in the voting machines. The one in the house was worn out and had the habit of breaking down at the most critical moments late in previous sessions. The mechanism at the rostrum for recording votes on paper has been changed and the voting buttons on the desks of members have also been changed. Where formerly three buttons were used in voting—one to cancel a vote if the member wanted to change his vote before the tally was closed—now only two buttons are needed. One is red for voting no and the green button is connected to the green light on the wall to indicate an affirmative vote. This will remove a long-standing discussion of who had the fastest finger in the house, to be able to cancel one vote and change to the other just before the clerk closed the voting machine.

The senate has installed a new voting mechanism with a toggle switch. Flipping the switch one way registers a yes vote while the other way records a negative vote. These switches are connected to two new panels containing members' names. Senators are being chided for having fluorescent illuminated panels that look like Dairy Queen selection boards.

Members of the senate, in the middle of their terms, have much the same officers and committee assignments. In the house there have been several changes.

Although the house minority lost all three top officers in the November elections, they still gained eight total seats to close the margin to 85-50 for the Conservatives. There is a more youthful trend among the new minority membership and it appears the DFL-Liberals will wage a more aggressive campaign during this session than they did two years ago.

So the session is off and running for what looks like an interesting 20 weeks. Some have said this will be a hold-the-line session, but with the problems confronting the legislature there is no dearth of things to be attacked and improved. More on that in subsequent columns.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editors

I enjoyed your paper but never did find what I was looking for in it—that was the weather report and forecast. You did have some very good editorials on agriculture.

I was back there last fall looking over Northern Minn., and it seemed to me that there was a big potential there for developing more farm land. What you folks need is a project like the Columbia Basin Irrigation project here in our desert. The government spent about $1,000 per acre developing it. Then sold it to homesteaders for $10 an acre and now they have to drain most of it. That was a multi purpose project and the power sold from Coulee Dam pays for most of the irrigation costs. In the Basin most of the crops grown are the same as in Minn. Potatoes are big there with many new processing plant.

Sincerely,
Walt Jordan

Bemidji Romps Over Prowler Wrestlers

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Bemidji used five pins in defeating the Thief River Falls Prowler wrestling team on Wednesday night at Bemidji by a 41-7 score. It also marked the first dual meet loss of the season for the Prowlers' Tom Duke who was upset in the 145-pound weight class.

The Prowlers were completely out-wrestled in the dual meet with the 14th ranked team in the state, as the Lumberjacks dominated the matches.

The Prowlers were only able to pick up one decision from the Lumberjacks but fought two of the home club's members to a draw. Gaining the lone decision for the Prowlers was Tim Hoaas, in the 175-pound weight class, as he gained an 8-7 decision over Bob Whalen of Bemidji. Gaining draws were Allan Taylor and Scott Vettleson in the 120-pound and heavyweight classes.

The big surprise of the night happened when Tom Duke of the Prowlers, who went into the match undefeated in dual competition, lost a heart-breaker to the Lumberjacks' Dave Carlson in the 145-pound division. Carlson scored on a take down in the first period of wrestling, but Duke recovered and looked like he would pin his opponent. Carlson moved out of the circle in which the wrestling occurs three times as Tom had near falls, but the official saw it a different way as he failed to give Tom the points that he needed to win the match.

As the result of Duke's loss, only one Prowler remains undefeated in dual competition. He is Eddie Furuseth, who had to miss the Bemidji match because of illness. Furuseth was replaced in the line-up Wednesday night by Perry Omdahl.

Allan Taylor, wrestling in the 120-pound division Wednesday night, gained the first two points for the Prowlers as Bemidji jumped to an 11-0 lead after three matches.

Taylor wrestled his opponent, Milo Haarklau, to a 0-0 deadlock. Both boys were unable to come up with the points when they needed them, as Taylor was on top of Haarklau most of the match.

Bemidji then kept upping the score as they led by 39-2 before Hoaas picked up three points for the Prowlers on his decision, making it 39-5.

Vettleson and Warren Winger, two 245 pounders met in the heavyweight division with both boys gaining an escape as they fought to a 1-1 deadlock, thus picking up two points for their teams.

Gaining pins over the Prowlers for Bemidji were Don Staton at 95 pounds; Carl Nord, at 127 pounds; Jeff Hensel, at 133; Tom Ritchie at 138; and Rocky Lee at 165 pounds.

Bemidji 'B' Squad also topped the Prowler junior varsity by 46-5 score.

The summary of the varsity matches is as follows:

103 POUNDS—Chuck Geller, B. decisioned Rick Nordhagen, TRF. 5-3.

112 POUNDS—Don Kondons, B. decisioned Perry Omdahl, TRF. 9-0.

127 POUNDS—Carl Nord, B. pinned Rod Peterson, TRF. in 56 seconds.

133 POUNDS—Jeff Hensel, B. pinned Curt Swanson, TRF. in 3:31.

145 POUNDS—Dave Carlson, B. decisioned Tom Duke, TRF. 2-0.

154 POUNDS—John Traut, B. decisioned, Tim Duke, TRF. 8-1.

165 POUNDS—Ricky Lee, B. pinned Richard Hruby, TRF. in 37 seconds.

175 POUNDS—Tim Hoaas, TRF. decisioned Bob Whelan, B. 8-7.

HWT. Scott Vettleson, TRF. draw with Warren Winger, B. 1-1.

GATZKE . . .

Olaf Aune, Raymond, Connie and Lyle attended the baptismal services on Sunday for Kristi Newton, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Newton of Thief River Falls.

The Gatzke and Middle River schools were closed most of last week because of the Hong Kong flu that is sweeping the country. We hope everyone is well soon and able to resume normal activities, which will include trudging through the several inches of new snowfall.

Prowlers Post Third Straight In Loop Play

by Bob Wielinski
Times Sports Writer

Led by the scoring of Dan Brodin and Sheldon Joppru, the Thief River Falls Prowler basketball team romped to a 69-57 win over Climax on Saturday night on the latter's home court.

A game with Ada scheduled for Friday night was postponed because of stormy weather. There has been no date set as to when the contest will be made up.

Saturday night the Prowlers ran their record to 3-0 in Big Five conference standings as they moved into a tie with Warren for the league's top spot. Both teams are 3-0 and have gained four points in league play. The loss was the fourth in loop action for the Vikings who have yet to post a win in league competition.

Brodin and Joppru took scoring honors for the contest as both Prowlers led a quintet of players in double figures for the game. Each scored 23 points, the only two Prowlers to gain double figures. Climax was led by Andy Muhonen with 18, DuWayne Lee and Arvin Palm with 10 points each.

The Prowlers jumped to a 16-10 lead at the end of the first period as Joppru and Brodin each connected for eight points. Brodin kept his hot hand in the second period as the senior guard for the Prowlers tallied nine points, bringing his total to 17 at half time. The Prowlers increased their lead to 31-23 at the break.

In the third period Joppru and Don Balmer each scored six points and brought the score to 52-41 in the Prowlers' favor. Joppru added six more in the final period. In the final two periods, Brodin scored six points. The Prowlers won their sixth game of the season against five defeats.

'B' Squad Game

The Prowler 'B' squad tallied their eighth win of the season with a 61-40 win over the junior varsity of Climax. Pat Hamilton tallied 18 points, Dale Honson, 15 and Jerry Murben added 14 for the Prowlers.

The junior Prowlers jumped to a 17-12 lead at the end of the first period. Both teams were plagued by missed baskets in the second period as both teams could only muster a total of nine points with the Climax club coming within four points a half time, 21-1.

In the final two periods the Prowlers tallied 40 points, 20 in each quarter, as they went on to win the contest by a 61-40 margin.

Morben's 14 points included 10 by way of the free throw line as the junior guard in the final period connected on nine straight before missing a tenth shot from the charity line.

Northland Cagers Split Last Week

by Daryl Augustine
Times Reporter

Northland state junior college Northmen cagers won one and lost one in last week's action on Wednesday and Saturday. The Northmen lost to Lake Region junior college of Devils Lake on Wednesday by a score of 83-67, but came back to win a homecoming victory over Brainerd state junior college on Saturday by a score of 78-69.

Northmen played a tight game against the Lake Region Royals, and left the Lake Region junior college court at half time with the Royals leading 37-35. The Royals slowly widened their gap in second half play to finish the game with the win at 83-67.

Top man for the Northmen was Nick Neibauer with 11 field goals and 3 free shots for a total of 25. Also scoring in double figures for the Northmen were Tom Super and Von Swanson. Each had 13 points.

Top man for the game and the Royals was freshman Jim Clark, who tallied 13 field goals and four charity buckets for a grand total of 30 points. Others gaining double figures for the Royals were Tom Greening, 17 points; Terry Ellingson, 14 points; and Conrad Dvorak, 11 points.

Lake Region has only lost one game in junior college competition. They edged out the Northmen earlier in the season by a score of 66-63.

Northmen Win Homecoming

Northmen won their third game of the season and their homecoming game in play Saturday afternoon with the Brainerd junior college Raiders in the Lincoln high gymnasium. The Northmen over-powered the Raiders by a score of 78-69, without Tom Super, usual high-scoring man for the Northmen, who was forced to sit the game out with pulled ligaments in his ankle.

Scoring big for the Northmen was Frank Dewey with 27 points. Dewey dropped in 10 from the field and seven at the line for his top score for the Northmen and the game. Van Swanson and Nick Neibaer scored 17 and 15, respectively.

Jim Collins was the top man for the Raiders. Collins made 10 field goals for his 20 points. Close behind Collins was Don Ruff with 18 points, followed by James Falenschek with 15 points.

Play was evenly matched throughout the whole game. The score was usually within two to four points, until the very end when the Northmen obtained their nine-point edge.

Northmen now have three victories and nine defeats. Next action for Northland is Monday (tonight) at Itasca state junior college of Grand Rapids. Both wrestling and basketball action will take place.

Alternate Crops Named for 1969

Crops which farmers may plant on "additional" acreage diverted under the 1969 wheat and feed grain programs were announced recently by the U.S. department of agriculture.

The crops authorized are sesame, guar, plantago ovata, mustard seed, crambe, sunflower and safflower. These alternate, non-surplus crops may be planted instead of devoting the acreage to an approved conserving use.

Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said the alternate crops may be planted only on acreage that is voluntarily diverted in excess of the required minimum diversion. For feed grains the minimum diversion is 20 per cent of the base and on wheat it is an acreage equal to 15 per cent of the allotment.

Winton Knutson also reported that, as in previous years, program payments per acre will be reduced when these crops are planted on the additional diverted acres.

When sunflower or safflower crops are planted on the diverted acreage, there will be no diversion payment. When the other alternate crops are planted, payments will be reduced 50 per cent, the minimum deduction under the law.

Flaxseed and caster beans were excluded from the eligible crops for 1969.

Liquor Store Shows Increase In 1968 Profit

Acceptance of the audit report on the municipal liquor store—which showed increases in all departments in 1968 over 1967—took place at the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday evening. Readings of ordinances annexing property to the city were also held.

Presented by Robert Poissant of the Holcomb and Knudson accounting firm, the municipal liquor store audit showed an increase in gross sales from $413,213 in 1967 to $484,811 in 1968. Net revenue increased from $61,193 to $73,185. Gross sales included $134,477 for on sale and $350,134 for off sale in 1968, compared with $110,467 and $302,688 in 1967.

Among the readings of ordinances for annexation was the first reading of an ordinance calling for annexing the industrial park south of the city. Other readings were second readings.

The council also adopted a resolution requesting the city clerk and mayor to request a ditch hearing from the county board of commissioners. The city is seeking permission from the county to discharge effluent from the proposed sewage treatment ponds into a county ditch. A petition requesting the hearing will be presented to the county board at its regular meeting February 4.

The city also issued a call for bids for a refuse collection box for the city's garbage truck, with bids to be opened February 28 at 2 p.m.

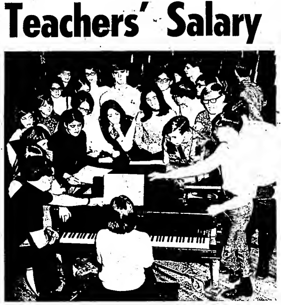
School Board Rejects 1st Teachers' Salary Plan



DIRECTOR DAVID MORKEN holds the book open as the pianist runs through part of the musical score for "My Fair Lady", the Lincoln high school musical to be presented March 27, 28 and 29. Try-outs for lead roles in the cast of about 60 are being held this week and possibly into next week, Morken said. The Lerner and Loewe musical will be the eighth annual production staged by the Lincoln senior high school music department.

By unanimous vote at a special meeting Tuesday evening, the Thief River Falls board of education rejected the initial salary proposal as presented by the local teachers' negotiating council on January 8. The board also adopted its counter proposal to be presented to the teachers' council tonight (Wednesday) at the second scheduled negotiating session.

In a prepared news release adopted by the board at the special meeting, the board stated that rejection of the initial request "....was deemed necessary in view of the cost of the proposal as shown by the cost analysis completed by the superintendent's office."

The cost analysis indicated that the index schedule proposed by the teachers' negotiating council would cost the district an estimated $504,414 in regular salaries, plus an estimated $19,560 for health insurance, $4,500 for life insurance and $1,956 for income protection insurance.

The total estimated additional cost of $530,930 represents a 41 per cent increase over the present expenditure of $1,300,000 for teachers' salaries for the 1968-1969 school year. Cost analysis was based on the premise that all teachers in the system would remain for the coming year and advance one step in the experience lane of the salary schedule.

No estimate of cost had been presented by the teachers' council when making the initial proposal, which requested a base salary of $7,600 for a first year teacher with a bachelor's degree. Health, life and income protection insurance had been included in the teachers' council request for 1969-70.

C. L. Charlson, school district attorney, was named chief negotiator for the school district's negotiating council. Other permanent members will be Supt. Lloyd M. Johnson; Dr. George Martin, president of the board of education; and Robert Bredeson and Mervin Prestebok, board members. Other members of the board will attend negotiating meetings on a rotating basis.

In discussing the negotiating situation Tuesday evening, Dr. Marin reminded the board that
